WILLENFORGE LAW WHEN MEANING IS MADE CLEAR

But in the Meantime Situation as to Sunday Refreshments is Not Definitely Known.

Crown Attorney Corley, Chief of Poce Grasett and Staff Inspector Geo. Kennedy all gravely announce that they intend to "enforce the law" un-der Judge Middleton's decision under the Lord's Day Act. Just what this heans it seems difficult to ascertain. Asked just what this "law" should be, Mr. Corley said last night that he did not feel prepared to give any opinion antil he had an opportunity of reading the complete text of Judge Middleton's decision. This is practically the reply of the other two gentlemen directly chargeable with the enforcement of the law."

It is from those whose business is tenched by "the law" that the only definite interpretation of the judgment has been had, and most of these seen to have jumped to the conclusion that their heads are in the basket, so to

A legal sauthority, when asked by The World, was of opinion that when Judge Middleton said that a restaurant-keeper might sell food and drink, or either, that this meant any food or drink, not otherwise prohibited, and that the quantity did not matter and was rather a matter of appetite and was rather a matter of appetite than of "law." The only thing that CITY OF TORONTO this gentleman stood out for was that drink, or both, must be consumed on the premises.
