

Rosellini, I Monumenti dell Egitto e della Nubia, disegnati dalla spedizione scientifico-letteraria Toscana in Egitto, distribuiti in ordine di materie interpretati, 3 vols., Atlas folio, one unbound and two in cloth boards, containing about 400 large plates of Hieroglyphs, Egyptian Architecture, Sculpture and Paintings, many in beautiful colors, perfect and clean as when used, but minus the 8vo. vols. of text. An 8vo. key will be found inserted therein. 40.00, Pisa, 1832-44. 4

Rosellini was professor of Oriental languages at Pisa, and was commissioned by the Grand Duke of Tuscany to explore the monuments of Egypt. He was assisted by six companions, some of whom were artists. He co-operated with Champollion, who had been sent to Egypt by the French Government. They returned in 1830, and this magnificent work is the joint product of their labors. Many of the monuments have been destroyed. Others are distributed throughout Europe. This is a very cheap set of these beautiful plates. The work is exceedingly rare, and will rise in value.

IMPERIAL FOLIO, together with the HISTORICAL AND DESCRIPTIVE LETTER-PRESS to the preceding work by CHAMPOLLION FIGEAC, and CHAMPOLLION, JUN., translated into English, with considerable additions and corrections by SIR F. MADDEN, 2 vols, royal 8vo, together 4 vols, cloth, 60.00. H. G. Bohn, 1849-50. 5

Edinburgh Review, from its commencement in 1803 to 1867, inclusive, with Indexes, vols. 1 to 50, vols. 1 to 54 in cloth boards, the remainder in half calf, 126 vols, edges mostly uncut, all being in substantial condition, 28.50. 6

— Another nice set, vols. 1 to 48, with index vol. 1 to 20, together 49 vols, half calf, 10.00. 1803-1828. 7

It may be interesting to state, this grand old Whig Review was projected quite by accident, by SYDNEY SMITH, at the residence of FRANCIS, LORD JEFFREY, who wrote nearly 200 articles, and are, we are ashamed to say, for the most part, still uncollected. The discordant notes of Political Philosophy became at once concentrated, through the splendid diction of its contributors. It embodies in its articles the whole history of the Political Reformation. Its origin and subsequent history is one of the most interesting chapters in the history of English Literature. Sir Walter Scott contributed to the early numbers, and afterwards joined The Quarterly. The celebrated JOHN ALLEN, of Edinburgh, discussed in 42 numbers constitutional problems, with that combination of historical knowledge and mental power, for which he was so distinguished, and, as LORD BROUGHAM says, "his extensive learning, and unrivalled power of subtle reasoning." MALTHEUS expounded Political Economy, PLAYFAIR made science interesting, and the dignified compositions of MACKINTOSH illustrated alike philosophy, literature, and politics.
