advantage of by them if it suited their purposes.

The fact is that there is no pleasing the Mail, or any of the Tory papers. Turn which ever way Messrs. Blake or Mackenzie will, they were blamed. Had they chosen to remain in the Local Government, they would have been accused of trickery. Having left that Government they are now assailed as traitors and cowards. Yet, nevertheless for all this outcry they have the confidence of the people, and having that, they and the party to which they belong, can afford to smile at the frantic attempts of the Mail and other Tory organs to fasten any charge of inconsistency on them.

dustries on the North Shore are year by year developed. We can see no good reason why the people of Can-ada should allow the Americans to reap all the benefit which accrues from the trade passing through their canal. And even though they were content to have it so in the future, monstrous and has not even a decent appearance of legality. No wonder that the returning officer the old canal has been found altogether insufficient for the uncreased trade, and our cousins have, with their characteristic energy, begun to build a new one, which will be ready for traffic next season. The Bulletin in urging this matter on the Government says:—

"It is admitted upon all hands that a canal on the Canada side of the straits would be much more easily constructed and would cost less money than the American canal. Not only so, but it would afford greater facilities for shipping on account of being shorter and more easily accessible from both lakes. With regard to the cost, it would be comparatively small, and would pay a satisfactory percentage in the shape of toils. During the year 1871 the toils collected were very large, and last June there were no less than $7,163, an increase of $4,280 over the previous. With such a large and apolity increasing revenue, the construction of this canal could not be attended with any great risk, besides giving Canada a position of independence which shecan never have without it. It is to be hoped the Government will no longer neglecting to make timely arrangements for the examinations for the Gilchrist Scholarship. On Friday it had to eat the leek, and confess that it made the charge on incorrect information. It was not the more control to the cost, the construction."

Still Grumbling.

The Mail is at present in a very discontented mood, which is not to be wondered at, after the many and serious reverses its party experienced at the hands of the electors in that contest. Having exhausted, its arithmetical skill in trying to figure out a large majority for the Government, and having by this means succeeded in keeping up the sinking courage of the Guvernment supporters—at least for a time—it now turns its attention to matters pertaining to the Local Legislature, and attempts to extract some little comfort from the Anticipated changes which will likely be made in the complexion of our Local Government.

The principal strength of Mr. O'Reilly was in the two townships of Haggerty and Sherwood, both set aside as free grant districts, and, from that very fact, to be presumed to be very sparsely settled. Now, in these two alone, Mr. O'Reilly received 372 votes, and Mr. McDougall not one. This is one fact. Now for some more.

Sault St. Marie Canal.

The Collingwood Bulletin has a timely article, showing the advisability and oven necessity for the immediate construction of a canal on Canadian territory at Sault St. Marie.
