

Best Kidney Remedy Known To Science

For pain in the back—scanty urine—highly colored urine—irritated bladder—irregular bowels—bad stomach—there is nothing that will bring such quick relief and so certain a cure as FRUIT-A-LIVES.

These marvelous tablets are nature's natural remedy for irritated or weakened kidneys. They act directly on the kidneys—soothe the irritated membranes—clean, heal and strengthen the organs—and help them to new vigor with their work.

Often kidney trouble is not due to any organic defect in the kidneys. If the bowels are constipated—if the skin does not throw off the tissue waste of the body—then these impurities are carried to the kidneys. In a vain endeavor to rid the system of impurities the kidneys are overworked—the blood vessels are dilated—the nerves inflamed. That causes a host of kidney troubles.

Fruit-a-lives

not only heal and strengthen the kidneys but they also increase the action of the skin, and act directly on the liver, thus curing the constipation.

FRUIT-A-LIVES are the natural and logical cure for all kidney troubles. They are made of fruit and tonics—are pleasant to take—and a guaranteed cure when faithfully used. A box of 6 boxes for $2.50. Sent on receipt of price if your druggist does not handle them.

The Easier Task.

The following notice is posted up outside the ticket office of the bathing place on the sands at Eastbourne: "Will the party who is in the habit of cleaning his brown boots on the bathing towels please leave his boots here before bathing, as we would rather clean his boots than wash the towels?"

New Source of Alcohol.

A new source of alcohol has been discovered in Western Australia. The grass tree, which flourishes so thickly that it has become a nuisance to agriculturists, turns out to be full of alcohol. The fibers of the core yield from five-tenths to one and a quarter gallons of proof spirit a bushel.

FROM BOTHWELL TOO

COMES A TRUE STORY OF SICKNESS CURED.

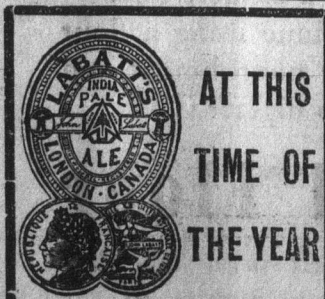

Mrs. Martha Tong, of Bothwell, says:

"I was in a terrible state through acute indigestion. For four long years I had regular attacks. I used to suffer everything, splitting headaches, pain around my heart, a heavy feeling in my chest and heartburn. When these attacks were on my complexion would be very sallow, and I would feel heavy, tired and unfit for my household duties. "Now my troubles have all gone. Dr. Leonard's Anti-Pill has cured me. It is two months since I used any, and, therefore, I believe that my cure is permanent, as I have had no recurrence of the headaches, indigestion, heartburn or heart pain, and I am stronger and better than I have been for years. I was indeed lucky to find such a wonderful remedy as Anti-Pill."

Anti-Pill, the new remedy, is for sale by all druggists at 50c. or THE WILSON-PALE CO., LIMITED, NIAGARA FALLS, ONT.

The Word "Humble."

"Humble" is a word that has gone out of fashion during the lifetime of many of us. An Australian paper that is reproducing extracts from its files of fifty years ago prints this advertisement of 1856: "Young woman wants home in an humble family." Nobody sees an advertisement of that sort in the papers nowadays except in the weekly journals of the Irish rural districts, where such announcements as "Wanted, an humble girl," still occasionally appear.

ESCAPES FROM SIBERIA

terrorist, Who is Feared, Hidden in a Water Cask.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 2.—Gerachunin, one of the most famous terrorists, and head of their fighting organization during the Siplaguina and Von Phlevo regimes, has escaped from Siberia, concealed in a water cask. His disappearance is a serious menace to personages whom the terrorists are now seeking, as he is a skilled organizer, and one of the most remarkable men the revolution has produced.

Conscription Show Symptoms.

Saratov, Nov. 2.—Six hundred conscripts, who were summoned for service, appeared at headquarters yesterday singing revolutionary songs, and defied their officers. Many of the men were arrested.

Fourteen Exiled to Siberia.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 2.—M. Krustaleff, who was president of the executive committee of the Workmen's Council, and fourteen leaders of the council who have been on trial here for a month past, were yesterday sentenced to exile in Siberia, and the loss of all civil rights.

Two others were sentenced to imprisonment in a fortress, and the rest of the accused were acquitted.

SOUTH FRANCE STORM SWEEP.

Nice Suffers Severely and Shops Are Badly Flooded.

Paris, Nov. 2.—A violent storm has swept over the South of France, accompanied by heavy falls of snow on the coast and a tidal wave at Toulon, in which many small craft were torn from their anchorages and wrecked, and the quays were flooded.

Nice suffered most severely, the famous promenade Des Anglais, and neighboring streets being under water a foot deep.

The shops there were so badly flooded that the contents of some of them were totally destroyed.

The damage done will amount to an enormous sum.

The storm destroyed the Jettes at St. Raphael and carried away a bridge, the waves breaking about 150 yards inland.

Three small steamers and many fishing vessels were wrecked, but there was no loss of life.

CANADA AND NEW ZEALAND.

Premiers Exchange Felicitous Messages on Eve of Big Exhibition.

Ottawa, Nov. 2.—The opening of the New Zealand Exposition at Christ Church yesterday was marked by a felicitous exchange of greetings between the Premiers of Canada and New Zealand.

On Oct. 31, Sir Wilfrid Laurier cabled Premier Ward as follows: "Canada sends greetings to sister colony on opening of the exhibition to-morrow, and best wishes for its success. Much gratified to participate, and trust Canada's exhibit adds interest."

Premier Ward replied: "New Zealand heartily reciprocates and appreciates Canada's good wishes. Exhibition a big success. Canada's display creditable to your country, and hope it will be a forerunner of increased commercial relations."

EXPERIMENTING WITH FRUITS.

Alberta Government is Seeking Information From Settlers.

Edmonton, Alberta, Nov. 2.—The Department of Agriculture of Alberta sent out circulars to everybody in the province known to have tried large fruits asking them to give a list of the trees they have tried and what kind of success they had met with. From these reports and other sources the Department has selected a list of what appears to be the hardiest trees for the province, and has decided to carry on a number of experiments in order to be able to give settlers authentic information on this important matter. The orchards are to be about an acre in extent and will be distributed at seven points, possibly eight.

Holiday Deters Police.

Ottawa, Nov. 2.—Owing to yesterday being All Saint's Day and a very solemn holiday in Quebec, the crown officers changed their plans at Buckingham and decided not to execute warrants in connection with the strike riots until Saturday.

Installed as Dean of Ontario.

Kingston, Nov. 2.—In the presence of his fellow-clergy and a great company of citizens, Canon Farthing, the new inducted incumbent of the English Cathedral, was at 11 o'clock yesterday installed as Dean of Ontario.

Chinaman Hanged Himself.

Grand Valley, Nov. 2.—A Chinaman named Quong Lung, who has been engaged in a laundry business here for the past few months, was found dead, having committed suicide by hanging himself.

Was Paid $1,000 a Word.

At the Franklin Inn, a literary club of Philadelphia, a young poet, licking his lips, said that Conan Doyle was paid $1 a word.

"That is nothing," said a railroad advertising man. "I know of a case where a man was paid $1,000 a word. Our line used to have at its grade crossings a very long and complicated sign that began, 'Beware of the Engine and Cars,' and then this sign went on with a lot of injunctions and warnings that would have taken five minutes to read."

In a number of accident cases the claimants for damages declared that our long signs were not even warnings. Therefore the line decided at last to get a new grade crossing sign, and Judge Paxson was engaged to write one.

"The sign that Judge Paxson wrote cost $1,000 a word, but it was a classic. It remains a classic. It has been copied everywhere. It is as well known among us as 'Father, I cannot tell a lie,' or 'England expects every man to do his duty.'"

The sign that cost $1,000 a word, or $6,000 all, was the famous Railroad Crossing—Stop, Look and Listen."

VARICOCELE CURED

NO NAMES USED WITHOUT WRITTEN CONSENT.

Confined to His Home for Weeks.

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on a double varicocele. When I started to work the aching would become severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family physician told me that operation was my only hope, but I dreaded it. I tried several specialists, but soon found out all they wanted was my money. I commenced to look upon all doctors as little better than rogues. One day my boss asked me why I was off work so much and I told him my condition. He advised me to consult a man named Kennedy and Kergan. He had taken treatment from them himself and knew they were square and skillful. He wrote them and got the New Method Treatment for me. Of progress was somewhat slow and during the first month's treatment I was somewhat discouraged. However, I continued treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I could only earn $12 a week in a machine shop before treatment, now I am earning $21 and have lost a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment."

Tea Table Superstitions.

An old superstition is that if the lid is forgotten when the tea is put in the kettle to steep there will be visitors.

When a girl receives two spoons with her cup of tea she will be married within the year.

Those who help themselves to the milk or cream before putting in the sugar will be crossed in love.

A tea leaf floating on the top of a cup of tea means that the drinker has an admirer. If the tea is stirred quickly and the spoon held upright in the middle of the cup, the lover will call that day if the leaf is attached to the spoon. If, on the contrary, the leaf clings to the side of the cup, he will not come until another day.

A Pretty Dessert.

A dessert that is good to eat as well as to look at is made of a bunch of grapes in wine jelly. Prepare the jelly, using a little more gelatin than the recipe calls for. The bunch of grapes should be small and perfect. Place it in the mold so that when turned out the stem will be right side up. Next fill the mold about half full of jelly and set it in a pan of ice. As soon as it begins to set put in some loose grapes and some candied cherries. Pour the remainder of the jelly into the mold and let it stand until it is firm enough to hold the grapes; then set in 12a ice to harden.

HOPE OF SLOCAN

Advantages Of Mining by Lease System

LOSS TURNED TO PROFIT

S. S. Fowler Discusses Possibilities And Limitations Of Operations by Working Lessees

With the general renewal of the mining industry throughout the west, and especially in British Columbia, due in part, perhaps, to the rising values of silver, copper and lead, general interest is again being centered on the one district that means to feel the stimulus least of all.

The Silvery Slocan was at one time the hope of Kootenay, but for the last six years it has been a scene of depression, disturbed on rare occasions by reports of rich strikes, only to subside again.

The Slocan district is known to contain many, at least hundreds, of rich properties. They are well known to engineers as well as to prospectors. They are neither inaccessible nor difficult to operate. They are not idle for want of capital. On the contrary capital has been spent on many and there have been adequate returns.

Evidently the system on which they have been worked must be defective, and if the country is to revive a new system must be followed.

A new system has already been introduced—the leasing system—from which much is hoped by those who have watched it in operation.

S. S. Fowler, of Nelson, has so far been one of the most successful operators on the leasing system, and his views on the possibilities and limitations of the system should be of considerable value. Asked his views on the subject by a representative of The Canadian, Mr. Fowler said:

"The greatest and also the most obvious advantage of the leasing system is the great saving of expenditure. The mining operations of a big company necessarily involve an office staff of fair-salaried men, accountant, clerks, manager and engineer. Where the authority of the manager is limited it also involves frequently costly delays in obtaining consent and approval for projected operations.

"The system has been in vogue for some years in Colorado and has been successful there. The returns of printed contracts show that the lessees pay a much higher royalty in Colorado than has so far been paid in British Columbia. There the companies usually do a certain amount of development work, sink a shaft, equip it, and start drilling. Then they lease parts of the drifts, making it a condition of the lease that the lessee shall do a certain amount of development work before he begins to stope ore.

"As to the royalties paid, the figures I have apply to two years ago, but I think there has been no material change since. The royalty is on a sliding scale, from 10 per cent. on the gross returns in the case of $25 ore to 70 per cent. for $200 ore, with the average of 45 per cent. on $100 ore. In British Columbia the rate is usually only 25 per cent. on $100 ore and calculated on the smelter returns.

"The first leases in British Columbia were generally taken on development mines by former employees, who knew the location of small ore bodies and got leases merely to take them out, paying a small percentage of the returns. Such lessees were usually, though not always, working miners.

"That condition, however, is rapidly passing. It had many defects. Such lessees seldom had any capital. They had to work on credit, with a merchant sharing the risk, and they did no development work. The mine owners derived no benefit.

"The new condition is creating a class of lessees with small capital and usually with enough mining and business experience to satisfy the owners that the work undertaken will be well done.

"A recent contribution to the subject had endorsed the formation of small syndicates, of 25 miners, each contributing $10 a month for development. Well, $250 a month will not go far to develop a mine.

"Few working miners have enough capital to really accomplish anything worth while. The lessees of the future will be men who can afford a few thousand dollars. They may then sub-lease special parts of the properties.

"It has been found that employees of a lessee do better work than men working for a big company. There is a selfish object in view. They know that unless the work is successful it will stop and their occupation will be gone. In many cases, of course, where they are sub-lessees, they have a direct financial interest in the success of the work.

"Now, of course, the system cannot be followed with success in all fields. A big low-grade property—in which operation on a very large scale is necessary for profits, can only be handled by a company or individual with large capital. Even a high-grade property requiring big and costly development work, such as the long tunnel of the Rambler-Cariboo, will never, I think, be done by lessees.

"But it seems to me that the Slocan is peculiarly fitted now for successful application of the leasing system. There are many small high-grade properties already opened up, with ore bodies definitely located if not actually sighted, and many of them are equipped with mills, or are near to concentrating plants of some kind. Such properties will probably never be able to pay expenses of company operation with its costly incidental, and pay interest on investment too, but they may give excellent returns to working lessees. If it be granted that a company manager and a working lessee are equal in efficiency, the latter has an immense advantage in economy.

"With the close supervision that is only possible with a small force, many other economies besides the saving of superfluous salaries may be effected. It is possible to see that all ore taken to the mill is clean ore, and there is every incentive to do so, as the return depends entirely upon what is mined.

"One difficulty in the way at present is the scarcity of miners. The general prosperity of the west on both sides of the line has created a big demand for labor, and good miners are hard to get even at the highest wages.

"So far mining lessees in British Columbia have enjoyed very favorable terms. They have paid a low royalty as compared with that paid in other districts, and little in the way of development work has been required of them. There are no indications of any increase in the royalties, but the mine owners are now becoming keener as to the financial ability of the lessee to fulfill his contract, and do work that will benefit the property as well as himself and give the owner a substantial return in development as well as the small royalty, which amounts to little more, in some cases, than interest on capital already expended.

"With its limitations clearly understood and the need of economy and efficiency thoroughly appreciated, there is a splendid field in the Slocan for mining on the leasing system."
