How to Cook an Old Hen.—Prof. W. Mattieu Williams gives us in Knowledge his practical experience with elderly poultry, as follows:—I may mention an experiment that I have made lately. I killed a superannuated hen—more than six years old, but otherwise in very good condition. Cooked in the ordinary way she would have been uneatably tough. Instead of being thus cooked, she was gently stewed about four hours. I cannot guarantee to the maintenance of the theoretical temperature, having suspicion

This surprise me. I anticipated the softening of the Queer. Street, Fredericton, N.B. tendons and ligaments, but supposed that the extraction of the juices would have spoiled the flavor. It must have diluted it, and that so much remained was probably due to the fact that an old fowl is more fully flavored than a young chicken. We invite the attention of the public to our New and Beautiful Styles for this year. They will be found, in Design and Musical Capabilities, to far eyed anything at present in the market. With an experience of B years, and sparing no expense to enable us to produce a Perfect Instrument, we can confidently pronounce them the Best and Purest Tonel Organs made. That they are the best is admitted by the principal Professors, and confirmed by the great number now in use, and the lighest awards at the principal achibitions at home and abova I. Intending purchasers should bear in much that the Bell Organs are only made in Guelph, Ont., and each Organ warranted to be first-class—a consideration of some consequence from a responsible firm. We employ only the most skilled Tabor; and our aim shalle be in the future, as in the past, to keep the Bell Organ. For tone, appearance, and lasting qualities.

AHEAD OF ALL OTHERS.

Beware of Imitations.

The Bell Organs having become so popular among musicians, some manufacturers in Canada have constructed an instrument which they call the "Bell Organ," and are endeavouring to force it upon the market in place of the world renowned "Wim, Bell Organ," That instrument, however, while it, in build, is somewhat similar to the "Wim, Bell Organ," is a mach interior one, and possesses more of the fluor points of the Celebrated Organ, "Reverve or of the "Wim Bell Organs," has its trade mark—TWO BELLS—painted upon it, and NONE ARE GENUINE WIP/IOUT FILLS MARK.
