CHERRY RIVER.

A LEGACY.

BAD COLDS FREQUENTLY LAZINESS BEHIND THEM.

IN THE FORM OF A SEVERE AND RACKING COUGH THAT HANGS ON.

Hawker's Balm of Tolu and Wild Cherry Will Cure it.

The above lines tell the whole story. Let it be emphasized by the further statement that thousands of persons gratefully testify to the benefits derived from the use of Hawker's balm, the great cough cure. It also relieves hoarseness, and very quickly. Public speakers and singers endorse it. It is pleasant to the taste and a great favorite with children.

Sold by all druggists and dealers in 25¢ and 50¢ tins. Beware of cheap imitations. Made by the Hawker Medicine Co. Ltd., St. John, N. B.

THAT FOLDING BED.

The Old Farmer Did Not Avail Himself of its Soothing Attractions.

An old, gray-whiskered man, who had lived all his life on a small farm near Batavia, stopped at the hotel last Tuesday evening. He said he wanted a room for one night. He was sent to the third floor. Later in the evening he went out and didn't come back till midnight. He had evidently been enjoying himself. His breath smelled of whisky. He went up to his room and that was the last seen of him until early in the morning when a boy went to call him for his train. The boy got no answer when he knocked on the door and he opened it and walked in. The folding bed had not been let down. The boy had to look about for a moment or two before he discovered the old man. Then he heard a husky voice from near the ceiling somewhere. He looked up and there was the guest curled up on top of the bed, rubbing his eyes. He was fully dressed, with the exception of his big cowhide boots which were standing on the floor.

"Say, mister," inquired the boy, "why didn't you get into bed?"

"B'cos," shouted the man, angrily, "there ain't no bed. Here I've been curled up on top of this sideboard all night without a wink of sleep. Ain't this a nice way to treat a man? Hey?"

A play called "The Chili Widow" celebrated its 25th performance at the Royal theatre, London last week. It will be produced in the United States next fall (Nov. 30th).
