The Commission reports that the awards made up 840a St. Andre street, and 971 to 973 St. Christopher to January 1 last amounted to $1,576,801,86, which street, for $11,400, were divided as follows: Against stock companies, $1,129,095.55; against the State insurance Fund, $115,against self-insurers, $332,354.90. On January 1, 1915, there were a number of claims that had not yet been put in final form for presentation and action by the Commission.

Number of claims received from employers, 130,723; number of claims received from employes, 22,221; number of claims in which initial awards were allowed, 15.218; number of claims in which subequent awards were allowed. 3.712: number of awards allowed, 18,930; number of claims disallowed, 982; number of claims pending, 3,314.

registered yesterday was that by Joseph G. E. Du-fresne to J. Horace David, K.C., and others of the pensation were made. The reason for this is that the law allows compensation only for such injuries as re-sult in disability for more than fourteen days, and that many of the retires of injury were few. that many of the notices of injury were from persons who were not in employment covered by the Act, and some reported injuries received prior to July 1, 1914.
