NAVAL BATTLE IN BLACK SEA.

PETROGRAD, Nov. 19. The following official statement was given out to-day by the Russian Minister of Marine, regarding a naval battle in the Black Sea, between the Russian and Turkish fleets, on Nov. 18th. A division of the Black Sea fleet, returning from a cruise to Sebastopol near the coast of Anatolia, sighted a Turkish detachment consisting of the Goeben and Breslau, fleet immediately drew up in battle order bringing the enemy to starboard open fire at a distance of five miles. The first salvo of 12 inch Sebastopol near the coast of Anatolia, Evstfry struck the Goeben and caused an explosion amidships, setting her on fire. The other Russian ships opened fire. The Russian guns giving a good account of themselves. A series of explosions occurred in the hull of the Goeben, which opened fire slowly. The enemy seemed not to have expected to meet us. The Germans fired salvos from their heavy guns, directing them exclusively at the flagship. The encounter continued 14 minutes, after which the Goeben withdrew and disappeared in the fog, taking advantage of her speed. The Breslau took no part in the fight holding herself on the horizon. The Ivestaf suffered only insignificant damage. The Russian losses are a lieutenant and 19 sailors killed, and 5 sailors wounded.

DRIVEN FROM ENTRENCHMENTS.

LONDON, Nov. 20. The Official Press Bureau has issued the following report from the General commanding the force operating on the Sbat-el-Arah River in the Persian Gulf: On Nov. 17, our troops drove out of entrenched positions about 4,500 of the enemy, capturing two guns, many prisoners, camp equipment and ammunition. Our casualties are, 3 officers killed, 15 wounded; rank and file, 35 men killed, 300 wounded.

NOTHING TO REPORT.

PARIS, Nov. 20.—(Official.) Yesterday was particularly calm. There is nothing to report.

OFFICIAL FROM BERLIN.

BERLIN, Nov. 20. The situation in West Flanders and in the north of France is unchanged. A German aviation squadron encountered some of the enemy's aviators while making a reconnoitering flight, and caused them to descend, one of them falling. One of our flying machines is missing. The German fleet has succeeded in partially closing the harbor of Libau, in Russia, through sinking ships, and also bombarded important military positions. Otherwise there is no news of importance.

GERMANS LOSE HEAVILY.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20. The Foreign Office despatches to the French Embassy here yesterday, referred to the great loss of life inflicted on the enemy by the Allied troops, and spoke of the success of the French scouting parties in securing information of German troop movements. The despatches duplicated the war office communications with the following additions: Supplementary information received here reveals the fact that after three days, fighting resulted particularly disastrous for our adversaries as regards the execution rendered by the allies in repulsing the attacks. To the east of Ypres the Germans left more than 1,200 dead in a space of ground of not more than five or six hundred metres. In the vicinity of Saint Mihiel, after having made successful advances, our troops withstood the shock of the reinforcements of the enemy, holding all the points previously taken. The Germans blew up the garrison of Chauvencourt, with a mine. We had partially captured this town, and, resuming, we were able to force the enemy's lines back upon other troops operating in that region. The German press announced that a strong French attack in the region of Cleary had been repulsed. As a matter of fact we have not engaged at that point, except in reconnoitering. These reconnoitering parties fortunately have been successfully conducted, despite resistance, and have discovered the position and strength of the enemy.

Sick, Sour Stomach, Indigestion or Gas

Take "Pape's Diapepsin" and in five minutes you'll wonder what became of misery in stomach.

Wonder what upset your stomach— which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapepsin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women to-day know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.

Wedding Bells.

A very pretty wedding took place at the R. C. Cathedral, when Mr. Albert Lundrigan, son of Mr. M. Lundrigan, of Peter's River led to the altar Miss Babe Gibbons, of St. Vincent's. Very Rev. Monsignor Roche, V.G., officiated. The bride looked charming in a dress of blue silk voile with hat to match and was attended by Miss M. Power, while little Miss Molly Sutton, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Mr. V. Lundrigan, brother of the groom, acted as best man and Mr. W. Sutton was father giver. After the ceremony the happy couple drove to 148 New Gower Street where a sumptuous repast awaited them at which some 80 guests were present and did justice to the good things prepared by Miss Gatheral, former restaurant keeper, of Water Street, after which dancing, toasts and songs were kept up by the young people till the wee sma hours of the morning. The newly wedded couple are now spending a few days of their honeymoon in town, after which they will go by train to Placentia to join the Portia en route to their future home at Peter's River. We wish Mr. and Mrs. Lundrigan every happiness down the stream of life.

The S. S. Sjirstad is not yet finished discharging her coal cargo, and will not be ready to sail until to-morrow.

Shipwrecked Crew On Stephano.

Completing a stormy voyage from New York, the Red Cross Liner Stephano, last night arrived at Halifax on Monday last. Capt. Steel and five members of the crew of the tern schooner Lady of Avon, which ran on a reef near Turk's Island on the night of Oct. 22nd. The crew were stranded for nineteen days on the island before being picked up by the S. S. Algonquin which landed them at New York. The men lost all their belongings.

Three days after leaving the doomed vessel one of the crew, a Finlander, was taken ill and died a few hours afterwards. Nobody seemed to know what caused the young seaman's death, but thought it was heart failure. Deceased was looked upon as a young giant and had never seen a day's illness in his life.

Doctors and Gas Fires

In an article which recently appeared in the London "Evening News," Mr. W. G. Faulkner stated: "In making my inquiries I discovered one significant fact. This was that one company—the Gas Light and Coke Company—had among their consumers 2,500 doctors who had gas fires installed in their houses, some as many as ten or a dozen; that 1,500 of these doctors had become users of gas during the past three years; and that not one had ever given them up." Professor C. V. Boys, F.R.S., says, in the "Standard": "Sentiment and inertia are the only obstacles against the general adoption of gas fires and cooking appliances. Wonderful strides have been made, in spite of deep-rooted prejudice. A gas fire, burning with a blue, is an admirable agent for heating a room; and, as a scientist, I fail to understand how such a gas fire dries the air in a room more than any other fire."—Nov. 17, 14.

FROM "ODE ON THE DEATH OF WELLINGTON."

A people's voice! we are a people yet. Tho' all men else their nobler dreams forget,
Confused by brainless mobs and lawless Powers;
Thank Him who isled us here, and roughly set
His Briton in blown seas, and stormy showers.
We have a voice, with which to pay the debt
Of boundless love and reverence and regret
To those great men who fought, and kept it ours.
And keep it ours, O God, from brute control:
O Statesman, guard us, guard the eye, the soul
Of Europe, keep our noble England whole,
And save the one true seed of freedom sown
Betwixt a people and their ancient throne,
That sober freedom out of which there springs
Our loyal passion for our temperate kings;
For, saving that, ye help to save mankind
Till public wrong be crumbled into dust.
And drill the raw world for the march of mind,
Till crowds at length be sane and crowns be just.
—Tennyson.
