Submarine U 28 Fired on Passenger Steamer and Killed Woman and Three Men.

LONDON, To-day.

Special to Evening Telegram.

Outside the sinking of three steamers with 150 lives lost, the only events of importance in the news received during the day, were the renewal of activities by the Russian Black Sea fleet which bombarded the forts on the Bosphorus, the announcement from Petrograd that the Baltic Sea fleet has been reinforced by modern fighting units, presumably dreadnoughts which were built in Russian yards. Battles for the Carpathian passes are proceeding with ever increasing violence. The Russians are in complete possession of the Western Passes and are advancing into Hungary, but the Eastern Passes remain in the hands of the Germans and their allies, who, however, are being strongly pressed by their reinforced adversaries. The situation is unchanged in East Galicia and Bukovina. In North Poland, the Germans claim to have driven the Russians from Tauragon which they stormed. In the West warfare is without any important change in the positions of the two armies. At the request of shipowners, the British Chancellor of the Exchequer promised to submit to the Cabinet a proposal to prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquors in Britain during the war. The Paluba which was torpedoed in St. George's Channel on Sunday afternoon, carried a crew of 90 and 160 passengers. Of this total only 140 were rescued. The Captain of the Paluba, who was one of those lost, was given five minutes to get his passengers and crew into boats, but according to survivors before this was possible a torpedo was fired, striking the engine room and causing a terrible explosion. Many persons were killed and the steamer sank in ten minutes. Trawlers which happened to be in the vicinity rescued most of those who were saved. Others got away in boats which were ready for launching and which were quickly lowered when the order was given to abandon the ship. The Agullo was attacked off the Pembrokeshire coast.

The submarine which in this case was the U 28 opened fire with her guns, the shells from which killed a woman passenger, the chief engineer and two of the crew. Even after the crew had commenced to lower the boats, according to survivors, the Germans kept up their fire. Some boats were ridden with bullets. Another steamer, Amstel, 853 tons, has been blown up by a mine off Plamborough Head, but the crew were rescued.

HORRIBLE ATROCITY OF THE GERMAN PIRATES.

Torpedoed Steamer While Many Persons Were Still Aboard—One Boat Fell From Davits and Tipped Passengers and Crew into Ice Water.

CARDIFF, Wales, To-day.

One of the Falaba's passengers in telling of their experiences said that when the submarine ordered the passengers to take to the boats, the boats were lowered immediately, and the passengers were served with life-belts, but no one was allowed to take any personal effects. Then followed a horrible scene, said the passengers, some of the boats were swamped and the occupants were thrown into the sea. Several were drowned almost immediately. Hardly ten minutes after we received the order to leave ship heard a report and saw the vessel heel over. The Germans had actually fired a torpedo at her at a range of about one hundred yards, when a large number of passengers, the captain and other officers were still distinctly to be seen aboard. All passengers and officers say that the submarine fired the torpedo before all the boats were lowered and while many persons were still aboard the steamer. One officer said I was sitting in the boat which was suspended from the davits and was waiting for two women passengers when another officer shouted: Look out and then I saw bubbles, making the track of a torpedo. There was a tremendous crash, the boat fell from the davits and turned over, throwing passengers and crew into the icy water. The water was frightfully cold. There were many who died from exposure.

TURKS CONCENTRATING AT SMYRNA.

PARIS, To-day.

Operations in the Dardanelles on Monday consisted only of an intermittent bombardment of several Turkish positions with the co-operation of aeroplanes, says a despatch from Athens. The Turks are reported to have replied feebly to this fire. They are actively engaged in repairing damage done to fortifications. Large bodies of Turkish troops, it is said, are being concentrated at Smyrna, to oppose a landing by the allied forces.

ROW BETWEEN KAISER AND VON KLUCK.

LONDON, To-day.

SUBMARINES CAUGHT IN STEEL TRAPS.

LONDON, To-day.

The effectiveness of the steel submarine traps which have been put down to guard British rivers and harbours has been shown by the fact that two German submarines have been caught in the Fifth of Forth, in addition to a third which has been sunk off the coast of Hantsport, and a fourth was rammed last Wednesday disabled, captured, and towed into Leith, where the crew were taken prisoners.

The first of the submarines of very large type was caught in a net in the Fifth of Forth.

It was understood that the inspectors, engineers and divers with dredges, who succeeded in lifting the machine and towing it to a dock, when the hatches were opened and investigation showed twenty-five dead German sailors and their officers. In addition there were four Scotch fishermen. To-day the names of those men stand very high in their native land. It was apparent that the submarine was bound on a voyage of destruction and came upon men fishing. She took them prisoners and ordered them to steel their nerves up to the point where they could accomplish their mission. It has been asked: Did the fishermen, knowing of the traps, deliberately steer the submarine into one of them?

WILL SINK MERCHANTMEN WITHOUT WARNING.

AMSTERDAM, To-day.

It is understood that the German Admiralty shortly will issue an order to submarines to sink all British merchantmen without warning. The reason assigned is that merchantmen are being armed and are firing on German submarines.

THREW BOMBS ON RHEIMS.

PARIS, To-day.

The French War Office this afternoon gave out a report on the progress of fighting which reads as follows: In the Champagne District, a German aviator preferred to throw bombs on the City of Rheims and wounded two persons. One projectile fell on the apex of the cathedral. A well directed artillery fire from the French battery forced the Germans to retire in disorder from the village of Jendoucourt to the northeast of St. Michel.

Neutrality Costs Dear.

Austria Attempts to Starve Little State of Lichtenstein.

Geneva, March 24.—The little principality of Lichtenstein, with its ten thousand inhabitants, because it declared neutrality in the present war and also refused to send Austria a contingent of one thousand men when asked for, is being starved. The Landtag appealed to the Swiss government and the latter has sent several wagonloads of cereals in haste, as the population is on the verge of starvation, and relief in other forms of food is following.

Lichtenstein is one of the tiny independent states still surviving on the continent. It is embedded in the Austrian frontier, being bounded on the northeast and east by the Tyrol, on the west of the Rhine, but on the south it touches Swiss soil. Its area is only 63 square miles and the population about 10,000. It is a constitutional monarchy and is linked with Austria by the fact that its ruler is an Austrian prince. It has a parliament, no army, and no taxes, but is included in the Austrian customs union. It is a curious fact that when peace was declared between Austria and Prussia in 1866 Lichtenstein, which had sided with Austria, was forgotten, so it has ever since been technically at war with Prussia.

TREATY OF PARIS 1856. This closed the Crimean War, which had dragged along for two years. HAIR COMING OUT?

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a 25-cent bottle of Danderline at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it into the scalp. After a few applications the hair stops coming out and you can't find any dandruff.
