FEARS FOR THE ISLAND

Thought That South Manitou May Disappear in Lake.

One Small Building Has Already Dropped Out of Sight.

South Haven, Mich., Oct. 81. - A letter received today from Robt. Smith, a member of the life-saving station at paper man that the experience was Sleeping Bear Point, says there is considerable anxiety felt in South Manitou Island over the fact that it is thought the island may suddenly disappear in the lake.

A few days ago the members built a small boathouse near the sta-tion. After it had been completed a short time the ground about the building began to sink, and suddenly the entire building dropped out of signa. Capt. Lafberg, in charge of the lifebuilding dropped out of sight. saving station at Sleeping Bear Point, made careful soundings, and found that where there had previously been but three feet of water it now registered over 30 feet. He has made careful soundings in and about the island, which he has forwarded to Washington, giving it as his opinion that soon the entire island will disappear.

SOUFRIERE HEARD FROM

Coffee Zone of Guatemala Devastated by Volcanic Fire.

Kingstown, St. Vincent, B. W. I., Oct. 30.-There was a :: light eruption of the Soufriere the night of Oct. 28. when, at a quarter past eight, loud groaning sounds were heard and a cloud of dark vapor was thrown out. These disturbances have continued and are causing much excitement at Georgetown, where earth tremors are continually felt. From the general appearance of the volcano another eruption of a serious nature can be expected.

The administrator of St. Vincent visited the Georgetown district Oct 26. He has advised the Governor of the Windward Islands, Sir Robert Llewellyn, that it is advisable permanently to locate the people of the disturbed part of the island at North Union, which is an appreciable distance from the volcano.

DEVASTATION IN GUATEMALA Washington, Oct. 30 .- A cablegram from Consul-General McNally reports that the eruption of the volcano at Santa Maria, adjoining Quezaltenango, continues; that the city is covered with six inches of volcanic matter; rich coffee plantations on the coast side are buried under seven feet of sand and ashes from the volcano, and that detonations from the eruption were heard in the capital. There have been frequent earthquakes, and another eruption is reported in the department of Tombador.

The entire coffee zone of Guatemala has been destroyed by flames and smoke from the volcano of Santa Maria. The eruptions threaten the destruction of every living thing within from the burning mountain, according to a cable to Castle Bros., importers, of San Francisco, Cal., received from their coffee plantations in Guate-Only given. "Last Monday," san Louis Hirsch, of Castle Bros., "I wired to our representatives there asking for news of the eruption of Maria, and is prepared to substantiate the truth last night I received in reply this cablegram: 'It is true. From the city and port a great cloud of black smoke was seen to shoot up to a great height from Isalios Peake, whence neither smoke nor fire had come for five or six months. The natives, when they saw the eruption, anticipated earthquakes and fidal waves, but within an hour the black cap on Isalios had drifted away and the volcano was again ap-

ON THE ROCKS

Boat in a Tremendous Storm Carried Out of Her Course-A Passenger's Graphic Story.

Owen Sound, Oct. 30 .- Mr. P. Macdonald Fraser, of St. Thomas, was a passenger on the C. P. R. steamer Alberta, which went on the rocks near Cabots Head on Lake Huron on Sunday morning. To the Owen Sun's representative Mr. Fraser gave a detailed account of his terrible experience. The Sun says:

into port Sunday morning about 11:30, being a little over three hours late. She had about thirty passengers on er had weathered a fearful storm, and that there were few, if any, on fate than that of a watery grave.

A representative of the Sun succeeded in securing an interview with Captain McAllister, but the company's rules and regulations are such that he is not permitted to talk. He nevertheless assured the newsa terrible one and that some damage had been sustained, including the loss of a flange. He and his first mate, Louis Pyette, had spent the greater part of the night on deck, and were thoroughly soaked from the spray enveloped the vessel for three or four hours. "Further than this, the captain could not be induced to talk, and the Sun then sought an interview with some of the passengers, and from Mr. P. Macdonald Fraser, of St. Thomas, Ont., inspector of the Northern Life Assurance Company, London, the following thrilling story of one of the most terrible experiences encountered between Sault Ste. Marie and Owen Sound were gleaned:

"Mr. Fraser is a man well up in years, and says that though he has crossed the broad Atlantic 30 times he never met with an experience at all approaching that of Saturday night and Sunday morning. They left the Soo, he said, at 11 a.m., on Saturday, and had a most enjoyable Makes Loud, Groaning Sounds and Emits Smoke. Saturday, and had a most enjoyand run down the St. Mary River, all enjoying a splendid dinner, although the wind was blowing quite a gale. As they entered Lake Huron the storm increased in violence, and the sea ran with marked rapidity. No passengers ventured out, the wind being too high and the atmosphere too cold.

A TREMENDOUS STORM. "After supper the storm increased in night it blew a perfect gale. In the dead of the night all the doors battened up, and Mr. Fraser then knew what to expect. Most of the cabin passengers had retired. The boat was heaving tremendously, indicating a terrific storm. "With a view to gaining the Georgian Bay and securing some shelter, Capt. McAllister held the staunch steamer to a full head of steam; but owing to the violence of the storm and the fact that the vessel was enveloped in a heavy spray, she undoubtedly got out of her course, and when near Cabots Head. about 28 miles from Cape Croker, between 5 and 6 o'clock Sunday morning, she STRUCK ON A ROCK. "The bumping continued for some terrifying the passengers beyond description, and few, if any, on board, ever expected to reach terra firma alive. After a few minutes a big wave, with the assistance of the screw raised her off the rocks. During her contact with the rocks she rolled incessantly and the strain which she was subjected so warped her timbers that the cabin doors could not be opened except by force."

EXCITING EXPERIENCE. side of his cabin with great force and a week ago yesterday, Oct. 23. sustained some injury about the head while all the crockery in the cabin was broken and piled on top of him. He says the rolling of the vessel when on the rocks was an experience the commission's action. never to be forgotten, and caused the passengers to give up all hope. There were scenes he did not care to dwell reach of the fumes and fire that pours on, and he verily believes that a less staunch boat, and one not fitted with water-tight compartments, have been totally destroyed. The passengers were reconciled to their meager details are fate, and all devoutly thank Providence that they escaped death.

OFFICERS WERE COOL. Mr. Fraser says Capt. McAllister, First Mate Pyette and Chief Engineer Cameron were cool and collected throughout the whole of the trying ordeal; indeed all the officers did their duty unflinchingly, and were very kind to the terrified passengers. The waves ran mountains high, and no effort was made to lower the lifboats, for the simple reason that no boat could possibly survive for even a moment in such a terrific sea. The rolling ceased entirely soon after the vessel got off the rocks, but the tremendous heaving continued until the big steamer was almost in sight of Owen Sound. The storm was accompanied by terrific thunder and lightning, but for the greater part of the time the night was pitchy dark.

He was pinned down under the fall and his lamp set fire to his clothing. He was roasted death.

BLASTING COAL.

During the two hours spent under ground by the commissioners, a thorough inspection was made. The commissioners were taken about a mile from the foot of the shaft and also went into the Clifford mine which adjoins No. 2 shaft. The arbitrators were greatly interested in the blasting of coal by the miners. The workmen were asked many questions by different members of the commission as to their age, character of work, rate of wages, etc. After the party came to the surface an inspection of the out-side buildings was made.

DATE OF CHANGE IN WAGES. Scranton, Pa., Oct. 31.-The anthracite strike commission has officially decided that if any change is made in the rate of wages of the men, it shall date from tomorrow, Nov. 1. This announcement was made by the commission through Recorder Wright the following brief statement issued by him this morning: "Voted unanimously that if the commission at the conclusion of its hearings and deliberations, makes any lence, and from that until mid- award affecting existing rates of wages, such award shall take effect from Nov. 1, 1902."

The recorder said that this resolution was adopted by the commission because it felt that it was important to make its investigations deliberately, and it left also that it might be well undue haste, to inform the operators and the miners that should the investigation and the deliberations following it warrant any change whatreduction of wages, such change should be from a certain date, so as to enable all parties to facilitate their calculations.

SAVING TIME. The action of the commission in taking this step at this time will save the commissioners a lot of time. It is known that each side of the controversy would take a determined stand on the question of when the new rate of wages, if one is made, should go into effect. The operators, in their original proposition to President Roosevelt, wanted the commission to fix the date. The miners wanted the prospective new rate to be retroactive and go into effect on the day when the Mr. Fraser was thrown against the miners returned to work, which was TODAY'S PROGRAMME. Scranton, Pa., Oct. 31. - The programme of the anthracite strike commission calls for an inspection of the Manville colliery at Green Ridge, two miles from here, and a drive through the nearby territory to view the dwellings of the mine workers. The commissioners expect to complete their inspection of this region this afternoon and to go to Wilkesbarre tomorrow morning.

The Manville mine is operated jointly by the Delaware and Hudson and the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Companies. The mine is one of the worst for miners in this territory. The veins are small, and there is barely room enough for workmen to stand This colliery was visited at the suggestion of the mine workers' representatives.

EIGHT HOURS' GOOD WORK. Scranton, Oct. 30. - Midnight. - The anthracite coal commissioners today made a tour of the extreme upper coal field and saw every step taken in the production of coal from the time it is blasted from the ground up to the point where it is sent to ma ket ready for use. GENERAL BOTHA'S STATEMENT Wounds That Follow Peace Rankle Long n Minds of the High-Spirited People.

London, Oct. 80. - Regarding the failure of the Boer mission, General Brussels, Oct. 30. — It is asserted bethe bere that Mr. Kruger has abandoned to plead a cause which should speak his irreconcilable eloquently enough for itself, we are sorely disappointed by the result. At least we have had every reason to consider that we have failed in our errand. in order to relieve itself of pressure It is assumed that we did not take from any source which might cause kindly to the loan. That supposition was gratuitous as to the shape in which material help should be given. We had neither the right nor the will ever, either in the way of increase or to pick and choose. But having seen no prospect of receiving such help we appealed for aid to all the nations of the world. That course has been sharply criticised.

IN SORE NEED. So far as we can see, all our appeals to foreigners implied was that our people were in sore need of instant relief, and that we were willing to undergo the humiliation, no trivial ordeal, of pleading for it. Memories of help withheld, despite the pressing needs and the urgent appeal for justice and generosity, are certain to live long, die hard and inflict damage out of all proportion to the seeming importance. While the painful incidents of the war, however deep the wounds they may have inflicted at the time, are forgiven, even forgotten, those stating well-known facts, not uttering a covert threat. The sum required to relieve the primary needs of South' Africa would not constitute a really irksome burden to this wealthy empire, though certainly it is more than we have yet seen any disposition to grant. The number of farms destroyed is larger by far than the people of England imagine. We ourselves who know the country and its people are reduced to estimates which, laying no claim to absolute accuracy, would require to be officially verified by some impartial commission LOYAL TO BRITAIN.

Contemporary Review has published an article by Gen. Botha, in which the writer insists upon the loyalty of the Boer leaders to Great Britain. He expresses regret that the language of some of their continental appeals has been misinterpreted, when appeals has been misinterpreted, when scanned microscopically in England, and reiterates his fervent desire to co-operate with the British Government in smoothing the effects of the ment in smoothing the effects of the war. Gen. Botha says it is humiliating to have to appeal to foreigners for funds to aid his countrymen, and that he believes if Englishmen realized the pitiable conditions of their vanquished foes there would be no need to make appeals for help. In conclusion, the writer urges a general so under the penalties prescribed i and complete amnesty which he says said Act and amendments thereto. would remove the most potent cause of estrangements between Britons and Boers.

"BETTER TO MUDDLE ON."

Rather Than Have Lines Controlled by by Americans.

London, Oct. 31. - The Globe, commenting on the tube railroad debate in the House of Commons, says:

"Last night's proceedings were melancholy foretaste of what we are to expect under the rule of American capitalism. The real sting consists in the fact that American syndicates should have been allowed to fight over the body of the London citizen."

The paper attributes the present condition of affairs to the apathy of the British investor, but declares it is better to muddle on, overcrowded and hadly served as we are, than to place our means of locomotion in the hands of trans-Atlantic railway jobbers."
In conclusion, the Globe urges the Government to control the "tubes."
