Our Own Solomon Housecleaning.

My son, consider now the woman that cleanseth house.

She ariseth in the morning and her husband vieweth her with alarm for she girdeth her hair in a knot like unto a doughnut.

And she attireth herself in a skirt that hath neither front nor back, but looketh like unto a piano cover.

And she putteth on a waist which she hath cherished even from the days when they were big sleeves.

And she putteth upon her feet shoes like unto them that are worn by the ministrels.

And she sayeth unto her husband:
"Verily this house is a fright, and I am going to put things to rights."

And her husband layeth down the paper, for the murder news cannot thrill him, neither doth he care for presidential booms.

For he knoweth that nothing can happen out in the big world like unto what will happen unto his house this day.

And he goeth away unto his business and cometh not home until it is evening; yea, until it is dark.

And he findeth a colored man even then beating rugs in the side yard with his gold sticks, the which have been broken one by one.

And his cigar jar hath been emptied of cigars and made to hold tacks.

And they have taken his sweater to wash windows with.

And there is nothing in the house to eat.

Save what was left from yesterday, and it is hidden beneath fourteen flatirons and half a box of laundry soap in the bath.

And the wife of his bosom hath soot on her nose and fire in her eyes, and she looketh like unto the breaking up of a hard winter.

And she bursteth into tears because he doth not kiss her and call her an angel.

And she maketh him work half the night carrying things into the house.

So that he spraineth his back lifting the piano and smasheth his thumb between the wall and a bookshelf, and falleth over against the staircase when he taketh an armful of chairs up stairs, and sprains his wrist.

And she sayeth that if he talks to her that way again she will go home to her mother.

Is it not so, even as we have whacked it from the typewriter with the sway-backed space bar?—Chicago Post.

Sarnia Front St. merchants have con-innovation.

The following fish story from Alvinston is not too bad for a late season: Mr. Ed.
Evans caught one of the largest fish one day last week ever pulled out of the Sydenham lbs. This splendid specimen of the finny tribe was caught near Mr. Brownlee's farm.

It was sold to two local men for $1.50.

In the island of Malta two ignorant women, nicknamed "The Fly" and "The Magpie," respectively, invited, a decade ago investments of some 600 per cent. per annum. It was computed that as much as $1,200,000 was lodged with them, and they stowed the money away in petroleum tins, soap boxes and flower pots, and diminished it by the interest, which was met for some time. The swindle was never thoroughly cleared up.

THE CRICK IN THE BACK.—"One touch of nature makes the whole world kin," sings the poet. But what about the touch of rheumatism and lumbago, which is so common? There is no poetry in that touch, for it renders life miserable. Yet how delighted is the sense of relief when an application of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil drives pain away. There is nothing equals it.

Chance for Bachelors.

Montreal, May 20.—Among the first and second class passengers landed this week at Montreal were quite a number of young ladies, who, in groups, were bound for the North West. It may be remembered that some years ago Miss Flora Shaw, the special correspondent of The London Times, who was commissioned to write a series of articles descriptive of the life of Great Britain's colonies, recommended, with respect to our North-West, that the chief need was the refining influence of educated women.

"We have an over abundance of women in the old country," Miss Shaw remarked, women of education and refinement, and these are the sort of women who should go to the North-West to keep house, in the first instance, for her brother, and in the second to become the wife of some man who lives alone and who needs, as the whole North-West needs, a delicate touch of a woman, especially a gentlewoman."

The hint has been taken, and numbers of such women have come out. The party which went forward this week numbered twenty. They were nominally in charge of a middle-aged lady who acted as a chaperon although they appeared quite self contained and seemed to need very little protection.

Accidents With Lamps.

If a lamp should be overturned, don't attempt to put out the flames with water, any of which will have the desired effect.

DELIBERATE CASE OF GRAVE-ROBBING

Remarkable Experience of Well-known Forest Citizen Vouched for by Baptist Minister and Local Druggist.

(From Forest Free Press.)

Forest, May 2nd, 1907.—The following facts, vouched for by the Rev. C. E. Burrell, Baptist minister, and Ralph E. Scott, the well-known local druggist, is incontrovertible evidence that even when physicians have abandoned hope, there is still a way whereby the grave may be cheated of its prayer.

John A. Galbraith is a well-to-do farmer, living in Plympton Township, about five miles from Forest. He is 5 feet 9 inches in height, and about 45 years of age. He enjoyed good health until early in 1906, when he had a severe attack of pleuro-pneumonia, which apparently broke up his whole system. In speaking of the case to the Forest Free Press, he said:

"I did not seem able to gain any strength after the attack of pneumonia.
One doctor said that tuberculosis had developed, that I could not recover, and advised me to settle all affairs as quickly as possible. This was the condition I was in when my pastor, Rev. C. E. Burrell, of the Baptist Church, advised me to try Psychine, and procured for me a trial bottle. This was in May, 1906, and at that time I was reduced in weight to 120 pounds. The Psychine seemed to do good from the start, and I continued until I had used about $15 worth from Scott's Drug Store, Forest. I gained in weight until I went to 150 pounds, steadily regaining my strength and feeling better.

I actually had to have my clothes enlarged, not through any complacency, but owing to a putting on of good solid flesh all over. I have resumed my work and have gone through this severe and sickly winter with nothing worse than an attack of grip, which my system was able to throw off without any serious results.

"I give this statement for the purpose of showing how Psychine has probably saved my life, and in the hope that others may be likewise benefited by its use.

"J. A. GALBRAITH."

"Mr. J. A. Galbraith is a prominent member of my church, trusted by his neighbors and very highly respected throughout the entire community. His case has attracted very considerable attention. He was a pitiable case, indeed, in the prime of life and with the brightest of prospects to be suddenly stricken down by the malice of it all. Visiting him after his physicians had pronounced his case hopeless (and, indeed, set the date at about a week he would likely pass away), and observing pretty closely his condition, it occurred to me that Psychine, which I had used in my own family with wonderful results, might benefit him. I strongly recommended it to him, and he began its use. The result was truly wonderful.
Almost immediately he began to improve and soon was able to be out again. He apparently regained his old health and was able to take up once again his old duties on his large farm and to perform them with comparative ease and comfort. The improvement was permanent, and he is today apparently just as well as ever. He gives all the credit for his recovery, under God, to Psychine.

"C. E. BURRELL,
Baptist Pastor."

"I have read the statements made by Mr. J. A. Galbraith and Rev. C. E.
Burrell regarding the results of the use of Psychine. I know both gentlemen personally and can heartily endorse all that they have said. Mr. Galbraith obtained his supply of Psychine at my drug store, saying from time to time that it had done him good. I took an interest in his case, and noted a steady improvement. Altogether I sold him about $15.00 worth. Psychine is living a big run here, and so far as I know is always used with beneficial results.

"RALPH E. SCOTT.
