

There is small choice in Hats as far as price goes.

(You pay $1.50, $2 and $2.50 for most any combination of a crown and brim that comes off a block to go on top of a block.)

It is the hats themselves that are different.

You may buy a full measure of quality and "rightness" at the ordinary price for a hat, or you may get what doesn't suit you, and won't last long, for the same money.

It all depends upon where you buy the hat.

EXPENSES GROW IN THE PROVINCE

Main Estimates for Next Year Total Over Nine Millions.

PUBLIC INSTITUTIONS
Increased Grants Given for Up-Keep of Hospitals and Charities.

The Ontario Government, after the manner of a wise housewife, in bringing down the estimates of expenditure for the coming fiscal year, shows evidence of careful attempts at economy. In spite of all precaution, however, the advance on that of the year ending Oct. 31, 1912, creeps to a total of $875,831, the present expenditure increasing by $259,831, and the sum spent on "other purposes" growing by $100,000. The amount, too, credited to capital account for the coming year exceeds the former by $321,000. The total estimate for the year which ends Oct. 31, 1914, is $9,524,887.66.

While report of the money which it is expected will be required to carry on the work of administration does not as a rule contain items differing in any particular extent from those of the past, one of the obvious causes of an increased expenditure in the report tabled yesterday is seen to be resultant from the high cost of living. A perusal of the expense columns of the public institutions which are supported by the government purse show an advance in practically every department.

Hospitals and Charities. Several new grants recorded, $500 going to the hospital at New Liskeard, $4000 to the sanitarium for consumptives at Brantford, $100 for the dental work in industrial schools, and $300 for a board of examiners in the training schools for nurses. There is also a conditional grant of $1000 for a lock-up at Massey, which inspired a deputaion a few weeks ago to call upon the provincial secretary. The Industrial Farm at Sault Ste. Marie receives an appropriation of $20,000, and a similar amount is increased by five thousand towards a new court course at Port Frances.

In educational matters there are no increases of an exceptional nature, although the Normal and Model Schools of Toronto and Ottawa both receive more support, due to extension in the number of instructors.

The provincial museum which has been commented on this session by the premier as one of the most notable of the recent undertakings of the province, and was lately visited by the members of the House, is marked by a grant of $10,000 for the miscellaneous items, as well as two patriotic appropriations to the Chamberlain monument in Ottawa and the Chrysler's Farm celebration.

PART OF LARGE ESTATE IN ONTARIO
Will of H. M. Prior Filed—Son Requested to be High School Teacher.

H. M. Prior of Lichfield, England, left an estate of $222,360 in Ontario. His estate included $4167 worth of stocks and cash in Ontario. Chas. S. St. Martin of Orleans, France, left $7426, of which $1181 is in Ontario. The widow and four children are the beneficiaries.

Mrs. Mary Robb left $3500, and expressed the wish in her will that her son, Charles Wesley, should be educated for a high school teacher. The estate is left to the husband and children.

Agnes Adair left $4500 to be divided between her son and daughter. In addition the daughter is willed a piano. Mrs. Annie Thompson left $716. The money will go to nurse, undertaker and other creditors. Her husband is in the Toronto Asylum. An adopted child has been placed in another home by the Children's Aid Society.

G. T. R. TRACKMEN QUIT.
ST. CATHARINES, April 14.—(Special.)—A gang of trackmen on the Grand Trunk Railway quit at Merritt today, being dissatisfied with living conditions in the cars supplied by the company. An effort is being made to fill their places.

FOUND BODY IN CANAL.
ST. CATHARINES, April 14.—(Special.)—The mystery surrounding the disappearance of Arthur Warren, a laborer, whose home is in Danville, was cleared when his body was found in the Welland Canal between Allanburg and Thorold. Coroner Beard of Thorold decided that an inquest was not necessary.

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION BILL GOES OVER TO NEXT SESSION

Sir James Whitney Announced the Government's Intention to Delay Enactment in Order to Secure More Information and Frame a Bill to Be a Model.

The workmen of the province will wait another year for legislation to afford them compensation for injury. In the meantime the Ontario Government purposes to lay the whole problem bare to all interests concerned and inviting comment from the members of the House. The bill will be heard before it passes to the statute book. This measure then, comprising features which shall constitute it a model to other provinces, according to the premier's hope, will likely be proclaimed at once and the employers and employees of Ontario begin a new relationship.

In answer to the oft-repeated question of the opposition leader on the floor yesterday afternoon, Sir James Whitney stated in plain terms that the final decision of the administration was to adopt this policy of postponement and to hold any official handling of the subject over for a year in view of its tremendous importance to the country at large.

Nothing Hasty. "We do not propose to do anything hasty," he said, "but in the recess we will gather all the information possible and regard the matter from every possible view, so that at the next session we can come and show people what has been done. This measure which we are now drafting will be most desirable, it goes without saying, will be based upon the report and draft bill of the commission."

The announcement afforded to Mr. Rowell the opportunity for which he had been awaiting some time to castigate the ministry on their tardiness, and the shameful neglect of the workmen's interest in laying the matter over. It was a most unreasonable attitude to assume, he declared, and one most unbecoming in view of the promises the premier had made in the early attention. It had first been broached in 1907 and ever since had been shelved.

No Excuse. "No excuse is made for the delay in this case," he said, "and there is absolutely no excuse for the delay in the fact that the government does it. The investigation has been exhaustive and the decision could just as easily be given this year as not."

During the year hundreds of workmen will lose their lives and many more be injured with absolutely no redress. It is not right, he said, that the government should be so negligent in the matter of the diminutive labor member, but he was cut short by a right royal broadside point of order and had to sit down unsatisfied.

Before the afternoon's work was begun, Dr. Forbes Godfrey of West York sought an opportunity to vindicate the economic pastor of Brantford from his charge. He said that a "marrying party" who advertised in the paper, were in that town. He had read a letter in which he stated that the charge was identical to the one which he had read in the paper. He regarded the action of the newspaper as "repulsive and unbecoming," and did not propose to share its popularity. Dr. Godfrey gladly explained at once any error in the references he had made.

York Radial Bill. The premier announced that the Toronto and York Radial Railway bill was referred back to the railway committee, with instructions to reconvene. There seemed to have been a misunderstanding, he said, for evidently all the protests to the extension of the Sunday car line to North Toronto had not come in at the time the bill was put thru. He, himself, had a number of these, and he felt that the committee should be seized of them before any action was taken.

Vote's Lists Act. The Liberals offered considerable opposition to the Ontario Voters' Lists Act. The amendment applies to the unorganized districts in New Ontario, and provides that the work of getting out the lists shall be in the hands of a chief enumerator, instead of in the hands of the county judges. The old plea that the revising of the lists should be taken out of politics was advanced by Mr. Rowell, who argued that, as the bill stood, if the chief enumerator was a strong partisan, the revising would be of a partisan nature. Mr. Rowell said that the judges of the land were expected to be non-partisan, and he did not see how an enumerator who was appointed by the government could be less partisan.

Mr. Hearst said that in no case was the appeal to the judges cut off, and Sam Clarke (West Northumberland) met this argument by stating that in the back districts very few young men would make any appeal. Mr. Hearst then stated that the judges were kept very busy attending to their own duties, and in some cases had neglected to attend to the revision of the voters' lists. He cited a case where the work was delayed until it was necessary to print the lists on Sunday in order to get them out for election day. Under the new act, he stated, that the chief enumerator would be held responsible for all complaints, and consequently he would see that he acted wisely in his work.

Word has been received by C. E. Hornung, district passenger agent of the Grand Trunk Railway, that operation has commenced on the National Transcontinental between Edmundston, N.B., and Moncton, N.B. The two cities are situated at the western and eastern ends of that province. A thru service from Halifax to Montreal is maintained by the National Transcontinental by running over the Intercolonial from Halifax to Moncton, across New Brunswick over its own line, and from Edmundston, N.B., to Riviere du Loup, over the Temisconata Railway. From that point Montreal is reached via the Intercolonial.

Large gangs of men are now at work on the transcontinental line between Winnipeg and Quebec, completing the unfinished connecting links between these two cities, and promise to be made by the contractors in charge of the work that the National Transcontinental will see completion from Winnipeg to Moncton by this coming September.

A Big Army. The Transcontinental from Winnipeg to Prince Rupert, B.C., that is being constructed by the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, is completed right thru from Winnipeg to Teles Jaune, B.C., and is also built from Prince Rupert more than two hundred miles eastward. This leaves approximately 500 miles of this line to be constructed through British Columbia, and also the branch lines thru western Canada which the G.T.P. are building.

The G.T.P. have 7000 men now at work on the construction of the unfinished portion of the Transcontinental between Teles Jaune, B.C., and Hazelton, B.C. Men are also employed on the construction of the G.T.P. as follows: Completing Toled branch into Calgary, 400 men; Regina branch line, 600 men; Moose Jaw, northwestern branch line, 400 men; Biggar-Calgary branch line, 600 men; Cut Knife branch, from Brandon westward, 200 men; Brandon branch line, from Hart's Main, on main line, 250 men, and Prince Albert branch line, 200 men.

This makes a total of 10,000 men at work on the G.T.P. thru western Canada, probably the largest force ever employed at one time on the construction of a railway in the Dominion.

CLOSE SCRUTINY ON MAGISTRATES

Government Will Force Them to Report Fees Collected, Etc.

The police magistrates of the province in the future will be subject to a more strict scrutiny on the part of the government and shall, by a provision of the Statute Law Amendment Act, which is now under preparation, be required to give a careful account of their duties. An annual return of the fees collected, the number and nature of all offences tried, the amount of the fines and the names of the parties who paid in these instances, will be asked in order to facilitate a more extensive plan of bookkeeping in the department.

Another important change in the same connection comes thru a section which increases the authority of coroners in time of accident by giving them control over all wreckage from which death has resulted. The destruction of buildings by collapse, the wreck of trains, bridges or accidents of any such nature are all included under this clause.

Provision is made further to allow veterinarians who cannot claim a graduation certificate from an Ontario institution the right to practise in the province. The stipulations are that the senior year examination must be passed and a veterinary preceptor's certificate of six months' apprenticeship be submitted. A year's actual service in any stand in lieu of the latter, but a fee of $25 is imposed in any case.

C. P. R. ROUNDHOUSE AT GALT.
GALT, Ont., April 14.—(Special.)—The C.P.R. will establish a roundhouse at Galt. The town is now the terminus of the Galt-Hamilton line and becoming a divisional centre, with extensive downtown freight yards under way.

SISTER GABRIEL DIED YESTERDAY

Almost Completed Sixty Years' Service and Celebration Was Planned.

At 1:30 p.m. yesterday the death occurred of Sister Gabriel, who for a number of years had been attached to St. Joseph's staff at the House of Providence, and who, had she lived until Saturday next, would have completed her sixtieth year as a religious of the community. The deceased sister would have been the first to complete this long term in the order in Toronto and plans were in preparation to celebrate the diamond jubilee of the event on a grand scale. Invitations had been sent to the clergy, religious and others, throughout the diocese to attend and take part in the joyous event, which had death not intervened, would have taken the shape of a grand religious and social festival.

Death was due to apoplexy, the deceased having never regained consciousness after being stricken. The funeral takes place on Wednesday morning from the House of Providence, where the Mass of Requiem will be said at 8 o'clock.

CONVICTED BY OWN MOUTH.

GALT, Ont., April 14.—(Special.)—Earl Gives, aged 19, charged with robbery at G.T.R. freight sheds, was convicted by the magistrate this morning and sent to the central prison for 22 months. An odd feature of the case was the prisoner's own confession to the senior year examination must be passed and a veterinary preceptor's certificate of six months' apprenticeship be submitted. A year's actual service in any stand in lieu of the latter, but a fee of $25 is imposed in any case.
