Dr. Rigby, head master of Trinity College school, Port Hope, has resigned his posttion there after ten years of service, during which the school has experienced steady growth. Dr. Rigby's resignation is due in part to his desire to secure lighter work for a time after a decade of the arduous duties and strain of the headmastership of a large school, but still more to his wife's state of health, which has been causing him much anxiety for some time.

The governing body of the school, which has had the matter under advisement for some time, held a final meeting yesterday afternoon and after accepting Dr. Rigby's resignation and appointing a committee to express their appreciation of his as I did for nearly six months. So many serious symptoms were developing as a consequence of this evil condition of my system that I realized I must find a remedy. The strong pills of various kinds I tried scemed after their first effects were over to make me far worse, and I did not know which way to turn for relief. I saw Dr. Hamilton's Pills advertised, and the first box used, satisfied me. I found a true remedy. Instead of griping with undue activity.
