ARTHUR GRANT RESCUED FROM WATERY GRAVE BY WM. WHITE

Six-year-old son of Byron Grant, of Ludlow street, West Side, fell into Mill Pond—Near death when rescuer came to aid.

Arthur Grant, the six-year-old son of Byron Grant, of Ludlow street, West End, had a narrow escape from death by drowning last evening when he fell into the mill pond, being rescued from a watery grave by William White, a youth of fifteen years.
The little chap had been playing around the edge of the mill pond with several companions when in some manner he walked too near the edge and fell into deep water. Unable to swim he rose to the surface and after splashing about sank again. His screams for help and the excited cries of his companions on the bank attracted the attention of young White who after racing to the spot gallantly dove to the rescue. Grant, in the meantime had sunk for the second time and it was only after a hard struggle that he was brought to the surface and finally to the shore.
An urgent call was sent for Dr. Kennedy who on his arrival found the little fellow to be alive, and succeeded in reviving him. His parents when notified of the accident were naturally anxious and expressed deep thankfulness that their little son was alive.
Great credit is due William White for his gallant rescue at the risk of his own life. Mr. White dove in without stopping to take off his own clothes and his friends are congratulating him on his good work.

THE STANDARD EXTRA NUMBER BIG SUCCESS

Special War Edition, issued at nine o'clock last evening, sold by the thousand.

Last evening shortly after nine o'clock The Standard issued a special edition giving the war news, which had been received up till that time. There has been a great deal of interest in developments in the European situation and this was shown by the manner in which the extra number of this paper was received. Many thousands were sold about the streets and as a hand concert was in progress in King Square there were more than the usual number of persons on the streets. These eagerly seized upon the paper containing the latest news from Europe.
Information which had been secured by The Standard had been communicated to Manager Golding of the Imperial Theatre and by means from the stage an announcement that all party differences had been submerged by the leaders of the great political parties in Britain and that all stood together in the face of the storm which threatened the Empire. On this announcement there was a great demonstration of enthusiasm. Many of the audience rose in their seats and cheered until the house re-echoed with their enthusiasm. Mr. Golding also announced that the particulars of this news would be found in a special edition of The Standard about to be put on the street. When the Imperial audience reached the theatre The Standard was there awaiting them and it was with the utmost difficulty that the newsboys from this paper were able to supply the demand. So numerous were the calls for copies of The Standard that sometimes half a dozen persons would seize the papers from the boys arm and eagerly devour them.

WAR SPIRIT IS STRONG IN ST. JOHN SCOTT ACT APPEAL IS REFUSED

Citizens loudly cheer when patriotic music is played in King Square and in the theatres.

The war spirit has certainly struck the city in good shape and it is now the chief topic, all other matters of interest being left in the rear. Last night in the theatres and on the band stand whenever patriotic music was heard it was each time greeted with the loudest applause. The Standard's special issue was eagerly purchased by thousands who wished to obtain the very latest news from the front and from the different countries that are involved in what is feared will be the most dreadful war in the history of the world.

While the British subjects in the city are looking for the very latest news from England as to the prospects of Great Britain being involved, perhaps the most interested persons in St. John at the present time are the foreigners. There are hundreds of Russians, Frenchmen and Servians here, employed in different lines, many of them at the Courtenay Bay works and a great many of these are said to be already making plans for their return to their mother country to take up arms in its defense. There has been continuous calls on the telephone, at this office, from these foreigners or their friends requesting the very latest news from the front.

It is now looked upon by the majority of people as a war of giants and unless all signs fail it will be a fight to the death. It will no doubt be the most stupendous war mankind has ever known. Little Serbia is almost being lost sight of and the general topic is, "What will happen when the greater nations become involved."
One man speaking of the situation last night quoted two very vital questions of the war, the possibility of Russia becoming so powerful that she can go to Constantinople and stay there.
Then the possibility of England becoming so weakened that she can no longer adequately guard her passage to and fro through the Mediterranean seas.

These are questions, said the gentleman that will inevitably become ultimately affected one way or the other by the consequences of this war.
Frank Hatheway, in conversation with The Standard last evening spoke of his travels in Serbia and of the bridge leading to that country from Austria, which has been blown up by the Servians. Mr. Hatheway said the country where the hostile troops are now operating was rich in good farm lands, the farmers being fairly wealthy.

Owing to carelessness of some one in city stables — Kicked by big cart horse.

Owing to the carelessness of some person in the city stables at Carmarthen street, the horse ridden by Mounted Policeman Pitt, was very badly injured. Officer Pitt had returned from his afternoon's duty at the park and tied his horse in a box stall and gave her a feed of oats. A large cart horse had been left loose in the stables across the yard and it went to the box stall and started kicking the mare. The injured mare made sundry noises that drew the attention of Driver Leach, of the livery station nearby and he hastened to the place and beat the cart horse away. The police horse was badly injured having received about a dozen severe cuts on the right hip and leg caused by the sharp shoes of the other horse.
