Col. Leys.

Col. Leys was greeted with loud applause on coming forward to speak. He stated that he felt somewhat timid in addressing a meeting after the eloquent speech of Mr. Beck Monday night. (Laughter.) He read the fol-lowing glowing account from the Free The mayor was in his best form last night, and that means that his speech was well worth listening As a matter of fact the vigor and fire and effectiveness of his oratorical powers are a constant source of pleasurable surprise to his hosts of friends." "Imagine," said the speaker, "a Demosthenes reincarnated into a Beck! (Laughter.) Continuing, he read: "In denouncing the electoral crimes and Advertiser and The Advertiser's candidate, Mr. Beck's voice rang with indignation and scorn. Again he pro-voked the audience to laughter by his apt exposures of the ludicrous attitude which Col. Leys finds himself.' "Rang with indignation and scorn! And this is the man, gentlemen, who employs the notorious Bill Peel as his chief henchman in his own ward! Well, gentlemen, I find myself in an declared the statement to be absolutely false. He also referred to an asination last Thursday. That, too, he said, was a deliberate lie. Mr. Beck in his speeches had been telling that no credit was due Col. Leys for the presence of the London Normal School It had been proposed to locate the third normal school at Woodstock, but owing to the persistent efforts of the speaker, the government decided to choose London as the site for the new building, so that now the city was the icher by an institution which was bringing in from $80,000 to $100,000 a year. Had Mr. Beck been elected at last election, the Normal School would have been in Woodstock instead of here. The Conservative candidate also denied any share of credit to Col. Leys for the new infirmary at the London asylum. Had it not been for the solicitude of the colonel for his constituency, that too would have been lost to the city, as it had been proposed to increase the hospital accommodation in connection with the Toronto asylum. "I have not," said the speaker, "turned out your sisters and daughters and imported American nurses as Mr. Beck has done in connection with the general hospital of this city." (Loud cheers.) Mr. Beck claimed to be a great Where friend of the workingmen. was he three years ago when the workingmen were in trouble? they were undergoing difficulties.

"Mr. Beck says the government is not to take any credit to itself for its sawlog policy. Regarding that policy, he says that Sir William Meredith laid the egg and Mr. Whitney hatched it." colonel referred to a sawmill located at Parry Sound in which he himself was directly interested. This mill was in Michigan, but had been moved to Ontario where it is now cutting the logs in this province and giving employment to several hundred of our Mention was made of several other mills, which were formerly in the State of Michigan, but are now in dians, all owing to the policy of the government, which requires the logs Ontario, giving employment to Canaof Ontario to be cut into lumber on

The Reform Government for the past 20 years had been an honest and a dollars had been spent, and not one tillers' licenses and succession taxes, over two millions seven hundred thousand dollars had been realized, not a dollar of which would have gone into the government coffers if Mr. Whitney had had his way. The government had devoted large sums of this to educational and charitable and other public uses. In conclusion, Col. Leys referred to his success in removing the Cashmere dam. He stated that within two years the river would be as full of fish as it was 40 years ago. Mr. Beck had even depreciated his services to the people in this respect. The Conservative candidate was not willing that anyone else should receive any credit but

The speaker stated that if elected he would fight for the city of London and strive to maintain her interests in George C. Gibbons.

Mr. George C. Gibbons, president of the London Liberal Association, in addressing the meeting, stated that it did not require much talk to convince the people that they had a good govwhere. Referring to the action of the Free Press in giving publicity to Mr. Beck's picture, the speaker said that probably the Liberal candidate was at a disadvantage in not having his taken. The Conservative candidate seemed to be doing little else these days. Mr. Beck's pictures called to the speaker's mind the following incident:

A jovial farmer had entered a railway train and seating himself beside a pompous stranger, tried to strike up a conversation. "I believe I have met you before," said the farmer. His companion made no reply, but continued to look out of the car window. "Your face is familiar," insisted the son of toil. "Yes, perhaps you have seen my picture," said the dignified stranger at last. "It has frequently appeared in the newspapers." After a few moments the farmer turned to him and requested that he be permitted to ask one more question. "What is it?" said his friend. "What "What have you been cured of?" The speaker predicted that on Thursday night Mr. Beck's pictures would mean a case of

Col. Leys has been your member for the past four years, Mr. Gibbons continued and you have had the Ross Government, against which no charge of maladministration has been pre-ferred and no scandal has been urged.

one should get 30 days.

Referring to the ballot box frauds,
Mr. Gibbons stated that no one took a stronger stand for purity in elections than himself. He would give $200 out of his own pocket for the conviction of anyone tampering with the ballots. The matter of safeguarding the right to vote is one in which both parties should heartily join.

Some Liberals and some Conservatives were going to vote for the prohibition candidate. The Liberal who would vote for Mr. Daly would be committing folly, for it would mean a vote taken from Col. Leys and consequently against the Government. Prohibition was not an issue in the present election. An opportunity would be given to vote on prohibition at the proper time. The only hope of the Conservatives was to have the Liberals vote for Mr. Daly, because every Liberal vote cast for Mr. Daly meant one taken from Col. Leys. Referring to the personal qualities of the Liberal candidate, Mr. Gibbons spoke of him as always willing to perform a favor for anyone. ready to serve you to the best of his ability. To Your Nerves

If You Hava These Symptom Your Nerves Are Weak and Exhausted-You Can Get Well by Using

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

Nervous diseases are little understood. They have long been enshrouded in more or less mystery by the medical profession. Many who are fast falling victims of nervous prostration, paralysis, or locomotor ataxia think that they are merely not very well, and will soon be around againso insidious is the approach of neryous diseases and nervous collapse. Study these symptoms. They are or your guidance. You may not have them all, but if you have any of them your nervous system is not up to the mark, and a little extra expenditure of nerve force may bring the dreadful Intolerant of motion, noise and light twitching of the muscles of the face, and eyelids; fatiguing sleep, sudden startings and jerkings of the limbs; dizziness and flashes of light before the eyes; irritability and restlessness in every part of the body, headache, indigestion, feelings of weariness and depression, and loss of interest in the affairs of life.

So long as the daily expenditure of nerve force is greater than the daily income, physical bankruptcy is certain to result sooner or later. Nerve force must be increased, and this can best be accomplished by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, because it contains in concentrated form the very elements of nature which go directly to form nervous energy. Nervous diseases do not right themselves. They come on gradually as nerve force be comes exhausted, and can only be cured when the nerve force is restored. No treatment for nervous diseases has ever received such universal dorsement by both physicians and people as has Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Mrs. Crapper, 37 Salem avenue, Toronto. says:

"For the last two years I have been great sufferer from paralysis of the right side, which has confined me to the house. On recommendation of friends, I began the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and can say that this treatment has proven of very great benefit to me. I realize that my ail-ment will not disappear in a few weeks, but I have improved so much already that I believe a continuation of this medicine will entirely cure me." In the press of Canada you will find hundreds of earnest letters telling of the wonderful benefits derived from Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50c a box, 6 boxes for $2 50, at all dealers, or Ed-

A little over three weeks ago Miss Lake left the Soo to continue her journey to Rossland. She arrived in Rossland on Sunday night and immediately inquired for Graham. Not finding him, she followed his instructions and went to the rooms engaged for her in the Bigelow House. The next day, after vainly waiting for Graham to put in an appearance, she went to the postoffice and made inquiries for his address. Then she learned that the postoffice authorities knew no such man as Wm. Graham, but that letters which came for him were received by one W. B. B.

Collins. Then the whole miserable truth came out. No such man as Wilfrid Graham existed. Collins was the man she had met in England. Collins was a man with a wife and six children, a prominent officer of the leading church in Rossland. Collins had been to England on a business trip, and met her and fooled her, and when he got back home kept up the heartless deception. Collins was immediately arrested.

It was real King's weather in Windso on Monday, and it is estimated that there were 20,000 persons on the streets, many of them from Detroit, to see the last pageant of the celebration of Vic-toria Day. The Kilties were white tunics, and these looked even more conspicuous than their coats of Sunday. Their marching was a revelation to the people of Windsor and vicinity, and their ex-cellence in this respect caused frequent outbursts of applause. The Highlanders' brass and reed band and its old Scotch marches were the center of it all. Windsor never before saw the like of the crowds on its streets. People of every nationality were standing three and four eep along the main streets and on many of the back avenues where the soldiers paraded. Besides the military move-ments, exhibitions of automobile racing against time, horse racing and tug-of-war between members of the 21st (Essex) Regiment and the Highlanders, were on the programme. The celebration closed in the evening with a display of fireworks and a concert by the band of the 21st Regiment on Ouellette Square.
