CONTRACTORS MUST PAY

PENALTY CLAUSE FINE

Warren People Were Long Overdue on New Pavement.

Municipal Hot-House May Be Established at Springbank.

The city will endeavor to make the Warren Paving Company pay a fine of $10 a day for one month, the time which they took to lay a block of pavement on King street after their time limit had expired. The mayor insisted at last night's meeting of the board of works that contractors should be made live up to their contracts.

The meeting was attended by all the members of committee No. 2. In respect to the delay in the construction of the King street pavement, the matter brought up by the mayor at the previous meeting when he spoke against contractors not living up to the time limit of their contract, the engineer wrote as follows:

"In regard to the pavement on King street between Maitland and William, the contractors were uniform in their opinion that the work could not be completed by the 5th of June, owing to the continuous rains in May, work only started on it on the 5th of June, the contractors brought their tools, etc., on the ground on the 4th of June, and the work was not started until the 5th of June. The work of construction of the cement curb and gutter, excavation and grading, also placing the gravel and broken stone foundation and rolling same to grade, was all done without any delay and in good time, and when everything was ready for putting on the uniform in meeting with a series of accidents to their crusher, engine and other parts of their plant, which were quite unavoidable and unforeseen, and could not be guarded against. The contractor did everything possible to supply the place of the broken machinery by telegraphing and writing to have the same sent on at once, but delays were made by their agent and office in the United States, and this was the cause of delay. They had a large gang of men idle and on pay all that time. So the delay was not caused through any neglect or procrastination on the part of the contractor."

The matter of a cab stand was laid over. It was stated that some draymen were standing on Richmond street near that York street was closed to traffic. It was agreed that this should not be allowed, and at next meeting the committee will decide what shall be done.

boys' department and act also as membership secretary. E. Eaman is a young man who has been very successful in Ottawa, and the board is anxious to secure his services. In connection with the junior work, it was decided to allow juniors into the building to 6 o'clock on Mondays, Tuesdays, and up to 8 o'clock during afternoon, except the working juniors, who are allowed two nights a week from 7 until 9 o'clock.

Membership fees will hereafter have to be paid in advance. The amount of one-third of the cost, and it is the duty of the board that members should be willing to pay this in advance, which is a more businesslike proposition.

When the building is ready for the work that is contemplated, a conversation will be held in order to give everybody an opportunity to meet the new secretary, and assistant, and the new physical director, who takes charge about Sept. 1. The members are beginning to make their appearance at the building more frequently. The membership is also growing. Secretary Hopper is planning to push the work vigorously. First in importance, he says, is the religious work, which needs attention, and much will be done in this respect. In regard to the physical department he hopes to make out a programme for the city. The junior department needs building up, and the work will be energetically pushed as soon as the season opens.
