

principle of Coffee, 197; Cattene, 197; Coffee Substitutes and Adulterants, 198; Choice, ibid.; Negro Coffee, ibid.
Illustrations: Coffee Plantation in Basoko, 174; Coffee Plantation with Interplanted Young Trees of Assam Rubber, 175; A Liberian Coffee Plant in flower, 176; Map of the Coffee-producing Countries of the World, 177; Liberian Coffee, 178; Costa Rica, Coffee in Bloom, 179; Printing Branch of Arabian Coffee, 180; Nursery of Coffee Seedlings, 181; Java, Grafted Coffee Plants, 182; An Eastern Coffee Estate, 183; Queensland, Coffee, Eighteen Months after being planted out, 184; Liberian Coffee Plants three to four years old, 185; Liberian Coffee Cultivation in Surinam, 186; Struts Settlements, Coffee Plantations with Shade Trees and young Rubber Plants, 187; Java, Coffee in full flower, 188; Open air Drying of Coffee in Nicaragua, 190; Java, stone coffee drying floors with moveable roofs, 191; Surinam, Drying Coffee, 192; Hulling Coffee in Java, 193; Sorting Coffee in Mexico, 194; The Last Examination before Shipment, 195; Roasting Coffee, 196; Jamaica Coffee Trees, 197
 Colocynth, 338, 339
 Columbus, Christopher, 202
 Cook, Mr. O. E., 185
 Copals, 348
 Cotton, the most important of all the fibres, 327, 328; antiquity of cotton, 328; Cotton plant belongs botanically to the mallow order, 330; description of the plant, ibid.; Cotton-producing Countries, 330, 331; varieties, 331-332; Upland Cottons, Indian Cottons, Sea Island Cotton, 331; Egyptian, Kidney, and other Cottons, 332; Cultivation, ibid.
Illustrations: Labadiao Cotton Farm, Gold Coast, 327; A Southern Cotton Plantation, U.S.A., 328; Map of the Cotton-producing Countries of the World, 329; Shipping Cotton at New Orleans, 330; Cotton on the Wharf at New Orleans, 331; The Cotton Plant, 332
 Couch Grass, 4
 Cucumber, 262
 Cudbear, 358
 Cutch, 356

D

Darwin, Charles, 50
 De Candolle, 50, 59, 60, 63, 114, 115, 146
 Hematophora Nectarin, 238
 Dhanya, See Guinea Corn
 Divi-Divi, 353
 Douglas Fir, 299
 Drake, San Francisco, 203

Drugs, Indian hemp, from which Ilihang is prepared, 333; Rhubarb, 333-334; Podophyllum Rhizome, 334; Aconite root, 334; Ipecacuanha Root, 336; Jalap, 336-337; Belladonna Leaves, 337; Coca Leaves, 338; Senna Leaves, 338; Colocynth, or Bitterapple, 338-339; Nux Vomica, 339; Cola or Kola Nuts, ibid.; Araca or Betel Nuts, 339-340; Barks and Woods, 340-342; Cinchona Bark, 340; Principal Constituents of 341; Cascara Sagrada, 341; Gmami Wood, 341; Quassa Wood, 341-342; Pteroni Exelsa, 342; Extracts, 342-343; Opium, 342; Aloe, 342-343
Illustrations: Java, Government Opium Plantation, 333; Drying and Packing Opium, 334; Drying Opium, 335; Founding a Opium Plantation, 336; Young Plantation of Cinchona Succubra, 337; Alexandrian Senna Leaves, 338; Aloe, 339; Belladonna, 340; The Kola Tree, 341; Jalap Root, 342; Aloe, 343
 Dyes, See under Fats.

E

EARTH or Ground Nut Oil, 373, 374
 Elm, 392
 Emmer, See Spelts.
 Essential Oils, Nature of Volatile Oils, 358; Method of Distillation, 360; Oil of Turpentine, 360; Geranium Oil, Lemon Grass Oil, Lavender Oil, 361; Oils obtained from Citrus species, 361; Oils used as Flavouring Agents, 361; Essential Oil of Almonds, 361; Juniper Oil, Wormwood Oil, 362; Volatile Oils used as drugs, ibid.; Camphor, Eucalyptus, Peppermint, ibid.
Illustrations: Cutting Peppermint, 357; Gathering Mint, 358; Cutting Lavender, 359; Cutting Lavender, 360; Gathering Belladonna, 361

F

FARM Tea, 174
 Fibres, Importance of the Cultivation of Fibre-yielding Plants, 312; History of, 313; Fibre Fibres, 313-320; Flax Cultivation in, 313-315; Best Flax in Belgium, 314; Preparation, 314-315; Hemp, 316; Best Varieties, Creamy White, 316; Jute, two Species of, 316, 317; Grows best in damp, hot atmosphere, 307; Method of Plucking, 318; Rame, Rhea, China Grass, 318-319; True China Grass prepared by hand in China, 319; The Degumming Process, 319; Pineapple Fibre, 320; Manila Hemp, 320; Finest Grades a light buff colour, 321; Sisal Hemp, 321; Raspador Machines for Separating Fibre, 321; Agave Fibres, 321-322; Phormium Fibre, 322; Bowstring Hems, 322; Mauritius Hemp, 323; Coir, 324; Bush Fibres, 324; Borassus Fibre, 325; Paper-making Fibres, 325-326; Papyrus, 326; Silks and Flosses, 326-327; most important is Kapok, 327; Yachan Floss, 327; Miscellaneous Fibres, 327; Taper Cloth and Uganda Bark Cloth, 327; Decan Hemp, ibid.; "Cuba Bast," ibid.

Illustrations: The Kapok Tree, 312; Natives making Matting, Monteny, Mexico, 313; Carrying Hemp, 314; The Cultivation of Hemp, 315; Borassus Palm, 316; Making Rope in Manila, 317; Natives making Rope, Monteny, Mexico, 318; A Load of Manila Hemp at Cuba, 319; Portable Scutching Machine, 320; Coco-Nut Yucca, 321; Gathering Hemp, 322; New Zealand Flax, 323; Scutching Machine, 324; Borassus Palms, 325; Giant Aloe, Barbados, 326

Flax, 314, 315

Floom, Manufacture of, 17; Different Kinds of, 18

Foodstuffs, General Remarks on, 1-2

Fruits, Annual Imports of Raw Fruits, 263; Orchard Fruits, 264-266; The Apple, 264; The Pear, ibid.; Imports of Pears, 265-266; The Medlar, 266; Stone Fruits, 266-268; The Plum, 266; Prunes, ibid.; Dawson, ibid.; The Apricot, 267; The Peach, 267; Cherries, 268; Small Fruits, 268, 269; Red Currants, 268; The Gooseberry, 269; The Raspberry, the Mulberry, the Strawberry, ibid.; Exotic Fruits, 270-278; The Common Orange, 270; The Seville or Bitter Orange, 270; The Bergamot and Mandarin Oranges, 272; The Citron, 272; The Lemon, 272-273; The Lime, Sweet Lime, Shaddock, 273; Bananas, 273, 274; The Grape, importance of, 275; Rasms, 275; Dates and Figs, 275; The Pineapple, 275-276; Mango, Olives, and Pomegranate, 276; The Soursop, Avocado Pear, the Papaw, Litchis, Almonds, 277; Sweet Chestnuts, Coco-Nuts, 278; Hazel Nuts, Brazil Nuts, Walnuts, Hickory Nuts, Ground Nuts, Cashew Nuts, 278
Illustrations: The Melon, 263; Growing Pineapples, 264; The Mango Tree, 265; Custard Apple, 266; Mysore a Gigantic Mango Tree, 267; Jamaica, a Typical Pineapple, 268; The Guava Fruit, 269; A Fruit Rancho at Los Angeles, 270; A Southern Californian