Are you now convinced that Red Rose Tea "Is Good Tea?"

I HAVE made an honest effort to convince you that Red Rose Tea is good tea.

I have shown you in these talks that Red Rose Tea combines the good qualities of rich, strong Northern Indian tea with the delicate fragrance of

That by this combination of two good teas, Red Rose Tea is better than either-with a "rich fruity flavor" exclusively its own.

I have told you why it is always uniform in flavor and strength, of its selection at the gardens, how it is tested and blended - I have tried to tell you all about Red Rose Tea and why it is good tea.

I want you to try Red Rose Tea because I want you for a permanent customer. I know if you once try it you will use only Red Rose Tea.

The price of half a pound of Red Rose Tea is small—that small investment may show you how much tea value, tea quality and flavor you have missed. Is it not worth trying?

FREE SAMPLE - We will send a large sample of Red Rose Tea by post, free, if you will write and tell us the priced tea you are now using, and whether black or green.

We are still much in need of rain.
Rev. Newton Hill, pastor of King City Methodist Church, near Toronto, in company with his wife, has been spending his summer holidays on a stour through Illinois, Iowa and the West. On their return trip they stopped off here last Friday to pay Mr. Hill's brother, John, a short visit. Mr. Hill also preached in St. Andrew's Church, and, as the Baptists of North Buxton were holding a basket meeting, he kindly went down and helped them in their services. He will return to hir flock in King City to-morrow.

James Blythe, of Raleigh Plains, has been smiling over 50 bushels of wheat per acre. This has awakened general interest and an expert has measured the field and finds that there was a slight mistake. There is 12 1-2 acres in the field instead of 10 acres, as published. This has clipped the tips of Mr. Blythe's wings.

We learn that wedding bells will ring in Phipsville in the near future, Misses Annie, Elsie and Helen Young, of Detroit, have been visiting their parents here.

ALWAYS BE TIDY.

There Is No Necessity For Going Around Like a Sloven.

There is no need to look untidy even if you are working about the house. You cannot be so cheerful nor so self respecting when you are carelessly dressed as when you are neat and presentable, and even the home work er who has no help with a little good management can be both. If gloves are worn to do the dirty work in they can be drawn off at any moment and expose a pair of hands free from dirt. A clean cloth wound around the head when sweeping will prevent the hair from becoming dirty and dusty, and it can be easily remov ed in case of an unexpected visitor A good plan for the home workers is to have a large overall to work in, which, when taken off, will display a neat dress, quite free from fluff and dust. me worker has a better opportunity of keeping her good looks than the business girl. She has nothing of the strain of traveling, in sometimes dirty cars and through smoky tunnels and often muddy or dusty streets. She can always depend on a properly prepared and cooked meal, while the business girl must put up with what she can get, but there is no reason why she should not pay attention to her dress, the keynote of which should be neatness, and she should be as tidy in appearance as it is possible for her to be.-Detroit News-Tribune.

ARE YOU TOO PLUMP?

Black Is the Thinnest Color a Stout Woman Can Wear.

White makes a woman look innocent, winsome and classic. Clear white is for the blond, cream white for the bru nette. Is it not the woman in white who has all the attention and the wide eyed young thing in white with a blue ribbon who captures all the beaus?

"Black suits the fair," a poet tells us It is the thinnest color a steut woman can wear. Indeed, the woman who wears black to best advantage is she who is stout and has black eyes and black hair. It is well known that in gowns of certain colors flesh seems to shrink, in others to expand.

A subdued shade of blue, heliotrope and olive green with black, of course, are the colors under which flesh seems less ostentatious, while Wedgwood blue, pale gray and almost any shade of red are to be avoided. Mauve and the highest shades of green are the two colors that in decoration about the throat and shoulders are especially helpful in diminishing the effect of Put brown paper on the top of the wardrobes. This is easily taken off and shaken and prevents the ward-robe becoming thick with dust.

A grease spot can be removed from leather by applying a little benzine. It may make the surface dull, but you can restore the polish with the white of an egg.

Ink stains on linea should be soaked out in milk, and the sooner this is done the better, for, though wet ink comes out readily, it takes a good deal of soaking to remove it if it has been allowed to dry in.

When cleaning rugs or carpets, manage if possible to do it on a windy day, when the high wind will blow away the dust pounded out and decrease the amount of labor that would be necessary on a quiet day.

Attraction and beauty are two very different things. Who has not seen the nerely pretty woman come off a very poor second best to the plain, fascinating one? Of course magnetism and the mental qualities that fall under the heads of tact, vivacity and wit have much to do with the final fact of fascination, but it has also many other minor ingredients, powerful among them being femininity, which is in itself a complexity, a subtle perfume, delicacy of dress, hands and complex-ion, a careful confure and a hundred and one other things going to make up its alluring charm and refinement.— Ladies' Pictorial

One Way to Treat Servants. There is a shrewd Scotchman in New York whose management of servants is the wonder of the neighborhood. In twenty years he has never spoken to one of his domestics. If the breakfast is vile, he does not swear at the cook, but quietly leaves the table.

It looks like a case of injured innocence, and the cook is duly humiliated. He never hires or allows his wife to hire a servant a second time. No sort of familiarity is tolerated. "Treat serv ants as you would treat common sol-diers," he says. "Discipline, discipline, discipline—yet kindness and considera-tion."—New York Press.

The Faded Carpet.

After sweeping the carpet, rub it ever with a cloth wrung out in vinegar and water, and, if possible, do not let it be walked upon until it is dry. The quantity of vinegar is a teacupful to a pail of warm water, and this treatment often has a wonderfully good effect in reviving the faded color of an old carpet.

Milk In an Omelet. In making an omelet, instead of put-ting the usual bit of butter into the pan try a couple of spoonfuls of milk, just enough to make a thin film over the bottom of the pan, and follow with the eggs. Cook slowly. Eggs should not be cooked at a high temperature under any circumstances where they are served alone.

Where does your Heat go to?

Every stick of wood, every piece of coal contains a certain number of heat units, according to the size and quality of the stick or chunk.

Now some ranges let these heat units escape up the chimney. Heat units which go up the chimney do not heat the oven or the frying-pan. They are wasted. Every heat unit that is wasted is money lost, money burnt. The science of range building is the successful utilization of all the heat units.

The Pandora Range is the only range that utilizes all the heat units and sends none up the chimney.

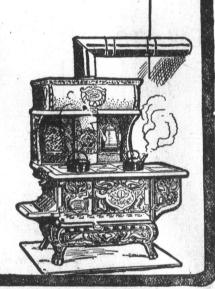

You can't put your hand over the chimney when some ranges are in use, because so much heat goes up the chimney. Your hand would be burned. That is heat wasted, money wasted, time wasted, because it takes so much longer to do your work when a large part of your heat is lost.

The Pandora Range is built to keep all the heat units in the rangekeeps them there till the heat is exhausted-it is the only range that does not waste heat. It uses all the heat there is in the coal or wood.

That's the kind of range you want in your kitchen-it is economical -it saves coal, wood, money, time. It makes kitchen work easy.
