Conan Doyle Appeals to the British People to Attend the Olympic Games.

London, July 18 .- London honored the Olympic games today with an immense crowd for the first time since the beginning of the fourth international Olympiad.

Doyle today published a letter appealing for a greater attendance, and 50,-000 people watched the games, half of whom stood in the rain for two allowed Matthew P. Halpin, manager

There was tumultuous cheering durng the greater part of the 100-kilometre (practically 63 miles) bicycle race, which lasted two and three-quarter hours. It was a battle between France and Britain, the latter winning. A dozen punctured tires figured considerably in the excitement and result.

The other events also furnished much enthusiasm and cheers. Five times was the British flag raised on the stadium victory pole, twice for the bicycle events, once for a swimming contest, once for the five-mile of his father's death. The only two other events decided, the discus throwing, Greek style, and the fancy diving, went to America and Germany respectively, but America accomplished two things today of which its supporters are extremely proud. In the first place, Martin J. Sheridan, of the Irish-American Athletic Club, broke all previous records with the discus at this style of throwing, making a distance of 128 feet & inches, ing throw of 122 feet 51/2 inches. The other acomplishment of which all the athletes are talking was the success of J. L. Eisele, of the New York Athletic Club, in getting third place in the 3 .-200-metre steeplechase.
