

WEALTH OF ATLANTIC CITIES.—The wealth concentrated at the great commercial points of the United States is truly astonishing. For instance, one-eighth part of the entire property of this country is owned by the citizens of New-York and Boston. Boston alone in its corporate limits owns one-twentieth of the property of this entire Union, being an amount equal to the wealth of any three of the New-England states except Massachusetts. In this city is found the richest community, per capita, of any in the United States. The next city in point of wealth, according to its population, is Providence, R. I., which city is the richest in the Union, having a valuation of fifty-six millions with a population of fifty thousand. The bare increase per annum of the wealth of Boston is equal to the entire valuation of many of the minor cities, such as Portland, Salem, New-Bedford, Buffalo, Chicago, Louisville, &c.—Boston Traveller.

Heavy freshets have occurred all through the Southern States, submerging railroads and sweeping off bridges. Such a flood, it is believed, has not occurred before since the days of Noah, and the damage will be almost beyond computation.—Christian Inquirer, 19th Inst.

A writer in the Cincinnati Catholic Telegraph, tells the following amusing story, which is too good to be lost, as illustrative of the way in which things are managed in Ireland. The writer heads his story—

CHIEF JUSTICE CRAMPTON'S HOMELY.
The leader in the issue of a daily paper Saturday recalls many old recollections; also a story of Ireland, which, if you will allow me, I will tell in my own way.

Some dozen years back there lived (and for all I know still lives,) in a certain county of Ireland, a rev. dignitary of the Church as by law established, the pastor of an extensive parish, and owner of a large estate. At that period parts of Ireland were reported to be much disturbed by Whiteboys, Ribbonmen, etc. Among others the rev. clergyman above alluded to reported to the castle officials that "his house had been attacked two nights in succession, that large stones were thrown at his windows, shots were fired, etc." Orders from the castle sent a party of police to be stationed at the glebe to watch. Police stayed ten days or so: lived well, no attack, returned to their barracks. On the evening of their departure the house was again attacked. Another report to the castle by the rev. clergyman—another order to the police to watch again. When this order was received, the police officer conceived a curious idea: he pretended he disbelieved the story, said it would be no use to watch again, but at nine o'clock he took five men with him, and posted them in the glebe ground, where they (unseen) could see all round them. After a painful watch of two hours or so, a man was observed to come out of a side entrance. He was enveloped in a large outside coat; he took a large stone from the coat pocket, and deliberately flung it at the window; took another stone from the other pocket, flung it in the same direction; then fired a gun, gave a big yell, and then fell into—the arms of a policeman, whose astonishment may be conceived when he saw he had as prisoner the rev. gentleman himself.

Now if I were to conclude my story here, many would be curious to find out how the leader of the paper alluded to could have brought it to my recollection. I will therefore add, that the clergyman alluded to was named Rev. Josiah Crampton, that he was brother to Chief Justice Crampton (who delivered the homily to the Grand Jury, so much lauded in the "leader" aforesaid), and uncle to Mr. Crampton, II. B. M.'s Ambassador at Washington.

I will also add, that if Chief Justice Crampton ever delivered a homily on the enormity of a clergyman's attacking his own house for the purpose of getting his parish proclaimed under the Arms' Act, I never heard of it; also, I never heard of any punishment being inflicted on the rev. gentleman.

"OMEGA"

CANADA FREE LOVE.—A Toronto Letter writer writes:—"I may as well tell your many readers that a Free Love Association was lately formed in Toronto on a rather novel plan. Circulars were regularly printed, with all the rules and regulations of the order; and others again were issued, informing the various parties elected members, of the fact, and of who proposed them, and the manner of their election. A person, who represented himself as Professor Brisbane, stopped at Lamb's, one of the principal hotels here, and lectured nearly every evening to the initiated, the admission fee being 2s. 6d., or fifty cents of your money. Things went on in this way for some time. Every one inquiring about the 'free lovers'—who they were—where they met—what they said and did, &c.; and the Professor, who is a tall and rather handsome fellow, from your city, with a large and black moustache, became the observed of all observers. Country people might be seen walking along stealthily beside him, and catching a glimpse now and then of his face; and ladies—it would be wonderful if they didn't—exhibited the most intense curiosity to see and hear this 'new invention.' A very pious old lady, about seventy, was shocked almost out of her wits at receiving an elegantly printed circular, informing her that she had the honor of being elected a 'free lover.' Whilst young ladies without number received the shocking intoligence, in highly scented envelopes, that they were unanimously, and with great applause, admitted into full membership, with all the sublime and ecstatic privileges of doing just as they liked, untrammelled by anxious mamma's, prying schoolmistresses, or Argus-eyed old aunts. Of course, there were any number of horsewhips, and able-bodied brothers and cousins hovering about Lamb's Hotel immediately after this issue from the Post Office. But the Professor equally of course, had sloped that morning, and the enraged heroes were left to enjoy decidedly the best hoax ever played off in Toronto. But it is an actual fact that this took place and as I have narrated it, the Professor is no doubt a blackleg; but he is a capital speaker; has face enough for anything; dresses well; and is great on the Maine Law when it suits his audience; and great on brandy and water when it is to be had good and cheap. He first commenced by initiating some fast young men of Toronto into the 'sayings, doings and mysteries of the 'free lovers.' He had a good audience, and a fifty cents apiece the thing paid. Some of his hearers having a turn for fun, 'improved the occasion' as I have stated, and so commenced the hoax; and so ended the Professorship of Free Love in Toronto."

THERE IS AN END.—To everything beneath the sun there comes a last day—and of all futurity this is only portion of time that can in all cases be infallibly predicted. Let the sanguine then take warning, and the disheartened take courage; for to every joy and to every sorrow, to every hope and every fear, there will come a last day; and the man ought so to live by foresight, that while he learns in every state to be content, he shall in each be prepared for another, whatever the other may be.

"I HAVE THE READING OF IT EVERY WEEK."—It not unfrequently occurs, when persons are asked if they will subscribe for a newspaper, or if they already take it, that they reply, "No, but neighbor B. takes it, and I have the reading of it every week." Such often add, "that they consider it the best paper they know of." They are benefited every week by the toils, perplexities, and expenditures of those who receive nothing from them in return. Reader, if you feel re-proved, just send in your name and take the paper yourself.

WE THINK WE ARE JUSTIFIED IN SAYING,

That no other Pill, or remedy for Liver Complaint, has gained, so deservedly, the reputation now enjoyed by DR. MLANE'S CELEBRATED LIVER PILLS. As an evidence that they will cure, read the following certificate from a lady residing in our own city.

New York, January 23, 1852.

This is to certify that I have had the liver complaint for six years, and never could get any medicine to help me until I commenced using DR. MLANE'S CELEBRATED LIVER PILLS. I can now say to the public, that they have completely cured me; and I do hereby recommend them to all persons afflicted with a diseased liver. THEY WILL CURE. TRY THEM.

MARIA EVANS, No. 93 Lewis street.

P. S. The above valuable remedy, also Dr. MLane's Celebrated Vermifuge, can now be had at all respectable Drug Stores in this city.

Purchasers will please be careful to ask for, and take none but DR. MLANE'S LIVER PILLS. There are other Pills, purporting to be Liver Pills, now before the public. LYMAN, SAVAGE & Co., St. Paul Street, Wholesale Agents for Montreal. 22

INSTITUTION OF THE DEAF AND DUMB, NEAR MONTREAL.

THE SCHOOL for the DEAF and DUMB, (under the patronage of His Lordship the Bishop of Montreal) which has been prevented from re-opening for the last few months, will receive Pupils at the Institution at Coteau St. Louis, on the 7th January next.

The public in general, as well as parents of the Deaf and Dumb, will be happy to learn that this Institution has secured the services of an experienced professor from France, to whom will be confided the course of instruction to be adopted. This professor, Mr. Joseph Young, was born at Metz, is 33 years of age, and became deaf and dumb in his infancy. This gentleman, after having completed his course of studies at the celebrated institution of Nancy, was professor during eight years at the school of the Deaf and Dumb at Soissons. Mr. Damais, of the diocese of Lyons, who accompanied Mr. Young to Canada, will assist him in the instruction of the Deaf and Dumb. Mr. Damais will also take charge of the temporal management of the Institution, and correspond with parents of the pupils. The Rev. Mr. Lagorce will continue to have the spiritual direction of the Deaf and Dumb.

The programme of the course of study, as drawn up by Mr. Young, is as follows. The course of studies, divided into three parts, comprises—

First. Writing, the Elements of Grammar, and the first rudiments of religious instruction.
Second. Calligraphy, Exercises in Grammar, Reading, Sacred History, Arithmetic, Geography, Catechism and Religious Lessons, containing interesting accounts, taken principally from the Old and New Testament, Politeness, &c.
Third. Grammar in both languages, Ancient and Modern History, Geography, Linear Drawing, Book-keeping, the truths of the Christian Doctrine, &c.

The course of study will, in general, comprise a term of five years, but it may be abridged according to the talent of the pupils, or the wishes of their parents.
N.B.—A pupil will not, in every case, be admitted under the age of Ten Years. The Deaf and Dumb now advanced in years, or possessed of little intelligence, will only receive religious instruction by the use of signs, and taught the use of words most generally required. The rate of Board and Tuition will be $7 a month, payable in advance of each term. If the pupil belong to a poor family, he will receive board at the moderate charge of $4 a month. If parents prefer it, they can board their children out of the institution.

The editors of English and French papers are requested to publish this advertisement (gratis) for one month, in order to benefit the Deaf and Dumb.
January 3, 1852.

EIGHTH VOLUME POPULAR LIBRARY SERIES.

THE LIFE and TIMES of ST. BERNARD. Translated from the French of L'Abbe Ratisbonne, with a preface by Henry Edward Manning, D.D., and a portrait. 1 vol. 12mo., 500 pages. Price—Cloth, extra, 8s; gilt edge, 7s 6d.

"St. Bernard was so eminently the Saint of his age, that it would be impossible to write his life without surrounding it with an extensive history of the period in which he lived, and over which he may be truly said to have reigned. The Abbe Ratisbonne has, with this view, very ably and judiciously interwoven with the personal narrative and description of the Saint, the chief contemporaneous events and characters of the time.

"There seems to have been in this one mind an inexhaustible abundance, variety, and versatility of gifts. Without ever ceasing to be the holy and mortified religious, St. Bernard appears to be the ruling will of his time. He stands forth as pastor, preacher, mystical writer, controversialist, reformer, pacificator, mediator, arbiter, diplomatist, and statesman."—Extract from Preface.

The Life and Victories of the Early Martyrs. By Mrs. Hope. Written for the Oratorian Schools of Our Lady's Compassion. 1 vol. 12mo., 460 pages. Price—cloth, extra, 3s 9d; gilt edges, 5s 7 1/2d.

"The interesting tale of 'Fabiola' has made most readers familiar with the sufferings of the Early Martyrs, and desirous to know more of their history, and of the victories which they achieved over the world. Every age, every clime, has its martyrs; for it is a distinctive mark of the Catholic Church that the race of martyrs never dies out. And since her earliest times, a single generation has not passed away without some of her children shedding their blood for the name of Jesus."—Extract from Introduction.
