A PROGRESSIVE SCHOOL

An enthusiastic and well-attended meeting of the Wellington Street Methodist Sunday school was held last evening. Rev. Mr. Livingston, the pastor, presided, and a number of the teachers were present. Tributes were paid to the efficiency of Mr. William Jeffrey, who has been superintendent of the school for the last seventeen years, and he was reappointed to that Board of Education Makes a meeting would be held later to appoint a committee in connection with the project of building a bigger schoolroom the present one being crowded with its average attendance of 400. Mr. Jeffrey announced that he would speak on Frilay afternoons, in future, to the Metholist students who are in attendance at the Normal School. The election of other officers resulted as follows: Assistant superintendent, Mr. W. J. Halladay; secretary, Mr. Joseph Merritt; treasurer, Mr. Robert Gray.

On two or three occasions within the last two years, Mrs. Bell left her husband's home and lived in Detroit for a time. She would return within the course of a few weeks, and Bell, who had a sincere regard for the woman, would take her back. However, he finally tired of her waywardness and cast her off entirely. She then went to Detroit, where, it is alleged, she lived with Common. Last April Bell had Common and the woman arrested in Detroit on a serious charge, but the matter was dropped.

Mrs. Bell later commenced proceedings for a divorce, but the case was with drawn. Her sister then had Bell arrested in Detroit for slander. Grant To It—Record Month at Collegiate.

A very praiseworthy step was taken at last night's meeting of the board of education, when that body made a decisive step towards aiding the Collegiate Institute Cadets, an organization which has been defunct for the past year. Without a word of opposition a substantial sum of money was voted to the corps, and it seems assured that the latter will now be able to attain a far better position than it did before its twelve months' slumber The meeting was, otherwise, unmarked by anything of interest, although considerable routine business was trans-

FEEDING A DOCTOR

His Body Changed by a Change in

A convincing bit of testimony to show what a simple change of food can sometimes do to end apparently incurable disease is told in the following article by a Chicago physician: "The case is my own. I had been suffering for more than 25 years with nervous dyspepsia, insomnia, occasional kidney trouble and general disturbance of my whole system. My appetite was affected and so I lost weight and strength, but most serious of all was the gradual failure of my memory. proving that my brain and nerves were not getting the proper food any mose than the rest of my body.
