Inhalation is the only system which will cure these diseases, and yet the treatment of the two are entirely different. In the one we must allay the irritation, while in the other we must stimulate a healthy a tion.

This will convince us of the necessity of fully understanding the system of Medicated Inalation in the treatment of the various diseases of the pulmonary organs, for when properly applied there is no system of medicine to be compared to it.

Those who desire treatment should spend no time in writing; if you can come to the listitute this month or this week it may be of the greatest possible value to you; it may be the turning point of your disease for fatality or recovery. A RUSH OF CREDITORS. To Secure Tremseives in the Unic of au Insolvent—The Want of a Bank-raptcy Law—The Failure of W. Bull &

As an instance of the need of a bankruptey law to secure a fair distribution of the assets of a insolvent, the case of Wm. Bull & Company is a case in point. This firm conducted a large general store in Welland, Merritten and Thorold. On the 4th of this month they were indebted to Toronto firms to the extent of between seventy and eighty thousand dollars, the principal claimants being W. J. McMaster & Co., $17,000, Caldecott, Burton & Co., $7000, Hughes Bros. $7000, D. Arnott & Co., $5000, and Peter Ryan, $10,000. Most of the paper matured on the 4th of August and Bull & Co. managed to raise some funds wolseley, with the authority of the khedive, has issued a proclamation to the people of Egypt, representing that the sole object of the British is to restore the authority of the khedive, and it says that all which were warehoused, and the endorsement of a friend. The paher creditors heard there was a general rush to serve this and there was a general rush to serve write on Bull & Co. on Monday, the 7th instant, but the firm could be found nowhere. On Tuesday, however, of this week they turned up in Toronto—how they were produced is still a question—and they made an assignment of their whole estate to E. R.

C. Clarkson for the benefit of all their creditors. Prior to this the rush of the credi-tors to and fro, looking for the desolvents, was marvellous to beheld. The only happy ene was Peter Ryan, for he was secure. Patrick Hughes was just a little excited, as his notes had not matured and it seemed as if the others would all get ahead of him, but the general assignment has put all on an equal footing, with the exception of Mr. Ryan, who comes first. Had it not been for Mr. Hughes' activity it is doubtful whether the general assignment would have been made. But that gentleman came across Mr. Bull on Saturday night at the Albion hotel, after the whole band of creditors had searched the town in vain for him, and he persuaded him to treat all alike. The other creditors expressed their gratitude to Mr. Hughes for his magnanimity in the premises. It is thought the estate will pay a very fair percentage of the debts, as the firm has good assets and bad a high reputation among the trade. As one mer-chant put it, Bull & Co. was a firm that everybody wanted to sell goods to.

The Finding of Moses.

From the Recollections of a Dublin Man.
On Egypt's banks, contagious to the Nile,
Great Phareah's daughter went to bathe in style;
And as she ran about to dry her royal skin,
She kicked the bulrush that had little Moses in.
At that event surprised, awhile she stud,
In silence gasing on the sacred flud;
Then turning to her maids, shesaid in secesses mild,
Blood an ages, girls, which of yez owns the child?

They must last till Tuesday eve;
