of the continent, the capital of the Prairies, and I trust the future of the Dominion. (Great cheering.) Having had so much of the water, having now reached the home of the buffalo, like the attenuated Falstaff, the naturally "babbles of green fields" (laughter and applause), and careers in imagination over the primeval grasses of the prairie. Not at all. Escorted by Mr. Mayor and the Town Council we take him down to your quay and ask him which he will ascend first—the Red River, or the Assiniboine, two streams, the one five hundred miles long, the other four hundred and eighty which so happily mingle their waters within your city limits. (Applause.) After having given him a preliminary canter up these respective rivers we take him off to Lake Winnipeg, an inland sea three hundred miles long and upward of sixty broad, during the navigation of which for many a weary hour he will find himself out of sight of land, and probably a good deal more indisposed than ever he was on the Lake of the Woods, or even the Atlantic. (Laughter.) At the north-west angle of Lake Winnipeg he hits upon the mouth of the Saskatchewan, the gateway and highway to the North-West, and the starting point to another ONE THOUSAND FIVE HUNDRED MILES OF NAVIGABLE WATERS, flowing nearly due east and west between its alluvial banks. Having now reached the foot of the Rocky Mountains our "ancient mariner" (laughter) for by this time he will be quite entitled to such an appellation, knowing that water cannot run up hill, feels certain his aquatic experiences are concluded. (Laughter and applause.) He was never more mistaken. (Laughter.) We immediately launch him upon the Athabaska and Mackenzie rivers, and start him on a longer trip than any he has yet undertaken—(laughter)—the navigation of the Mackenzie river alone exceeding two thousand five hundred miles. If he survives this last experience, we wind up his peregrinations by a concluding voyage of one thousand four hundred miles down the Fraser river, or if he prefers it, the Thompson river to Victoria, in Vancouver, whence, having previously provided him with a first class return ticket for that purpose, he will probably prefer getting home via the Canadian Pacific. (Roars of laughter.) Now, in this enumeration, those who are acquainted with the country are aware that for the sake of brevity I have omitted thousands of miles of other lakes and rivers, which water various regions of the North-West, the Qu'Appelle river, the Belly river, Lake Manitoba, Lake Winnipegosis, Shoal Lake, &c., along whose interminable banks and shores I might have dragged and finally exterminated our way-worn guest—(laughter)—but the sketch I have given is more than sufficient for my purpose, and when it is further remembered that the most of these streams flow for their entire length through alluvial plains of the richest description—(applause)—where year after year wheat can be raised without manure, or any sensible diminution in its yield—(hear, hear)—and where he soil everywhere presents the appearance of a highly cultivated suburban kitchen-garden in England, enough has been said to display the agricultural riches of the territories I have referred to—(great applause)—and the capabilities they possess of.

AFFORDING HAPPY AND POSPEROUS HOMES to millions of the human race. (Long continued applause.) In close proximity to Winnipeg, two other communities, THE MENNONITES AND ICELANDERS, starting from opposite ends of Europe, without either concert or communication, have sought fresh homes within our territory, the one of Russian extraction though German race, moved by a desire to escape from the obligations of a law which was repulsive to their conscience; the other, bred amid the snows and ashes of an Arctic volcano, by the hopes of bettering their material condition. (Applause.) Although I have witnessed many sights to cause me pleasure during my various progresses through the Dominion, seldom have I beheld any spectacle more pregnant with prophecy, more fraught with promise of a successful future than the Menonite settlement. (Applause.) When I visited these interesting people they had only been two years in the Province, and yet in a long ride I took across many miles of prairie, which but yesterday was absolutely bare, desolate and untenanted, the home of the wolf, the badger and the eagle, I passed village after village, homestead after homestead, furnished forth with all the conveniences and incidents of European comfort, and a scientific agriculture; while on either side the road, corn fields already ripe for harvest, and pastures populous with herds of cattle, stretched away to the horizon. (Great applause.) Even on this continent—the peculiar theatre of rapid change and progress—there has nowhere, I imagine, taken place so marvellous a transformation—(cheers) and yet when in your name, and the name of the Queen of England, I bade these men welcome to their new home, it was not the improvement in their material fortunes that pre-occupied my thoughts. Glad as I was to have the power of allotting them so ample a portion of our teeming soil—a soil which seems to blossom at our touch—(cheering)—and which they were cultivating to such manifest advantage. I felt infinitely prouder in being able to throw over them theegis of the British Constitution—(loud cheering)—and in bidding them freely share with us our unrivalled political institutions, our untrammelled personal liberty. (Great cheering.) Nor was my visit to the Icelandic community less satisfactory than that to our Mennonite fellow subjects.

"Now, my boy," said the examiner, "if I had a mince-pie, and should give two-twelfths of it to John, two-twelfths to Isaac, two-twelfths to Harry, and should take half the pie myself, what would there be left? Speak out loud, so that all can hear." "The plate," shouted the boy.

Prayer is the rusting of the wings of the angels that are on their way bringing us the boons of heaven. Even as a cloud foreshadoweth rain, so prayer foreshadoweth the blessing; even as the green blade is the beginning of the harvest, so is prayer the prophecy of the blessing that is about to come.—Spurgeon.

How few Christians have imbibed the spirit of their Master's beautiful and most merciful parable of the tares, which the servants were forbidden to pluck lest they should root up the wheat along with them! Never have men been waiting who come like the servants, and give notice of the tares, and ask leave to go and gather them up.—Hare.

"Doctor, my daughter seems to be going blind, and she's just getting ready for her wedding, too! O, dear me, what is to be done?" Let her go right on with the wedding, madam, by all means. If any thing can open her eyes, marriage will!

GENERAL DEBILITY. This convenient term includes numerous ill-defined and supposed incurable forms of disease accompanied by general lassitude and exhaustion, without any ascertainable external or internal cause. The Peruvian Syrup sends its renovating influence to the inmost recesses of the system, and has relieved in our community many cases of supposed incurable disease. Sold by dealers generally.

REV. T. P. CHILDS. Our readers will again notice the large double column advertisement in reference to a Catarrh Cure. Mr. Childs was for many years a great sufferer from this disease, and at times despaired of his life. By study and experiment he discovered a system of cure of this disease, which has baffled the skill of physicians for many years. Suffice it to say, that his method is recommended by every practitioner to whose notice it has been brought. The cure is certain, through and scientific. Mr. Childs is the pastor of a church, and has been drawn into the manufacture of his Catarrh Cure by the calls from numbers of friends who desired to be freed from this loathsome disease, as well by a desire on his part to alleviate, as far as might be in his power, the suffering and distress of the human family. Mr. Childs' reputation and character secure him the confidence of his patrons, who are not dealing with a man that has a patient to sell, but a simple remedy. The success that has attended the introduction of his "Catarrh Specific" is wonderful. Mr. Childs has nearly six thousands patients scattered over the country and thousands more he has cured permanently. Read the advertisement carefully, and examine the certificates.—Advt.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

The reputation it has attained, in consequence of the marvellous cures it has produced during the last half century, is a sufficient assurance to the public that it will continue to realize the happiest results that can be desired. In almost every section of country there are persons, publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs, by its use. All who have tried it, acknowledge its superiority; and where its virtues are known, no one hesitates as to what medicine to employ to relieve the distress and suffering peculiar to pulmonary affections. CHERRY PECTORAL always affords instant relief, and performs rapid cures of the milder varieties of bronchial disorder, as well as the more formidable diseases of the lungs. As a safeguard to children, amid the distressing diseases which beset the Throat and Chest of Childhood, it is invaluable; for, by its timely use, multitudes are rescued and restored to health. This medicine gains friends at every trial, as the cures it is constantly producing are too remarkable to be forgotten. No family should be without it, and those who have once used it never will.

Eminent Physicians throughout the country prescribe it, and Clergymen often recommend it from their knowledge of its effects.

Catarrh can be Cured. 335

MY EXPERIENCE. EIGHTEEN YEARS of terrible headache, disgusting nasal discharges, dryness of the throat, acute bronchitis, coughing, soreness of the lungs, raising bloody mucus, and even night sweats, inciting me for my professional duties, and bringing me to the verge of the grave—all caused by, and the results of, NASAL CATARRH. After spending hundreds of dollars, and obtaining no relief, I compounded my Catarrh Specific and Cold Air Inhaling Balm, and wrought upon myself a wonderful cure. Now I can speak for hours with no difficulty, and can breathe freely in any atmosphere. At the call of numerous friends, I have given my cure to the public, and have now thousands of patients in all parts of the country and thousands of happy fellow-beings whose sufferings I have relieved. My cure is certain, thorough, and perfect, and is endorsed by every Physician who has examined it. If I can relieve my fellow beings as I have been relieved of this loathsome disease, making the possessor at once disgusting to himself and others, I shall be satisfied, and feel that I have done my little toward removing the ills of mankind. REV. T. P. CHILDS.

A DANGEROUS DISEASE. CATARRH is a dangerous disease; yet it can be cured by the use of my "Catarrh Specific." Thousands suffer without knowing the nature of this almost universal complaint. It is an ulceration of the head. Its indications are hawking, spitting, weak inflamed eyes, frequent soreness of the throat, dry and heat of the nose, matter running from the head down the throat, often ringing of deafness in the ears, loss of smell, memory impaired, dullness and dizziness of the head, often in its first stages, but more commonly in its advanced stages, attended with pain in the chest or left side, and under the shoulder blades. Indigestion usually attends Catarrh; a hacking cough and colds are very common. Some have all these symptoms; others only a part. Very little pain attends Catarrh until the Liver and the Lungs are attacked in consequence of the stream of pollution running from the head into the stomach. It ends in consumption.

The Legitimate Child of Catarrh is Bronchitis. BRONCHITIS is the legitimate child of CATARRH. Trochae and all palliatives cannot, by any possibility, reach the ulcerated fountain in the head, whence the polluted, festering, corrosive matter issues, and thus never cures the Catarrh. All such persons catch cold easily, and have frequently lost all sense of smell. The disease advances cautiously, until pain in the chest, hiccough or bowels, startles him. He lacks and coughs, has dyspepsia, liver complaint, and is urged by his Doctor to take this or that; perhaps even Cod Liver Oil is prescribed. Perfectly ridiculous! The foul ulcers in the head can not be reached by pouring such stuff into the poor-jawed stomach. The patient becomes nervous, the voice is hoarse and unnatural, he feels disheartened, memory loses her power, judgment her seat, gloomy forebodings hang overhead; hundreds, yes, thousands in such circumstances, feel that to die would be relief, and many do even cut the thread of life to end their sorrow. There is one other form of Catarrh that I must just refer to. A hard substance forms in the passage, becomes very painful, frequently breaks, and is blown with great pain and difficulty from the nose. In other cases it will cut through and discharge itself by the side of the nose, making a terrible anginous sore. One of my patients was in this condition. She is now getting along finely; the sore healed up, and the stench and acid matter are all gone. For all afflicted with Catarrh, in all its developments—not even excepting cases where the bones of the nose are affected—my Catarrh Specific affords a safe, sure and permanent cure.

Cleanse and Heal—My Motto. CLEANSE AND HEAL is my motto, while at the same time one of the six remedies I send brings the nasty corruption out through the nostrils, and thus never enters the throat into the stomach. By thus keeping the ulcers clear of matter, and of applying the proper medicine, they soon heal, and heal permanently. Also for weak nerves, chronic headache and neuralgia my Specific is invaluable.

Thousands are dying in early life with consumption who can look back a few years—perhaps only months—when it was only Catarrh. Neglected when a cure is possible, very soon it will transform the features of health and youth into the ghastly appearance, while the hacking cough has the excess of blood gushing from the lungs or night sweats, all significantly proclaim that it is too late; and thus a neglected Catarrh ends in the consumptive's grave.

100,000 Die from Consumption. More than 100,000 die annually from Consumption in these United States, and a careful classification has revealed the startling fact that fully 75,000 of those cases were caused by Catarrh in the head, and had no known connection with heredity, any causes. A large share of these cases might have been cured. Many of them were in the morning of life, and their young hearts—now cold in consumptive's grave—struggling hard against the vile enemy that laid them low.

Physicians Testimony. This certifies that the undersigned are acquainted with Rev. T. P. Childs and believe him to be reliable and truthful, and that his mode of treating Catarrh is scientific and effectual in breaking up and curing it; and indeed it seems to be the only mode likely to effect a complete cure. J. H. GREEN, M.D., Troy, O. JOSIAH REED, M.D., Troy, O. Either of the above-named physicians can be consulted by letter or otherwise.

Be Cautious. Five years ago, when I first announced to the world that "CATARRH could be cured," it was the only announcement of the kind then to be found. All or nearly all, the physicians in the land said it More could be cured. A few stupefied could be had at drug stores, labelled "Catarrh Specific." Now what? Can any one who has advertised their "bitters" and "tonics," and nostrums of all sorts, and claimed for them almost miraculous power to cure a long catalogue of diseases, slip into that catalogue "Catarrh." Is not this an afterthought? Or have they really changed their medicines to suit the development of Nasal Catarrh, which has but recently become prevalent? Be not deceived!

Special Remarks. This Specific is regarded by the best judges as being the most complete system for the treatment of Nasal Catarrh ever devised. Indeed, there does not appear to be anything lacking in its perfect adaptation to the horrid disease, in all its loathsome, painful and dangerous developments. It is really two systems harmoniously combined; but in addition to the regular treatment for Catarrh in the nasal passages, it includes a fine system for inhaling steam, medicated vapor, and for passing it all along the air pipes, and even along the obstructing tubes, without pain or difficulty.

No one Medicine. Can by any possibility cure Catarrh, when it spreads, as above described, through the nasal passages, throat, and bronchial pipes. Here lies the secret of the unparalleled success of my treatment. Some of all its leading nostrums, which I send, or all combined, are just sure to follow it into the medicated water cannot reach it, then the undisturbed vapor surely will.

The following are taken from thousands of testimonials in my possession: Boston Testimony. William Collier, 63 W. Dwellam Street, Boston, Mass. here state that my daughter has used your Catarrh Cure well, and I have not a doubt but that she is cured. I am glad to hear of your success, and I am glad to hear of your success, and I am glad to hear of your success.

My Daughter. REV. T. P. CHILDS—DEAR SIR:—I should have great medicine your "Catarrh Specific" is my daughter's. CRAB ORCHARD, KEY, Judge J. Collett, of Lima, catarrh had taken hold upon me at the time you were to all ailments, and with a suffering day and night. 20th of August. Now I am cured; head free, air pass very cheap. I have laid away the instrument, having accomplished what you thought could be gain.

Late Testimony. DR. T. P. CHILDS—DEAR SIR:—I am happy to in my most sanguine expectations. Your inhaling instrument, in fact, they have accomplished wonders in it almost totally deaf. In ten days I could hear tolerably. I am very truly your friend, GRAY HILL, TEXAS, Dec 22, 1876.

A Case of Catarrh Consumption Cured. BROTHER T. P. CHILDS—DEAR FRIEND—I had been confined to my room seven weeks. I was given up by my friends, soon to fill a consumptive's grave. Had a distressing cough and smothering, so that I could not lie down without the greatest distress in my lungs. I had lost all sense of smell and hearing, and my head was one mass of misery. My friends aided me in the use of your treatment, which I commenced with faint hope, but I had been under the care of good doctors winters, all of whom said I had the consumption. But I began to succeed immediately. The vile phlegm ceased to accumulate, and the inhaling balm soon relieved my lungs, and I passed the winter quite comfortably, and have been improving all summer, and am now in good health. No cough, no stoppages of the air passages, no soreness of the lungs. I do not take cold easily at all. I thank the Lord that I ever ordered your medicine, and shall ever pay for your success. Truly your friend, Lime Springs, Howard Co., Iowa. RACHEL STEWART

Little Children. The undersigned has invented a neat contrivance, by which little children can be treated successfully, and the nasal passage kept open, and cold not only warded off, but broken up when contracted, and thus settled catarrh prevented.

Conclusion. Everything known to be good in the treatment of Nasal Catarrh, Throat, or Bronchial Disease, combined in one grand system. Two of the best Inhalants in the world, and Instruments with which to use them, in each case, so that with the Catarrh Specific, the enemy can be struck all along the line, morning, noon and night, and the fight kept up all through the day, with but little trouble. One of my inhaling Balm produces a quicker circulation, carries the blood to the surface and it is quite impossible to take cold. This is truly one half of the battle. An ounce of prevention is worth fifty pounds of cure, in this case.

Do not trifle with some cheap thing, which at best can afford but temporary relief, while the roots of the vile disease are deeper and deeper. Be in earnest about this; or do nothing! Write at once and say what paper you saw this in. Circulars, price lists and all necessary information can be had by (with return stamp). REV. T. P. CHILDS, Troy, O.
