

KILLING A CAT.

"There is more than one way of killing a cat" runs the old saying. We maintain, however, that there is only one right way, only one best way, and that this is true of doing all things. At any rate it has been established beyond all dispute that there is only one right way of learning a language, viz., by the De Brisay Analytical Method. Other systems waste your time, waste your energy, tax your memory and finally leave you floundering in difficulties. If you are not acquainted with the De Brisay Method, by all means learn something of it. Our Circular is free. Courses by mail in Latin, French, German, Spanish.
