SUCCESSFUL GARDEN PARTY
AT HOPEWELL HILL.

The junior members of the Patriotic League held a very enjoyable and successful garden party at the home of Mrs. McAlmon on Monday evening.

The grounds were tastefully decorated with bunting and the flags of the Allies.

During the evening the following excellent programme was rendered: Organ solo, Mrs. A. H. Peck; vocal solo, Mr. H. S. Wright; recitation, Miss Adeline Robinson; vocal solo, Miss Irlie Tingley; vocal solo, Mrs. Hetherington; vocal solo, Mrs. Copp; organ solo, Miss Jen. Prescott; recitation, Miss Blanche Barkhouse; vocal solo, Mrs. (Capt.) A. H. Peck; recitation, Miss Ellen Robinson; vocal solo, Rev. Mr. Jenkins; vocal solo, Mrs. F. Smith.

The soloists were most heartily encouraged and very kindly responded. Many old friends were delighted to meet with Mrs. Copp of Vancouver and Rev. Mr. Jenkins of Nova Scotia, who are both talented singers.

About seventeen dollars was realized from the sale of ice cream which will be used for patriotic purposes.

The junior girls are busily engaged in sewing and knitting for the men at the front.

CORNMEAL IN THE KITCHEN.

Many persons who never cooked before are learning to cook now. And really, the satisfaction in finding that it is possible to substitute something economical and good for something costly and no better in either food value or taste, is great.

A Soft, Clear Skin

THERE is a very good reason why so many women always keep Dr. Chase's Ointment at hand. The reason is apparent if you will but notice the soft, clear skin of the person who uses it.

Unlike pore-clogging powders, Dr. Chase's Ointment promotes the healthful action of the pores of the skin, and while it heals and cures eczema and every form of irritating skin disease, it is also equally effective as a beautifier of the skin.

Rough, red, harsh skin becomes soft and velvety when this soothing, healing ointment is applied at night after a warm bath. Write to us for a free sample box, or buy a large box from your druggist and put this ointment to the test. You will be surprised and delighted at the results obtained.

OH, HOW DO YOU DO? I THOUGHT YOUR HUSBAND WOULDN'T ALLOW YOU TO WEAR A BATHING SUIT.

WHY THAT WAS TWO YEARS AGO, MR. JIGGS.

DID HE CHANGE HIS MIND?

NOPE, I CHANGED HUSBANDS!

WAR HATH ITS VICTORIES!!!

It sends the women of the defeated barefoot through the mud and cold of the foodless country, in search of safety for themselves and their babies.

We have received from a reader in Interlaken the following recipe for "hoe cake."

Put one quart of white corn meal into a bowl and add one teaspoon of salt, add to it sufficient boiling water to moisten, stirring all the time to make a stiff batter. Moisten the hands in cold water. Take a large tablespoon of batter in your hand and press into a thin, round cake.

If you have an open fire have before it an oak plank, well heated. Place the cakes against the board in front of the fire. Bake on one side and turn and bake on the other until thoroughly done, about three-quarters of an hour. These can also be baked on a griddle on top of the fire.

When done pull apart, butter and send to the table hot.

This is the recipe we have been hoping for. We have tried it and instead of making it into round cakes, put it in a pan and baked it in the oven. This gives you a rough, thin corn bread, just thick enough to split with a knife, and when eaten hot, buttered, with maple sugar or honey, well—just try it!

Southern Batter Bread—Scald one cup of white corn meal with one cup of boiling water, add to this a scant two cups of sour milk, one egg well beaten, one teaspoon of salt and one level teaspoon of soda. Pour into a deep pan and bake in a hot oven. If desired, cold boiled rice or cream of wheat may be added to this batter.

AMERICA TO HER ALLIES.

I send my men in khaki With singing on their lips— My engineers and artisans, My captains and their ships; But yet another sending Shall greet your lifted glance, When the eagles of America Are on the wing to France.

My fierce, white eagles— They shall gather in their might, In hundreds and in thousands They shall circle for the fight With wings that bear the lightning, With eyes that pierce the night.

My soldiers and my sailors Shall prove their wrath and will, My engineers and artisans Shall serve you of their skill; But yet a greater service The four winds shall advance, When the eagles of America Are on the wing to France.

My fierce, white eagles— They shall gather for the feast, Like a swift cloud of judgment They shall turn them to the East, And God shall steel their talons For rending of the beast.

LIKES AND DISLIKES.

Have you ever been on a committee to distribute tickets to be sold for some most excellent purpose and in the course of your work have you met with this remark "I don't like to sell tickets?" Almost everyone who has had to do with this department of patriotic endeavor has come across it, but not person of this type, but many. It was said to the writer by someone who ever since war broke out has sewed, knit and labored unceasingly for our fighting men, that when she had that said to her she felt like replying "Oh, I like selling tickets so much that I feel selfish to keep it all to myself, so I am allowing others to help me. I like being turned down and regarded as a nuisance or given a paltry quarter by a millionaire as if he were doing me a personal favor!"

This "I don't like it" attitude springs as do many other speeches from want of thought. If the speaker paused for one moment to think, he or she would know that no one in their sense could really like selling tickets or soliciting money for the Red Cross or begging for any charity. The difference is that the one realizes the necessity of the appeal and knows that unless someone does the disagreeable work the cause will suffer.

Put for instance the contributing to the Red Cross of any sum on the one side and the debt we all owe to the soldier on the other and the man or woman, boy or girl who refuses to give and give liberally makes a pretty small figure, don't you think?

Our returned men ask for assistance and someone says "Oh, I hate to sell tickets."

Is this a time to be seeking our own pleasure? Can you realize that every party or picnic or just idling when the men over there need supplies? Don't you see that the humble task of selling tickets, soliciting cake for pantry sales or that sort of thing may be all you can do but is your special bit?

Oh, you wealthy men, don't you know that the quarter of every dollar you hand out costs you less to give than it cost the girl who asked you for it, to get up courage to ask? With your fine house and your car you say you can't afford to contribute to anything else. A little thought would change all that, and the absurdity of the excuse would be forced home.

Suppose we turn over a new leaf and say "I like to help in any way I like to do my share. I dislike a slacker above all things. I hate a coward who shrinks any responsibility." Wouldn't that be a different aspect of disagreeable task?

Am I right about these things?

MARGUERITE.

A Miniature Lake.

As a result of a drain becoming choked, a miniature lake formed last evening on the corner of Cranston avenue and Rockland road. Although this afforded amusement for the youngsters who were wading and sailing boats in the water, it caused inconvenience to pedestrians who were obliged to take the middle of the street to avoid the water which flooded the sidewalk at the corner.

SUMMER COMPLAINTS

At the first sign of illness during the hot weather give the little ones Baby's Own Tablets, or in a few hours they may be beyond cure. These Tablets will prevent summer complaints if given occasionally to the well child and will promptly cure these troubles if they come on suddenly. Baby's Own Tablets should always be kept in every home where there are young children. There is no other medicine as good and the mother has the guarantee of a government analyst that they are absolutely safe. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

IMPERIAL.

Clover's Rebellion—The Great Secret.

Clover rebelled against being handed over in marriage without any say of her own, and quite naturally she fell in love with a man who was, as she said, "a human being." The story of Clover's rebellion is chock full of incident, and it has the tragic and the humorous mixed in a quite clever manner. A river, a "tin Lizzy" plays a prominent part in the love affairs of Clover and the irrepressible Dr. Billy. The bull dog belongs to the new doctor is a beauty (in his own way, and acts his part splendidly). Miss Stewart is very beautiful in this picture, and it will add many to the long list of her admirers. Rudolph Cameron does good work as Dr. Billy, and Eulalie Jensen is well cast as "Lizzy," who loves Duke Boris. The cast is:

Clover Dean Anita Stewart
Dr. William Dunn Rudolph Cameron
Duke Boris Eulalie Jensen
Rita Eulalie Jensen
John Childs Charles Stevenson
Mrs. Childs Julia Swayne Gordon
Peter Rains H. Weaver
"Lucky" Rains William Dunn
The Great Secret. Poor Beverly, who just gets taken from an awful place to another. Here we have to leave her in a Chinese den with a horrible looking sleepy woman to look after her, and the threat of hypnotic influence being used by a strange eastern personage. William the strong, was knocked out, and he is hors de combat with his thermometer in his pulse-feeling in evidence. We have to leave him with a sword poised at his throat, and wait till next week to see how it is averted. This is the Chinese servant, who is simply fine in his part.

There was a very large audience Friday afternoon, who appreciated the appropriate music played by the Imperial orchestra as the accompaniments to Clover's Rebellion were bright and pretty.

MOTION PICTURE CONVENTION.

Committee meetings are being held and all sorts of plans are being made to make the Motion Picture Exhibitors' convention to be held in St. John in September, a success. All the general managers of the various film exchanges have been invited and S. C. Hurley, secretary of the league, is number of a number of acceptances from Toronto and Montreal head offices.

W. H. Golding, who has just returned from a trip to Halifax, found the theatre men there all deeply interested and preparing to be in St. John at that time. Everything points to a good gathering.
