An Explanation.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir.—I have seen by Wednesday's issue of The Evening Telegram, an item asking why I did not deliver letter and papers said to be addressed to Patrick V. Williams, Bay Bulls, and posted Oct. 12th. I beg to inform you that no such addressed letter or papers arrived here from St. John's during the month of October. The writer is making a mistake in the address and date of this letter. On Nov. 24th a letter and papers addressed Patrick K. Williams, Captain Bay, were forwarded, re-directed to this office. They were posted in St. John's on October 24th, arrived at Captain Bay Oct. 10th. This letter was opened in this post office by the same Patrick Williams as referred to in your paper, and seeing it was not his letter, I sealed it and delivered it to the right owner immediately. There are several of this name, but none with the name of Patrick K. Williams. These facts I can prove, as Patrick V. Williams has given the said letter into my possession and it can be seen at any time in this office. Mr. Williams wishes me to say he did not make the complaint and did not wish anyone else to do so.

Yours truly,
EMILY O'BRIEN,
Post-Mistress.

The Church Social.

By GEORGE FITCH
Author of "A Good Old Wash."
Some people eat to live and some eat for pleasure, but the church social was invented for the purpose of enabling people to eat for religion.

The church social is the solid rock upon which rest the finances of the American Church. When the solicitation committee has resigned in despair and the wealthy pillars of the church have gone quietly away to avoid the pain of refusing to double their contributions the church steps bravely in and makes up the deficit. When the new church has risen as high as the spire and thumbscrews couldn't get another dollar from the flattered congregation the church rolls up its sleeves and carpets the edifice, puts in the stained glass windows and buys the organ. When times are so hard that the banks stop lending money on government bonds and strong men cry out in despair over the task of paying the grocery bill the church social bravely gathers up $113.25 and sends it to the benighted southwest of the Congo river.

A church social is easier to pull off than a riot in Ulster. All that is necessary is to gather a wagon load of fried chicken, potato salad, cold ham, veal loaf, blonde, brunette and Senebambian cake and pie in its various forms and arrange the swag tastefully in the church dining room. This is done by the women of the congregation. The men are then admitted and shortly afterward all that is left is a scene of shocking ruin and $76 in the treasurer's purse.

The secret of the church social's success is its financial system. After a man has eaten fried chicken, escalloped oysters, lambic beef, four kinds of salad, three kinds of pie and eight colors of cake he does not ask for his check and find that he owes $6.45 to the house exclusive of tips. He gives a quarter to the collector and totters home full of the proud consciousness of having eaten four meals for one price and of having done the Lord a favour at that. If the proprietor of a city hotel sold food at church social rates he would yell for a receiver in three days. Yet churches are growing greater and grander from the profits of church socials while hotels struggle along in sordid poverty and have to steal the hats of their customers and charge 25 cents for returning them in order to make ends meet.

This country may meet misfortune and sink into the morass of debt. But so long as it has the church social it need not despair. The women of this country could pay for the Panama canal with two years of chicken suppers helped out by a quart of oysters.

The Precise Man.

"It looks like rain."
"I beg your pardon."
"I say it looks like rain."
"What does?"
"The weather."
"The weather, my dear sir, is a condition. Rain is water in the act of falling from the clouds. It is impossible that they should look alike."
"What I meant was that the sky looked like rain."
"Equally impossible. The sky is the blue vault above us—the seeming arch or dome that we call the heavens. It does not resemble falling water in the least."
"Well, then, if you are so thunderingly particular, it looks as if it would rain."
"As if what would rain?"
"The weather, of course."
"The weather, as before stated being a condition, cannot rain."
"The clouds, then, confound you! I may not know as much about it as you do, but I've got enough sense to get in out of it, and you haven't," said the man, as he raised his umbrella and walked away in a huff.

Five Minute Cure If Stomach Is Bad

When "Pape's Diapepsin" reaches stomach all Indigestion, Gas and Sourness Disappears.

You don't want a slow remedy when your stomach is bad—or an uncertain one—or a harmful one—your stomach is too valuable; you must injure it with drastic drugs.

Pape's Diapepsin is noted for its speed in giving relief; its harmlessness; its certain unfailing action in regulating sick, sour, gassy stomachs. Its millions of cures in indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis and other stomach trouble has made it famous the world over.

Keep this perfect stomach doctor in your home—keep it handy—get a large fifty-cent case from any drug store and then if anyone should eat something which doesn't agree with them; if what they eat lays like lead, ferments and sours and forms gas; causes headache, dizziness and nausea; eructations of acid and indigestible food—remember as soon as Pape's Diapepsin comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. Its promptness, certainty and ease in overcoming the worst stomach disorders is a revelation to those who try it.

Fashions and Fads.

Fur trims the new neckwear. Hats have bands of fur and fur crowns.

Lace dresses are much in favour as ball gowns. The transparent tunic is exceedingly popular.

Velvet bodices have long, loose-fitting sleeves. The most fashionable "sports" coat is very English.

In lingerie the fish-tailed nightgown is entirely new. Mole heads the list of furs in the fashions of the moment.

In the new silhouette the greatest width is at the hips. Gunmetal-colored gloves with white stitching are new.

There are ribbed-laced shoes with gold cloth and satin uppers. A novel pompon for the slippers is made of woolen velour or velour de laine.

There is a back-to-nature trend in the shaping of the new corsets. Some of the new velvet sleeves have cuffs extending to the elbow.

The Turkish crescent is woven into the mesh of the newest veils. The butterfly is poised everywhere on hats, gowns and shoes.

Suits and gowns of velvet are more than ever fashionable this season. For the woman of mature years the long coat of velvet is in very good style.

The flower worn at the waist is a fashion much favored for afternoon wear.

For blouses all-over lazes, especially in shadow patterns, are in favor. The fashion of the corset slipper has been steadily gaining in favor.

There are gowns that intimate that history may repeat itself in the bustle.

Antique buckles and buttons are eagerly sought for by women of fashion.

Very beautiful are the blouses made of panne velvet, chieen, lace and fur. Every woman has the privilege of cutting the length of her coat to suit her figure.

Full capes of velvet like those of the second empire are gradually coming into favor.

A charming device for the freshening of last year's serge frock is the use of plaid silk.

Fashion being elastic, the short sleeve is in fashion almost as much as its longer sister.

Tanics of sheerest lace are bordered with skunk, mink and marten in finger widths.
