HARPER'S MAGAZINE.

Notices of the Press.

There are few intelligent American families in which Harper's Magazine would not be an appreciated and highly welcome guest. There is no monthly Magazine an intelligent reading family can less afford to be without. Many Magazines are accumulated, Harper's is edited. There is not a Magazine that is printed which shows more intelligent pains expended on its articles and mechanical execution. There is not a cheaper Magazine published. There is not, confessedly, a more popular Magazine in the world.—New England Homestead.

A repository of biography and history, literature, science and art, unequalled by any other American publication. The volumes are as valuable as a mere work of reference as any cyclopaedia we can find in our libraries. HARPER'S MAGAZINE is a record of travel every where since the hour of its establishment. Livingston and Gordon Cunningham in Africa, Stram among the Andes and Ross Brown in the East, Speke on the Nile and Macgregor on the Jordan—indeed, all recent travellers of note have seen their most important discoveries reproduced in these pages. Most of our younger and many of our older writers find here their literary biography.

NEW NATIONAL MAGAZINE FOR CANADA. Prospectus of the CANADIAN MONTHLY AND NATIONAL REVIEW.

A feeling has long prevailed that the intellectual life of the Canadian nation ought to have some organ in the form of a good periodical. Attempts have been made to give it such an organ, but hitherto they have not been successful.

In some measures they may have been premature, but it is believed that their failure was mainly due to the want of a sufficiently strong and well-organized staff of writers, and of a fund sufficient to guarantee to contributors the fair remuneration, without which, as multiplied experience proves, a periodical cannot be successfully carried on.

These requisites have now been effectually secured. The literary aid and materials requisite for the support of a first-class magazine will be sought, without restriction, from all quarters—Canadian, British, and Foreign. But it is intended that the Magazine shall be a special Canadian character, such as, it is hoped, will enlist Canadian patriotism in its support.

Religious questions, if they form the subject of any article, will be treated with a similar aim. Mr. GOLDWIN SMITH has consented both to contribute regularly, and to assist in conducting the Magazine. Intending subscribers will please send us their names. ADAM, STEVENSON & CO., Publishers, Toronto.

CLUB RATES: To parties wishing to secure a really excellent Monthly Periodical, of national value and interest, the Publishers offer the following advantageous terms for Clubs—Cash in advance. THE "NEW YORK TRIBUNE," FOR 1872.

The consolidation of Italy, so long fragmentary and impotent, into one powerful State, with Rome as its capital, the humiliation of France through a series of crushing defeats ending with the siege and capitulation of her proud and gay metropolis; the ex-clusion of the Bourbons from the Spanish throne and the substitution for them of a more liberal and energetic royal house; the virtual absorption of the Kingdoms of Saxony, Wurtemberg, Bavaria, and Baden, Hesse, the Prussian States, and the leadership of Prussia, into the triumphant and powerful empire of Germany; and the arming of Russia to reassert her preponderance in the councils of Europe, or to prosecute her often postponed, but never relinquished, designs on the great city founded by Constantine, and the vast but decaying and anarchical dominion of the Sultan, all combine to invest with profound interest the ever changing phases of the Old World. The Tribune, through trusted correspondents stationed at all points in Europe whose great movements are in progress or imminent, aims to present a complete and instructive panorama of events on that continent, and to mirror the prolonged struggle between middle-age bound up at the close of the year. While other and Nineteenth Century skepticism and secularism on the other. Recognizing a Divine Providence in all that proceeds and is, it looks hopefully on the conflict as destined (like our own recent convulsion) to be a purgation of the earth, and a preparation for a fairer and happier future for the toiling masses of mankind.

In our own country, a war upon corruption and rascality in office has been inaugurated in our city, whereby the Government of our State has been revolutionized through an initial triumph of Reform. The right of every man to his equal rights and privileges is now a reality. It is now certain that the movement thus inaugurated cannot, in its progress, be circumscribed to any locality or any party, but that its purifying influence is destined to be felt in every part of the Union, and may fairly invoke thereon the sternest and most energetic support of every citizen. To this beneficent and vitally needed reform, THE TRIBUNE will devote its best energies, regardless of personal interests or considerations of expediency. It will choose of honest and faithful men to office in all New Departures the most essential and auspicious.

The virtual surrender by the Democratic party of its hostility to Equal Rights regardless of Colour has divested our current politics of half their interest, and has clearly shown that the fundamental principles which have hitherto honorably distinguished the Republicans are henceforth to be regarded as practically accepted by the whole country. The right of every man to his equal rights and privileges is now a reality. It is now certain that the movement thus inaugurated cannot, in its progress, be circumscribed to any locality or any party, but that its purifying influence is destined to be felt in every part of the Union, and may fairly invoke thereon the sternest and most energetic support of every citizen. To this beneficent and vitally needed reform, THE TRIBUNE will devote its best energies, regardless of personal interests or considerations of expediency. It will choose of honest and faithful men to office in all New Departures the most essential and auspicious.

The labor of getting THE ALDINE ready on the press is so great that reprinting is out of the question. With the exception of a small number specially reserved for binding, the edition of 1871 is already exhausted and it is now a scarce as well as valuable book.

New Features for 1872.—Art Department. The enthusiastic support so readily accorded to their enterprise, which has been introduced by the publishers of THE ALDINE of the soundness of their theory that the American public would recognize and heartily support any sincere effort to elevate the tone and standing of illustrated publications. That so many weekly papers should have been introduced into the market is no mark for anything better—indeed the success of THE ALDINE from the start is direct proof of the contrary. With a population so vast, and of such varied taste, a publisher can choose his patrons and his paper is rather indicative of his own than of the taste of the country. As a guarantee of the excellence of this department, the publishers would beg to announce during the coming year, specimens from the following eminent American Artists.

W. T. HUGHES, W. HART, H. H. HARRIS, GRONRO SMILBY, AUG. WILL, JAMES SMILBY, FRANK BRAND, J. HOWE, GRAY PERKINS, P. O. DARLEY, VICTOR NEILL, WM. H. WILCOX, JAMES H. BRAND, R. E. PIGOTT, PAUL DIXON, J. HOWE.

The pictures are being reproduced without regard to expense by the very best engravers in the country, and will bear the very severest critical comparison with the best foreign work, it being the determination of the publishers that THE ALDINE shall be a successful vindication of American taste in competition with any existing publication in the world.

Where so much attention is paid to illustration and not up of the work, to much dependence on appearances may very naturally be formed. To anticipate such misgivings, is only necessary to state that the illustrations of THE ALDINE have been entrusted to Mr. Richard Henry Stoddard, who has received assurances of assistance from a host of the most popular writers and poets of the country.

PROSPECTUS FOR 1872. Fifth Year. REPRESENTATIVE AND CHAMPION OF AMERICAN ART.

THE ALDINE: AN ILLUSTRATED MONTHLY JOURNAL claimed to be the HANDSOMEST PAPER IN THE WORLD.

"Give my love to the artist workman of THE ALDINE who are striving to make their profession worthy of admiration for beauty, as it has always been for usefulness."—Henry Ward Beecher.

THE ALDINE, while issued with all the regularity, has none of the temporary or timely interest characteristic of ordinary periodicals. It is an elegant miscellany of pure, light, and graceful literature, selected with the most judicious and discriminating, of artistic skill, in black and white. Although each succeeding number affords a fresh pleasure to its friends, the real value and beauty of THE ALDINE will be most appreciated after it has been bound up at the close of the year. While other publications may claim superior cheapness as compared with a similar class, THE ALDINE is a unique and original conception—above and unapproached—absolutely without competition or in price or character. The possessor of the volume just completed cannot duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost.

The labor of getting THE ALDINE ready on the press is so great that reprinting is out of the question. With the exception of a small number specially reserved for binding, the edition of 1871 is already exhausted and it is now a scarce as well as valuable book.

"THE GAZETTE." 1872.

The publishers of THE GAZETTE gratefully acknowledge the support which has been extended to them for the last eighteen months during which they have conducted the paper. When they assumed the proprietorship, the question to be solved was whether, in this Province of Quebec, where the overwhelming majority of the people speak a different language, it was possible to give attention to the publication of a newspaper in the highest and best sense of the word. There was not wanting those who expressed grave doubts upon the subject; but, with the simple conviction that the leading commercial metropolis of the Dominion ought to enjoy the circulation of a newspaper, the venture was made. How far THE GAZETTE has realized the public ideal of a newspaper, the public itself must be the judge. But if the judgment is to be guided by the measure of support accorded, the publishers have no reason to be dissatisfied with it. In circulation the GAZETTE has reached a point never before reached by any morning paper in this Province. It is to be found in the hotels, banking-houses and merchants' establishments in all the towns and cities of the Dominion, having attained, by common consent, the position of the leading journal of the Province of Quebec.

The same policy which has achieved success in the past, will be continued in the future. That policy is, so far as the editorial columns are concerned, a candid and independent discussion of all questions of the day, with a close attention to the commercial material and transactions of each day as well as of practical value to the merchant and measures as, if it does not at all times convince the judgment, will at least lighten the respect of the reader. So far as the news columns are concerned, the publication of the leading events of the day in a form as will make them accessible at a glance during the breakfast hour. And so far as the commercial columns are concerned, by such presentation of the commercial history and transactions of each day as will be of practical value to the merchant and measure as, if it does not at all times convince the judgment, will at least lighten the respect of the reader. So far as the news columns are concerned, the publication of the leading events of the day in a form as will make them accessible at a glance during the breakfast hour. And so far as the commercial columns are concerned, by such presentation of the commercial history and transactions of each day as will be of practical value to the merchant and measure as, if it does not at all times convince the judgment, will at least lighten the respect of the reader.

Regarding it as the correct, as well as the honest principle, the rates of advertising are published in the paper and are adhered to in all cases. They are as follows:—

Let insertion (nonpareil) 80 per line. Subsequent, if inserted every day 30 " " If inserted every other day 40 " " " twice a week 50 " " " once a week 60 " " 6 months (every day) 1 15 " " 1 year 3 00 " "

AN INCH SPACE IS EQUAL TO 12 LINES. Special Notice columns, 50 cent; extra. Advertisements—Wanted, Found, Lost, and others of a like character—not extending over five lines, 25 cents per insertion. Notices of Births and Deaths, 25c per insertion. Marriages, 50c.

These rates—when circulation, which in the true test, is taken into account—are lower than those of other newspapers.

THE GAZETTE is published every morning in time for the earliest mails, and is sent by post delivered in the city at $5 a year when paid strictly in advance. Or it may be obtained from Agents in all the towns and villages, to whom it is sent by express, or in the city from the carriers at 10 cents a week.

THE WEEKLY GAZETTE is published every Friday morning at $1 a year, when paid strictly in advance. It is carefully selected, and contains a full epitome of the week's news.
