MAY-DAY FANCIES.

BY FRANCIS BENNOCH.

The biting wintry winds are laid,
And spring comes carolling o'er the earth;
Wood, mountain, glen, and forest glade
Are ringing with melodious mirth.
The fields have doff'd their sober browns,
And donn'd their robes of lovely green.
On meadow side, on brooky downs,
Are flowers in countless profusion seen.
Come forth, come forth, enjoy the day,
And welcome song-inspiring May!

Through bud and branch, and gnarled trunk,
To deepest root, when quickening light
Touches the torpid juices, sunk
In slumber by the winter's might.
Electric currents tingling run,
Each cuticle revells with life anew;
While opening to the sunny skies,
You graceful blossoms deftly sew.
Could earth, once nurtured ages ago, and day
If anything looks old in May.

Busy o'er the brook, climb up the bank—
And your favourite haunts of youth visit;
Again with old companions play,
With fresh delight, first discovered;
The same joyous feelings thrill
Your hearts as when in childhood's hour
Ye first gave to the breeze your locks
That now are touched with time's hoar flower.
Come forth, come forth, ye young, and say
What cheeks vie with rosy May?

Fresh buds and Champe come forth and range;
Where dancing sunlight, and shade and mist;
Fresh streamlets course down hurst and haunt,
Cause I bid the sunbeam chase the mist.
Catkins old and young, come, strung and white,
Incited by this fresh and balmy air,
Come, gathering youth, and wrinkled cheek,
In leisure hour your labour blest.
Come forth, come forth, and hail the day,
Come, welcome to the glorious May!

Come ere the dappled East has burn'd—
Made molten gold the winding stream;
Come, ere the fiery sun has turn'd
The pearly dew to misty steam;
Come, ere the lark has left his nest,
Or lambkin blested on the hill;
Come, see how nature looks in rest,
And learn the bliss of being still.
Come forth, come forth, and hail the day,
Come, welcome blossom-teeming May!

Æolian murmurs swell the breeze,
Enchant the ear, and charm the mind;
While merry bells and humming bees
Fill up the burden of the anthem.
On earth, in air, on every wheel,
A brighter glory shineth to-day;
Old bards sereech hoarse birds prophesie
New songs to hoteld joyous May.
Come forth, come forth, nor lingering stay,
Come, crown with flowers the matchless [May!

No trumpet's thrilling call is heard
To servile host or lordly steed,
But thro' mysterious, noiseless wield,
By which the world is onward great—
Which bids the grass in beauty grow,
And stain their path of glory keep,
Makes winds and waves harmonious flow,
And dreaming infants smile in sleep.
That voice, tasteless in its sway
Turns winter wild to flowery May.

From edges of the dusky shade,
That canopies the restless town,
Come trooping many a youth and maid,
With dancing feet and tresses brown.
High hopes have they, their hearts to please,
The seek the wild wood's haunted dell;
The laughing some, by twos and threes,
But chiefly twos. I mark them well—
So trimly dress'd, so blithe and gay,
With them it seems 'tis always May.

They steep their kerchiefs in the dew;
Then follow wondrous wringings out;
As winged seeds were blown, they knew
What laggard lovers were about.
Some pluck the glowing leaves to learn
If love declared the love sincere;
Or in red ragged streaks discern
Love lost, and virtue's burning tear.
Oh, love is earnest though in play,
When comes the love-inciting May!

With hawthorn blooms and speckled shells,
Chaplets are twined for blushing brows,
White zipsies work their ragie spells,
And lovers pledge their deathless vows.
Then round and round with many a bound,
They tread the mystic fairy ring.
The silent wood have voices found,
And echoing chorus wilde they sing;
"With shout and song, and dance and play,
We welcome in the glorious May!"

Link'd hand in hand, their tripping feet,
Keep time to merth's inspiring tales;
Their cheeks red roses, advance, retreat,
Till Mayer hearts in love rejoice.
The sun is behind for kisses shy—
Leaping and facing o'er the plain;
The young with time would quicken fly,
The old wish they were young again.
Away with care; no cares to-day!
Care slumbers on the lap of May!

The voice that bade them welcome forth,
Now gently, kindly whispers "Home!"
To-day has been a day of mirth;
To-morrow passion claims its own.
Such transient hours are not for earth,
But to remind us what we were,
To mingle with the cup of life—
An honey'd sweet with many a care,
Such joys as these shall never be
Our portion in eternity.
Then fare ye well, ye joyous hours,
Ye have been welcome as ye're gone;
Ye've left us richer than we were,
And what is it but memory?

The Renowned Remedy!

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

A MOST ASTONISHING CURE OF SCROFULOUS ULCERS.—A CASE CERTIFIED BY THE MAYOR OF BOSTON.

Copy of a Letter from J. Noble, Esq., Mayor of Boston, Lincolnshire.

To Professor Holloway.

Sir,—I have much pleasure in communicating to you the particulars of a most extraordinary case of Scrofulous Ulcers, which has been under my notice, and one of which I am a witness. The patient is a young man, a shoemaker, residing in this town, and for the last two years has been afflicted with the most dreadful ulcers in his legs, which baffled the skill of the most eminent surgeons in the town, and the case was considered by them to be incurable, and that amputation was the only means of saving his life. He was recommended by a friend to try your Ointment, and procured a small pot, and a box of the Pills, and before that was all used, symptoms of convalescence appeared. By persevering with the medicines for a short time longer, according to the directions, and carefully adhering to your rules as to diet, &c., he was perfectly cured, and now enjoys the best of health.

I remain, Dear Sir, yours truly,
August 12th, 1852. (Signed) J. NOBLE.

AN EXTRAORDINARY AND RAPID CURE OF ERYSIPELAS IN THE LEG, AFTER MEDICAL AID HAD FAILED.

Copy of a Letter from Mrs. Elizabeth Yeates, of the Post Office, Aldwick Road, near Bognor, Sussex, dated Jan. 12th, 1853.

To Professor Holloway.

Sir,—I suffered for a considerable period from a severe attack of Erysipelas, which at length settled in my leg, and resisted all medical treatment. My sufferings were very great, and I quite despaired of any permanent amendment, when I was advised to have recourse to your Ointment and Pills. I did so without delay, and am happy to say, the result was eminently successful, for they effected a radical cure of my leg, and restored me to the enjoyment of health. I shall ever speak with the utmost confidence of your medicines, and have recommended them to others in this neighborhood, similarly afflicted, who derived equal benefit.

I am, Sir, your obliged and faithful servant,
(Signed) ELIZABETH YEATES.

A DREADFULLY DISEASED ANCLE CURED AFTER BEING GIVEN UP BY THE FACULTY AT MALTA AND FORTY-EIGHT HOSPITALS.

The following important communication has been forwarded to Professor Holloway for publication, by Mr B. Dixon, Chemist, King-st., Norwich.

Copy of a Letter from Captain Smith of Great Yarmouth, dated January 19th, 1853.

To Mr. Dixon,

Dear Sir,—I send you the particulars of a cure effected by Professor Holloway's invaluable medicines: Mr. John Walton, late in Her Majesty's Service, in the British Fleet at Malta, had a very bad ulcerated ancle, and after having been in the Malta Hospital for six months, was sent to England as an invalid to Portsmouth Hospital, where he remained an inmate four months, there, as at Malta, refusing to have the limb amputated, he was turned out incurable. He then came to Yarmouth, and was under a medical gentleman for about three months, but his ancle became so much worse, that all hope was lost. At this period, by my advice, he tried Holloway's Ointment and Pills, which by unremitted application, healed all the ulcers, and restored him to perfect health and strength.

I remain, Dear Sir, yours very truly,
(Signed) JOHN SMITH.

SURPRISING CURE OF A BAD BREAST, NERVOUS DEBILITY, AND GENERAL ILL-HEALTH.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. T. F. Ker, Chemist, &c. Lower Moss-Lane, Manchester, dated February 12th, 1853.

To Professor Holloway.

Dear Sir,—I have great pleasure in forwarding to you the particulars of a very extraordinary cure of a bad breast, effected solely by the use of your celebrated Ointment and Pills. Mrs. Martha Bell, of Pitt-street, in this town, had been for a considerable time labouring under nervous debility, loss of appetite, and general ill health, occasioned by ulcerated wounds in the breast. She had had much experience in the use of all the known remedies for the cure of ulcers, but without any beneficial result, in that she had nearly lost all faith and hope of a cure being effected. In this distressing and painful condition of body and mind, she was persuaded to have recourse to your invaluable Ointment and Pills, which she immediately did, and in the course of a very short time the effect produced was most astonishing; her appetite was speedily improved, the sores and ulcers in the breast gradually healed, and the nervous excitement of her system was wholly removed.

I remain, Dear Sir, yours faithfully,
T. FORSTER ker.
