CONTINENTAL SECURITIES ALL SERIOUSLY AFFECTED

BERLIN, Sept. 10.—Side by side with the fall in English Consols there has also been a steady decline in German and Prussian Consols. The loss involved will be evident from the fact that in 1905 Three averaged 90.08; in 1906, after the effects of the industrial collapse had been overcome 92.18; and in 1907 or ten years ago, 97.56. Three and a half per cent. stock is in a similar plight. Since 1905 it has averaged 105.5 in 1907, the three and a half per cent. averaged 102 in 1902, and today stand at 92.5. In other words, investments in these classes of securities have entailed nominal losses ranging from ten to fifteen per cent during the last ten years. Capital invested in Three per cents, in 1895 has diminished by one-sixth. The Three and a half per cent. stock of other German states besides Prussia shows a similar decline, and where Three per cents have been issued, they are quoted today at 79. It seems at first sight legitimate to ascribe this general decline to the issue of the Four per cent. State securities, but when the recently issued German and Prussian four per cent. Treasury bonds have failed for weeks to find purchasers at par and today fell below that level, it is evident that other causes for the deterioration must be sought.

The increasing issue of first class stock bearing a higher rate of interest than 3 or 3 1/2 per cent. constitutes, it is true, a material factor in the process of decline. Thus the recent issue of four and a half per cent. German Mortgage Bank stock at only 91 cent. has seriously disturbed the market. An even more unfavorable effect from the point of view of the Consols market, has been produced by the prospective issue of a 4 1/4 per cent. municipal loan, which represents a unique increase of 1 1/4 over the highest interest hitherto borne by stock of this class. The necessity of departing from the 4 per cent. type of loan, moreover, sufficiently indicates the abnormal character of the financial situation. The extent to which German capital is being withdrawn from the home market may be gauged by the fact that since 1897 foreign stock to the nominal value of over $3,000,000,000 has been admitted to quotation in this country. A large proportion of the capital thus attracted has been absorbed by America, Russia and Hungary. In view of the inducements offered by these investments, it is scarcely wonderful that even first class securities should go begging at 4 per cent.

Prussian Consols are regarded as an investment of highest security; in the absence of foreign or domestic alarms it is felt to be urgently necessary to discover some remedy for the "war prices" which prevailed today. The Secretary of State for the Imperial Treasury, Baron von Stengel, appears to think that no remedy is possible until a reaction in the present era of industrial prosperity has set in. But it would seem to be more desirable to induce German capital to abandon its foreign investments than to withdraw its support from German industry. Above all, it is suggested that the feverish activity of municipalities should be restricted by legislation is need be, until the financial balance has been restored. Furthermore, the saving banks with their deposits of over $2,000,000,000, ought to be required to invest a larger proportion of their capital in Consols. But it is felt that this action in Consols would affect the small saver even more appreciably than other classes of investors.

It is said to say that no measures will bring about a permanent improvement so long as the German Imperial debt, which has been nearly doubled during the last ten years, continues to increase at its present rate, and so long as the business of the Empire is conducted with an annual deficit. More or less heroic measures of reform have been tried, but so far they have failed, and in view of the desire of the separate states to retain the unimpaired enjoyment of sources of revenue like the income tax, the financial outlook of the Empire necessarily gives rise to manifold anxieties. Until this "government by deficit," which is the root of the whole evil, has been remedied there can be no amortization of debt and no permanent improvement in the anomalous position of German Consols, which will continue to react, directly and indirectly, upon the financial situation both at home and abroad.

The preliminary draft of the navy estimates for the financial year 1908 includes the first instalments for two new battleships and one new cruiser, all three of which are to be of the largest type. The five battleships of the 13,000 ton Deutschland class will have been completed for sea by next year. At present only the Deutschland and Pommern are in commission; the Hannover, it is hoped, will be ready in the autumn. The two remaining battleships of this class are the Schlesien and the Schleswig-Holstein, which, it is hoped, will be completed next year. It is hoped by increasing the rate of construction the first full division of the new battleships of 18,000 tons or more will be afloat by the year 1910, when also the last of the 38 battleships contemplated by the Navy Law of 1900 will also include a first instalment for a new large cruiser of the improved type which will be the 17th out of the 20 large cruisers contemplated by the Navy Law. The remaining three large cruisers will be laid down in 1909, 1911, 1912, while in 1901 the work of superceding in rotation the obsolescent cruisers will be in addition to a first instalment for the new or 16th large cruiser "P" which has been laid down this year, a third instalment for the 15th and also still unnamed cruiser "R" and a fourth and last instalment for the cruiser Scharnhorst. Provision will also be made for the usual number of small cruisers, torpedo-boats, and auxiliary craft.

WASHINGTON UNABLE TO UNDERSTAND THE CAUSE OF SIR ROBT. BOND'S DENUNCIATION

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 11.—Being under the impression that Sir Robert Bond had secured about everything of importance that he wished included in the modus vivendi relative to the Newfoundland fisheries, the state department officials here were considerably surprised to read the letter denunciation that the premier has heaped upon the imperial government for concluding the arrangement which was absolutely necessary to prevent serious friction between the attitude of the Newfoundlanders and the Californians in this matter, each according to the view of the Washington government, showing a lack of appreciation of the propriety of attacking treaty rights by local legislation.

The statement is made that with the single exception of asserting the right of American vessels to ship Newfoundlanders as fishermen, the American government has for the sake of peace, surrendered all of the extreme points claimed by it. And this right of shipping fishermen is to be exercised in a manner least likely to offend Newfoundland pride; for the men are to be taken aboard well off-shore and not within the territorial waters of the colony, although the Americans have always insisted that they had the right under treaty to take the men off the docks if they cared to ship them. The further discussion of the subject is regarded by officials here as purely academic, as the modus is now a completed instrument. If the Newfoundland premier carry out his announced purpose of executing the colonial laws, even where they conflict with the American treaty rights, it will be the duty of the British government to deal with the case, and not the concern of the state department.

COURT WYGOODY

The anniversary of Companion Court Wygoody, No. 473, was held in the Foresters' Hall, Charlotte street, last evening. In the report for the year given by Mrs. Willis, C. R., she stated that six years ago they had started with a membership of twenty. Of that number only eight were now members. Since their last annual meeting they had been called upon to mourn the loss of their S. C. R. in the death of Dr. Ormbyatkeha, who was revered and loved by all and was a warm advocate of the sister orders. The court was organized in August of 1901 by Mrs. Hetherington, assisted by Mrs. MacRae, Chapman and Todd.

Addresses were made by H. C. R. H. Woods, P. H. C. R. D. Langley, H. Sec. P. W. Emmerson, E. J. Todd and Brother Ingram. A number of musical selections interspersed made a very interesting programme. Refreshments were served, bringing a very pleasant evening to a close.

CHARGES NOT PRESSED

MONTREAL, Sept. 11.—Edward Quinn, the man who chained his wife to the bedpost, was in the recorder's court this morning and was discharged. The Society for the Protection of Women and Children was evidently satisfied that the man had acted with the best of intentions, and made no attempt to press the charge. Mrs. Quinn is serving a month's sentence for drunkenness.

CELEBRATED GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Friends Have Pleasant Time at Home of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Robinson, Hopewell Hill.

HOPWELL HILL, Sept. 11.—A particularly happy gathering assembled last evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Robinson of this village, the occasion being the celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Robinson's golden wedding anniversary, an event which has been looked forward to for some time with much interest, and which brought many congratulations and expressions of good will to the respected couple, in whose honor so many friends and relatives assembled last night. Some 70 guests were present, including, besides those from this village, Mr. and Mrs. Leah Tingley and Mrs. Wilnot, from Lynn, Mass.; Hon. A. R. McClellan and Mrs. McClellan and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Holt, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Tingley of Riverside; Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Stiles of Albert, and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hopewell. A most enjoyable time was spent by all. After supper, which was served at 9 o'clock, Alexander Rogers, registrar of deeds, on behalf of those present, presented Mr. and Mrs. Robinson with a well filled purse, conveying also the kind wishes of all for the future happiness and prosperity of the elderly pair. Mr. and Mrs. Robinson expressing their best thanks and deep appreciation for the kind offering of good will so splendidly shown by their friends. Hon. Mr. McClellan, being called upon, made a very happy and exceedingly interesting speech, congratulatory in character, and giving also a brief historical sketch of the Robinson family, with which Mr. McClellan is connected on his mother's side. After Mr. McClellan's address, music was furnished, Mrs. G. M. Russell presiding at the organ. Mr. and Mrs. Robinson, who have the long record attained by so few of fifty years of married life, were married on September 10th, 1857, the officiating clergyman being the Rev. Wm. Sears, the well known Baptist preacher of that day. Mr. and Mrs. Robinson are well preserved, and show lightly the flight of years, which has carried away to the unknown, many of their friends and friends of their youth. Mr. Robinson is in his 75th year, and is a son of the late Aaron Robinson, being one of a family of brothers and sisters, some of whom that are still living being Capt. C. D. AMUSEMENTS

Mr. Mantell's New Shylock.

Midway in his next week's engagement of five nights in the St. John Opera House, Mr. Robert Mantell will be seen for the first time in this city as Shylock—a role that was not in his repertoire when he was last in this city, a year ago, but which, since added thereto, has been, from all accounts, quite as successful an impersonation as either his majestic Lear or his wonderfully dramatic MacBeth. Mr. Mantell first appeared in the character of Shylock, in Shakespeare's beautiful comedy of "The Merchant of Venice," on October 25, 1906, little more than a month after his engagement in St. John, and he has since then played the role of Shakespeare's Jew more than a hundred times. For the reason that it was in uncommon demand everywhere that he played an engagement of more than a single week.

When he played the role in Toronto, Ontario, the week after the Buffalo engagement, he turned hands away, and was urged to repeat the comedy at the Saturday matinee, although "Shylock" had been announced there by requests that are said to have represented more than 1,200 of the regular clientele of the Princess Theatre in that city. Two extra matinees had to be given in Chicago, to satisfy the demand there for the new Mantell Shylock.

The arrangement of roles for Mr. Mantell's appearance in the Opera House is as follows:—
Lear, Monday night.
Macbeth, Tuesday night.
Shylock (first time), Wednesday night.
Hamlet, Thursday night.
Richard III., Friday night.
Seats are ready for all the performances. The prices for the Mantell engagement will be from 25 cents to $5.00. It will be necessary for Mr. Mantell to omit performances on Saturday by reason of the fact that he will begin his engagement in Brooklyn, N. Y., on Monday night, September 23, under the auspices of the People's Institute, which has guaranteed that more than 10,000 persons will see Mr. Mantell in the Shakespeare characters he will play there that week.

Special Attraction.

At the Victoria Roller Rink tonight, Ladies' night, there will be also door prizes given, one for ladies and one for gentlemen. These will be season tickets for the Victoria Roller Rink, good until the end of the season—three months. These tickets will include skates. Everybody will have a chance and the drawing will be held at 8.30.

Happy Half Hour.

The new programme at the Happy Half Hour commences today. There are three pictures and two illustrated songs. As is well known the mysteries of the sea are numerous, particularly under the bottom of the sea. The picture Under the Sea will reveal some of the mysterious and wonderful things to be found there. The story is that of a young man who dreams that he has descended to the bottom of the ocean in a submarine boat, and after reaching there he proceeds to explore his surroundings and the many strange things he sees, including mermaids and many kinds of fishes, cause him many anxious moments. When his friends find him he is not under the sea, but is deduced in the water. The picture will cause lots of laughter. Always Boland tells the story of a young man who always managed to be late for every appointment he made, no matter how important. Just now, when the attention of the world is centered on the Moors and the French, the picture, The Vengeance of the Algeve, is of decided interest. The scene is laid in Algiers, and the story is a strong and dramatic one, and is sure to please. Lebonheur Rouge will sing a charming love song, and Harry LeRoy will sing the great comedy success, You Come Over to Philly, Philly. The illustrations for this song will provoke much laughter.

Queen's Rollaway.

There will be a band and one-mile race, open to all, at the Queen's Rollaway tonight. Alward, Nixon and Olive are already entered.

NATIONAL TRADES AND LABOR CONGRESS AT GLACE BAY, N.S.

GLACE BAY, Sept. 11.—The National Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, which has been in session here for two days, concluded this afternoon's proceedings after a day for the most part devoted to routine work. The meetings thus far have been most enthusiastic and largely attended. Grand Secretary Moffatt of the P. W. A. was in attendance attending to the entertainment of visitors and their programme. It was decided to go into the mine at Dominion No. 2 by night. The president's report which was read both in English and French, contained a resume of work accomplished by congress during the past year. He said in part, that chances for thorough organization throughout the Dominion were never better. He recommended that the matter of organization be carefully considered. He further recommended that parliament be petitioned to abolish Labor Day and continue Dominion Day and that it be known as Labor Day.

The congress declared itself again in favor of purely Canadian organizations offered and managed by men and women working to and with the motto, "Canada for the Canadians." He concluded in the following words: "I wish to thank you and your organizations for your presence here today and I sincerely trust that your deliberations will be of vast benefit to the cause we love so well, the cause with the motto, 'Canada for the Canadians.' I would indeed be ungrateful were I to forget the many favors extended to me by the membership of the congress. Then followed cheers for the P. W. A. Mayor Burchell and town council and the National Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, and the proceedings of the evening were brought to a close by the bands playing Auld Lang Syne and the national anthem.

The following telegrams were read: (signed)
OTTAWA, Sept. 6.
Thomas G. Griffiths, secretary Trades and Labor Congress.
Mr. Druddell will be present at meeting of National Trades and Labor Congress to represent department of labor. Through unavoidable delay he may not reach Glace Bay till after opening of congress.

W. L. MACKENZIE KING.
QUEBEC, Sept. 11.
National Trades and Labor Congress, Glace Bay:
In the name of the city of Quebec I beg to tender to the congress a hearty greeting and cordial invitation to hold its next meeting in the mother city of Canada. (Signed)
J. GEO. GARNEAU,
Mayor of Quebec.

Mayor Burchell of Glace Bay, addressed the delegates welcoming them to Glace Bay. He spoke interestingly of general purposes of organized labor and of Cape Breton's contribution to the industrial activity of the Dominion.

Grand Master Workman of P. W. A. also read an address of welcome.
