they could of the men in training, equitation, drill and P.T., and of course, the horses. However, on July 31 the division was highly honored by a two-hour visit from H.R.H., the Duke of Edinburgh and his party who were escorted on a tour of the grounds by the Minister of Justice, Hon. Stuart S. Garson, Commr. L. H. Nicholson, MBE, Deputy Commr. J. D. Bird, Deputy Commr. A. T. Belcher and Supt. C. N. K. Kirk. Special entertainment consisted of exhibitions of police holds and gymnastics by recruits and physical training instructors, demonstrations by Police Service Dogs "Pride" and "Shadow" with their dog masters, revolver shooting on the outdoor range by four small-arms instructors and four recruits, equitation (push-ball and tentpegging) by recruits and riding staff, followed by refreshments in the Officers' Mess. Approximately 90 members of the press were present.

Shooting On June 3 all "possible" revolver shots in the Force met in shoulder-to-shoulder competition at "N" Division and nine of the 12 ardent competitors scored in the 190's. Cpl. J. R. Zavitz, "N" Division small-arms instructor, placed first with a score of 199 x 200 and won the coveted Connaught Cup presented to the top revolver marksman in the Force. The presentation was made by Sub-Inspr. J. G. C. Downey, "N" Division Training Officer.
