Reserve Decision in Farnham Ave. Case.

The Ontario Railway Board reserved judgment yesterday on the To-ronto Street Railway's application for permission to extend the Yonge street service from the C. P. R. tracks northerly to Farnham avenue. The city, represented by Corporation Counsel Geary and Mr. I. S. Fairty, objected on the grounds that the plans had not been properly filed and secondly, that the 30 year clause did not apply to that particular portion of Yonge street. Following a lengthy argument by Mr. Geary as to the legal rights of the company on Yonge street beyond the C. P. R. tracks, Chairman McIntyre interjected, "If the company wants to build this quarter of a mile of railway which will facilitate the transportation of your citizens, why not let them."
