SYDNEY, N.S., To-day.
T. P. Mason, of Shaw and Mason, was killed in an auto accident yesterday.

NEWMARKET, Eng., To-day.
P. H. Whitney to-day had an unusual honor taking first and third places in the Great Eastern Railway handicap with his horses, Harmonicon and Barrow.

BOULOGNE, To-day.
The French authorities granted authorization to depart from France to a German officer, Lieut. Steffen, who landed near here with an aeroplane on Sept. 29. Before leaving Steffen thanked the French authorities for the courtesy they had shown him and told them he had not intended to fly across French territory, but had been blown out of his course and compelled to descend.

HALIFAX, To-day.
The following telegram of great importance to this port was received from Vice-President of the C.P.R. at Montreal: "It has been decided by this Company and Allan Line to make Halifax their terminal port of call this winter for mail steamers Empress of Ireland and Empress of Britain, Albatross and Calvarian sailing from Halifax Saturdays. Those steamers will not run to St. John."

PEKING, To-day.
Missionaries Siang Yang Fu proposed to Tsao-pang to negotiate for release of five Americans and four Norwegian missionaries now in the hands of Chinese bandits in Northern part of the province of Hu Peh, but Edward T. Williams American charged affairs here urged them to refrain from doing so as it was feared the bandits would capture them also.

NEW YORK, To-day.
A rain storm which reached almost cloudburst proportions, descended upon New York yesterday afternoon, establishing a record precipitation, that flooded streets, tied up the subway, hampered the service in elevated traffic in the city and suburbs for several hours, causing a property loss that can scarcely be estimated. Two persons were killed and several injured. Thomas Walsh, train dispatcher of the Borsing Pumping Gang Subway, slipped, fell and was killed. Another victim during the storm was patrolman Clark of Jersey City, who was electrocuted at his street car box, which had become charged with electricity by crossed wires.

OTTAWA, To-day.
No further details of the wreck of the steamer Cereana, when conveying supplies to the Hudson Bay railway terminal at Port Nelson has not been received by the railway dept. and it is doubted if any more will be heard until the Alcazar, which brought out news of the disaster reaches port. She is supposed to be heading for Sydney. Both ship and cargo were fully insured, while saving crew minimizes disaster. The loss of the equipment for the wireless telegraphic station at Port Nelson, however is particularly regretted as it had been hoped to have the service in operation between Lepas and Nelson by Xmas. There is considerable apprehension at the department as to the whereabouts of the steamers Bonaventure, Bellaventure, and the new dredge for Nelson, an ocean-going tug, to be used at the terminal; however, they were barely overdue. The Alcazar left, but the difficulty presents itself that with no wireless station this side of Battle Harbor, there is no means of obtaining information.

BELFAST, To-day.
Sir Edward Carson and other leaders of the Ulster Provisional Government are being flooded with offers from anti-Home Rulers in Canada to come to Ulster and fight with the Ulster volunteers against any attempt to force the Dublin Parliament upon Ulster. Several thousand young men in Montreal, Toronto, Hamilton, and particularly in Ontario City, have written declaring their intention of sailing for Ireland in time to take part in the military campaign should they receive notice that their services would be welcomed by Ulstermen. The names are withheld, but it is stated by one member of the Provisional Government that if the list were published it would cause a big sensation in the cities named, as the list contains many most prominent men younger in the business circles of those places. The speaker would not say whether the offers would be accepted, but by his manner led his hearers to understand they would be hinted at the possibility of forming a Canadian regiment of Ulster volunteers.

NOTE OF THANKS.—Mr. and Mrs. William Moore wish to thank all kind friends who sent wreaths and flowers to adorn the casket of their dear little son, Jackie.—Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Moore, Mr. Stan Walsh, Mr. and Mrs. Gladney, Mr. Carter, Mrs. Dr. Keegan, Miss Southcott, Miss Powell, Miss Bowden, Miss G. McCaffrey, Mrs. Christopher, Mrs. Doyle, Mr. James and Mrs. L. Tilley, Mrs. E. Tilley, Mr. S. Brophy, Mrs. McGrath, Mrs. Mackay, Mrs. Woodford, Mrs. Mallard, Mrs. Whelan, Mrs. Mullaly, Mr. and Mrs. J. Cotter for kindness, Mrs. Bush, Mrs. A. Lewis and all other kind friends who sent notes and messages of sympathy as well as those who helped in any way to lessen their great trouble.—adv.

The Liberal Candidate for St. George's.

The Liberal candidate for St. George's is Mr. Arthur English, a young man, who by his industry and natural abilities has raised himself to a high position in public estimation. He is a powerful and convincing writer, and is withal a modest and most unassuming man. Honest, manly, able, is Arthur English. What a contrast to the brainless nonentity who has been misrepresenting the district of St. George's for the past four years. The Gibbs organ, the Western Star, has fittingly described Joseph Downey as "an annual pensioner of the party in power," and has truthfully declared that the district of St. George's has suffered because "the mouthpiece of the people was stopped by the Government bounty." Arthur English has obtained enviable notoriety by the brilliancy of his pen. Joseph Downey has obtained unenviable notoriety by his political rascality in connection with Morris' confederation scare of 1909. Downey was Morris' tool to flout upon the electors the basest piece of deceit and lying that was ever published by a political party, calling down upon himself the withering contempt of Sir Robert Bond, who at a public meeting in Clarke's Beach, April 28, 1909, said, "That contemptible fellow Downey did not hesitate to make use of his friends' confidence for the basest political purposes. It is such characters as this man that betrayed Ireland and drove her sons to the four quarters of the world. Gaiffery, Pigott and Skin the Goat, of immortal memory, will hereafter rank inferior to J. F. Downey, of Newfoundland and his associates in this crime."

Will the independent electors of St. George's have "Skin the Goat" Downey—"the annual pensioner" of the Government to represent them, or the brilliant, manly, honest Arthur English?

We will wait and see.

Morris is losing sleep over the three Liberal candidates in the West End, and the pulpit, "manly" sport and silver-tongued orator in the East, are already smirking at ignominious defeat. As evidence of this they admit to the people that they don't want party support, but are seeking a vote for Higgins the "manly" sport. Does the Picnic Chief know that?

The "manly" sport singled out Mr. John Dwyer for attack. When the ballots are counted "manly" sport will find that it is much easier to win a football match than it is to defeat the invincible John Dwyer.

"Manly" sport is using all sorts of "manly" tactics down around Torbay and adjacent places, but the sentiment of Liberalism down there is stronger than ever it was. The standard-bearers of St. John's East are going to stand by Kent Dwyer and Ryan who are going to poll the biggest vote ever recorded in the history of St. John's East.

Are Cheap Goods Usually Cheap?

That cheap or underpriced goods are not as good as similar articles much higher in price no one can truthfully deny. It is even questionable if the cheaper goods are really worth what is paid for them, but allowing that they are, one is only getting his money's worth after all.

Taking motor engines for example, we find some engines are sold at half the price of others of the same Horse Power. This difference in price is accountable for difference in quality of materials and mechanical precision. In the cheaper engine the materials used are not the best and cannot stand up to hard work, whilst the mechanical part is not the result of highly paid experts.

The Fairbanks Morse Engine which is an honest price engine, is made of the best materials, designed by gas engine experts, and is the product of a concern who build up to a quality standard, and not down to a price. Being the largest and oldest gas engine concern they are in a position to offer their engines as the product of the cleverest gas engine brains available. NOT ONE COMPLAINT from any of the large number of Fairbanks users in NEWFOUNDLAND, is pretty good proof that their gasolene motors are all right, and their kerosene operating engine is of the same high class and reliable order.

MAJOR ANDRE executed 1780. England was at war with America and the fortress of West Point was in the hands of the Americans, under the command of a Major Arnold. The traitor opened negotiations with the English to deliver the fortress into their hands, but Major Andre, the English officer selected to carry through the negotiations was arrested within the American lines, tried as a spy and hanged. His body was in 1821 exhumed, brought to England, and buried in Westminster Abbey.

Water Glass will keep eggs fresh for a long period if made into a solution according to directions. A pound of Water Glass mixed with a gallon of hot water will, when the solution is cooled preserve 5 or 6 dozen of eggs in good condition for weeks, only requiring the occasional addition of sufficient water to keep the eggs well covered. Why not put away your eggs now while they are still comparatively plentiful? Water Glass costs but 15 cents a pound tin.
