THE WIND'S WORK

Cornwall Visited by a Fierce Storm—Many Buildings Wrecked.

Cornwall, Ont., Aug. 8.—Monday night, between 7 and 7:30, a severe storm passed over this town. It took a northerly direction, taking in the buildings in the outskirts of the town, blowing down a score of barns and stables and completely ruining the crops over which it passed. At the exhibition grounds the massive grand stand and roof house were carried away and deposited on the main road.

The roof of the training stables was carried away, and the round house at the Grand Trunk station was demolished. All the poles of the Bell Telephone Company on Ninth street, which were 60 feet in length, and proportionately large, were snapped off as easily as if they were chips. In all some twenty barns and stables were blown down within a radius of a mile of the town. The extent of the damage through the section north of here, over which the storm passed, has not yet been received. Several houses were struck by lightning, but no fire losses occurred.
