

Beavers Tackle McGill

After fourteen undefeated years of swimming, the UNB Varsity Beavers have finally stuck their collective necks in the noose. No, this reporter is not from McGill but that's the way the cards are stacked.

For the Beavers to pull off a win this afternoon, they will need more than their impressive past record. Three years of positive wins over all other Quebec Colleges and Universities have left them with only one choice, swim against the powerful McGill Redmen of the big four college circuit.

Why the Beavers should want to tackle such a power laden crew can be answered with the emulation of the President of UNB — "Progress". Three years ago, the Beavers set sail into the unknown and came back victorious. In order to advance one's position in this society of ours, one must take chances. That is what the Beavers are doing.

Prime movers behind this action can be found in the persons of Preston Thom, Gil Leach, Herb Mitton, Wayne Barry, Steve Jones, Al Bene, and Coach Amby Legere. All other factors being equal, these seven individuals collectively and singularly will be out to perform at the maximum level that their five long months of training have given them.

McGill has the services of Olympic swimmer Richard Pound who coupled with Peter Rutherford hold three existing nation-wide records in the freestyle and butterfly respectively. No swimmer in Canadian history has undercut 50 seconds in the 100-yard freestyle but their boy Richard has done it. Only two years ago, UNB swimmers set their sights on 60 seconds for this event. It takes about 12 seconds to swim the length of McGill's pool, need we say more!

Amby Legere is not placing all his eggs in one basket; however, and six other Beavers will board the TCA aircraft for Little Paris. Diver Ken Westrup, Paul Brodie, the Sullivan brothers, Charlie and Dave, Jim Hayden and Bruce McDonald, will round out UNB's hopes.

Heavy reliance is being placed on Preston Thom's recording of a new 100-yard freestyle mark for the Maritimes. Also Herb Mitton is expected to live up to his selection as the best swimmer in the Winter Carnival meet. Wayne Barry, last year's Beaver helmsman must live up to his four year record on the team as does Steve Jones, this year's co-Captain. Charlie Sullivan and Gil Leach are the only other two swimmers with the squad who have competed in Quebec this year and both are undefeated to date.

We dare not venture more than a 'slightly lost' prediction. Dim hope may be gleaned from the knowledge that University of Toronto eked out a win over the Redmen two weeks ago, but little solace remains as U of T is next on the list should the Beavers pull this one off.

Falcons Take Second Place

by Tony Rotherham

Last weekend at the Colby College Winter Carnival Ski Meet, the UNB Red Falcons came a strong second in competition with U of Maine, Colby College, St. Michael's and Bowdoin.

After a poor start on Friday morning in the down hill the Red Falcons, by an excellent team effort came second in the slalom beating the third place team by 27 points, to climb to second place from fourth which they had occupied after the down hill.

On Saturday, the Falcons came second in the cross country, thus strengthening their lead over third place Colby.

In the jumping UNB dropped to fourth place but by such a narrow margin that they easily retained second place in the over-all standings. Throughout the meet, UNB displayed excellent team spirit being more concerned with the team standings than with individual glory.

On the whole the results were very good, the team was not disappointed with a second in the meet as U of Maine's team is of senior A calibre bolstered by two of last year's USA Olympic squad.

Individual honors go to Norm Crutchfield, second in the slalom; Grant MacKenzie, third in cross-country and Jerry Lemon, a fourth in jumping. Also competing were: Gord Page, Dave Burstow, Bjorn Jacobsen, Hans Anvik and Ove Samuelsen.

Final team standings were: Maine 392.3, UNB 349.4, Colby 327.3, St. Michael's 319.5 and Bowdoin 281.1.

The same team will be competing this weekend at University of Maine Winter Carnival this weekend. Norm Crutchfield is on crutches and will not be able to compete due to a twisted ankle.

JV HOCKEY

by JOHN GARDNER

Last Monday night, the Junior Devils continued their stampede by downing the Army's 3rd Signals Squadron 5-2 in a fast-moving game at the Camp Gagetown rink. In their first game of the season, the Jayvees lost their only game to the 3rd Signals Squadron by an identical score.

The A.B.C. line of Arsenault, Bartheaux, and Ciotti provided a good deal of the firepower by scoring three of the UNB goals. Steve Doty, who tipped in the first JV goal, and Wayne Nugent accounted for the other two UNB scores.

Goalie "Spots" Lewis came up with several big saves during the game. One of the highlights of the game occurred in the last period when defenceman Sam Gamble threw his stick ahead of an Army player in an attempt to foul up a breakaway. This action provided a Signals Squadron player with a chance at the rare penalty shot which was fortunately unsuccessful. Gamble was rewarded with a minor penalty for his effort.

The evening was climaxed by an invitation from Capt. G. A. Ross, 3rd S.S. Manager, to join his team for refreshments after the game. The gesture was fully appreciated. Following this, the fans rose and in one tumultuous roar proclaimed, "Vote Maritime Monarchists!"

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

The UNB Canterbury will elect a new slate of officers for the coming academic year on Sunday night, February 19th at 8:15 in the Cathedral Hall. After the meeting a film on Cambridge, England, will be shown.

SUMMER EMPLOYMENT

For the past few months, Margaret Dunn, Norma Beattie, Dean Dou-

cette, and Jim Doleman of the NFCUS Summer Employment Committee, have been tirelessly writing to 330 companies, and are now optimistically awaiting the results of their search for employment for the university undergraduate students. Started last year by the present NFCUS Chairman, Rod Bergin, the Summer Employment Committee hopes in the near future to relieve Mrs. Mona MacMillan, of the UNB Placement Office, of the responsibility of looking for employment for undergraduates, so that she may devote all of her attention to graduate students. Mrs. MacMillan has just announced that the Algonquin Hotel of St. Andrews are looking for 50 men and 40 women for summer employment. Further information may be obtained from her or the National Placement Service.

DON'T FORGET TO VOTE ON THE 22nd

"I'm starved!" complained a senior co-ed, after finishing her delicious, well-balanced Maggie Jean meal. Next Sunday evening, for a change she's going to eat at the BEAVER-BROOK.
