$10,000, but who buys automobiles, and spends hundreds of dollars on Christmas gifts for his family, as though he was independent, while paying nothing on his mortgage? It is high time that men—and women also—saved more and spent less. Along with economy, every farmer should work and plan to increase the quantity and keep up the quality of all farm and dairy products, and so maintain our good name; and while supplying Canada with food, not only help to supply Great Britain, but the continent of Europe, which is hungry for all kinds of food, especially for our butter, cheese and meat,—and they will be, until they can raise hogs, cattle and milch cows.—Part of an address delivered at the recent Eastern Ontario Dairymen's Association Convention, Brockville, by A. A. Ayer, Montreal.

What Others Say.

It is impossible to find space to publish the many tributes paid by subscribers to The Farmer's Advocate and Home Magazine, but we are here reproducing a few to let you know that you are not alone in entertaining a good opinion of this paper. Following are a few of the many testimonials which the mails constantly bring to this office.

"I am subscribing to your valuable paper, knowing it to be the best of its kind printed, not only in Canada but in North America or the British Empire. It is always up-to-date on all matters pertaining to farming, and I admire the stand the paper has always taken in the political arena. In discussing political questions, party politics is thrown to one side and one gets a clear and impartial view of the matter. Your paper proves a great boon to farmers on account of its articles, and with an index every six months the paper can be kept in book form so any matter can be looked up in a few minutes."
Victoria Co., C. B. WM. McKEE.

"As your paper grows older it grows in value."
Wellington Co., Ont. JAS. McCAW.

"I congratulate you on the high standard that your valuable paper is maintaining at such a low subscription rate."
Prince Edward Island. WM. CLARK.

"Please send me 'The Farmer's Advocate' for another year. It is the best paper for a farmer, and for the family all round, that comes into our home."
New Westminster, B. C. THOS. BLACK.

"I have never appreciated any paper so much as I do 'The Farmer's Advocate.' Its store of educative knowledge seems to be unlimited, while its whole tone is one of congeniality and good-fellowship. This, I think, is due to unbiased and broad-minded reasoning on topics of the day, which must tend to draw men more together, diffusing a spirit of brotherly interest in united progress."
Montreal. ROSE HAY.

"I have dropped all other farm papers, and have decided there are none equal to 'The Farmer's Advocate.'"
MARSHALL H. PRESLAU.
Lennox Co., Ont.

"'The Farmer's Advocate' certainly is par excellence as an agricultural journal, and I would not want to be without it, even if the subscription were higher."
Waterloo Co., Ont. ORVILLE I. GROH.

"A friend in England, who has a frequent copy of 'The Farmer's Advocate,' sent to him, writes thus: 'I like serious papers, such as 'The Farmer's Advocate,' and can appreciate their educational value, whilst I deplore the tendency to vulgarity and snobbishness in the cheap picture issues, supposed to be funny, and which are so freely circulated in England. How is it with you in Canada? In 'The Farmer's Advocate,' even the pictures in the advertisements are good, and the Home Magazine Department is excellent in every way.'"
Middlesex Co., Ont. H. A. B.

"Enclosed please find $1.50, being my renewal for 'The Farmer's Advocate.' Even if the subscription price were $5 a year, 'The Farmer's Advocate' would have to come all the same."
Simcoe Co., Ont. GEO. CRAWFORD.
