

THE PERFECT READING LIGHT

THE

AUER

LIGHT

SAVES

GAS

Strong enough for the finest print ; soft enough for the most sensitive eyes. Can be turned up or down. Does not flicker or smell. A restful, comfortable light, and one by which colors can be distinguished

BOVRIL

THE GREAT FOOD PRODUCT
OF THE VICTORIAN ERA

GENERAL BADEN-POWELL says:

" It may be of use in case of future expeditions of this kind to jot down what kit I have found best for the work ' In Off. Wallet—Sketch book; map ; quinine ; camera ; housewife ; tin of cocoa ; tin of Bovril ; etc. ' "

MISS RHODES cabled :

" Send 300 tins Invalid Bovril for troop hospitals at front. "
