The Hat Problem is Difficult to Solve

No sooner do Straws pass under the season line than snow storms of half inch fall, together with cold winds come upon us.

One thing is certain—A Soft or hard hat is always in style and seasonal.

The Man In The Street

This week's snowstorm was hardly an inspiration to spring poets. Nor an incentive to wear straw hats either.

Marathoners

Some of the spectators at the Scripps-Torpeians ball game yesterday had a run for their money—they saw two of the fair ones of the chorus passing the hat for a patriotic collection. Up to that point they had enjoyed the game fairly well, but suddenly thought of having an engagement elsewhere.

They Close at Eight Now

A branch of the Soldiers' Comfort Association was formed in Carleton this week, but, probably inspired by the example of the King, the Standard changed the name to Soldiers' Temperance Association.

German sailor in demented mood, interned in Hoboken, thinks he is the Kaiser, but that shouldn't be held against the poor chap—he's crazy.

There are still some streets where Chain-Up Day might help.

In Our Letter Box

To the Man in the Street—
Dear Sir—You need say no more for the present with regard to the project to have a flower garden in the water front in India town, just as the fund to provide pansy seeds was about to close, the water in the trough was turned out, but as yet the little sanitary drinking spout has refused to spout. We hope to see it bubbling soon.
Thirstily yours,
D. R. IVER.

That May 24 snowstorm of long ago has been outlasted but old timers still have the cold, Friday and the Saxon Gale to reckon by.

German statements say they will be in London by Christmas. Probably they intend to beat the Allies on their way back.

Some young ladies' idea of a real good time is for six or eight of them to get together, and all talk at once.

Is the Walking Good?

Most of the people who had to transfer from the street cars during disagreeable weather in Prince street this week, probably wondered why that matter of grooved rails could not have been settled before the season was torn up.

Of course tearing up part of the road and then leaving it unattended for two or three days may have been for strategical purposes, for the idea is to have a permanent rut.

And war correspondents could easily have extended their vocabulary by listening to the remarks of passengers as they transferred.

The deadlock between the city and the railway company may give the jitters an excuse for invading St. John. No doubt an auto ride for five cents would prove a strong attraction to many citizens who do not yet invest in a car of their own.

Germany now pause to inquire just what kind of a vessel it was sunk when the Lusitania was torpedoed, did not occur to them to find out before hundreds of innocent lives were sacrificed.

Mrs. Downing was a thoughtful wife; she even planned her husband's coffin and grave before he died. It is to be may have been inspired by the local cemetery company which recently advertised bargain prices in family lots.

Colleges are closing and it is still pretty much the same where, where reform and uplift awaits the composers of the graduation essays.

Dominion survey officials continue to be suspected as German spies. First thing we know the local signaling school will be arrested on suspicion that they are wig-wagging messages to the Kaiser.

ST. JOHN INCLUDED IN THE PROGRAMME

Geological Survey Field Operations This Summer

The Geological Survey is placing several parties in the field to carry on geological investigations in the maritime provinces during the summer of 1915. The economic possibilities of several districts will receive attention.

E. R. Faribault, who has made a special study of the gold-bearing series of Nova Scotia, will continue the geological mapping of this series in Queens and Shelburne counties.

The geological mapping of the vicinity of St. John will be completed by Dr. A. O. Hayes. He will make an examination also of the productive coal measures of New Glasgow, N. S., and vicinity and will commence the detailed mapping of this area on a scale of 200 feet to one inch.

W. J. Wright will complete the work for the geological map of the Moncton area and will continue his studies of the oil-bearing shales of the railway belt between Moncton and St. John.

Under the supervision of Dr. L. Reinecke an investigation of materials suitable for road metal will be made in southern New Brunswick and the locations of these will be indicated on maps.

C. L. Cumming will continue his examination of the igneous rocks of the vicinity of St. John; W. A. Bell will carry on paleontological studies near New Glasgow, N. S., and some localities in Nova Scotia will be visited by Dr. E. M. Kindle, the invertebrate paleontologist.

GOES TO SUSSEX

Waterbury & Rising, Ltd., are contributing another member of their staff to the men in the field. Charles Lobbo, who for some years has acted as collector for the firm, having successfully passed the necessary examination, will report for duty at Sussex on Tuesday morning. Charles, as he is familiarly known all over the city, will be greatly missed. Possessing a bright, happy disposition, always cheerful and happy, he had the knack of making and retaining friends, all of whom will wish him good luck and a safe return.

FIRST LETTERS FROM NURSES WHO WENT TO ENGLAND ON HESPERIAN

Were Only 50 to 100 Miles Away When Lusitania Was Sunk—Some London Experiences

Letters which reached the city yesterday from St. John nurses who went to England on the S. S. Hesperian some weeks ago, tell of their being nearly all still in London awaiting assignment to their posts of duty—or were so waiting at time of writing two weeks ago. In all, there were ninety-five on the Hesperian, including thirteen from the maritime provinces. So far as the letters relate, only four had received orders for service abroad. One of these, as the Times noted yesterday, is Miss Alice Powers of St. John. Ere this, no doubt, she is busy in France.

While they have had considerable to attend to, all have had opportunity to see some of the sights of the empire metropolis and naturally have many experiences of interest to relate. For instance, three of the New Brunswick nurses were stopped several times in the Strand by eager people who have relatives in Canada and who sought information about their loved ones over sea. On all sides they hear much of the "brave Canadians" and say the English people are realizing how generously Canada has responded to the call. "Many ladies and gentlemen have stopped us," says one letter, "to say how grateful they are to us and to wish us good fortune. The nurses are very much interested in us. Some of the girls have been stopped by women and asked the direction to certain places. They think we are 'lady policemen.' A little boy asked me if there were any cowboys where I came from, as he had seen them in the movies."

Officers who have been at the front lately think they can have no conception of the horrors along the firing line. Still, it seems that many people do not grasp the gravity of the situation even yet. They say "England has always won"—and there you are.

The nurses, while awaiting their orders are living in hotels near the British Museum. In three hotels near to each other there are now some 200 nurses eager for the word to take their places in caring for the wounded.

The news of the disaster to the Lusitania did not reach those on board the Hesperian until the pilot came on board of Liverpool. They then learned that their vessel was only fifty to one hundred miles away from the Lusitania when the latter was the needles to say, there were many heartfelt thanksgivings for their safe arrival.

SIGNALLER IRVING D. APPLEBY WRITES TO WIFE FROM HOSPITAL

First Intimation, But it is Not Stated Whether He is Wounded or Ill

Word was received by Mrs. Appleby, wife of Signaller Irving D. Appleby, of 208 Metcalf street, yesterday from the country intimation that he was in hospital but giving no intimation as to whether he was ill, wounded, or suffering from the effects of the German gases. One letter was dated from the base hospital at Boulogne, while a Red Cross card dated the following week, was postmarked Cambridge, so that it is thought he is now in England, recuperating from his wounds.

Signaller Appleby left St. John with the detachment under Major T. E. Powers, and was with that unit when they left for the front. He was later attached to the 1st Brigade Headquarters staff, and since then has been through some spirited action in Belgium and France. He sent home recently to his wife a handsome souvenir of the ruins of Belgium, a beautiful ivory prayer book, finished with gold edges, and having a silver clasp showing the crown of thorns and the Sacred Heart pierced with an arrow.

The presumption is that it was picked from out of the ruins of a convent, although one would never think it had come through the smoke of battle, for it is in excellent condition. On the fly leaf in French, in a neat feminine hand, was written "I have abandoned the world and all its vanities, on account of my love for my Saviour, Jesus Christ; September, 1888, (signed) Marie Caroline de St. Thomas."

Another souvenir which Signaller Appleby sent home was a piece of lead from the shot which had wounded Lou LeLacheur, part of which Mrs. Appleby has given his mother.

The following is part of his letter:—
"Dearest wife: I have been waiting anxiously until I can give you definite news of anything, but can say nothing regarding my condition as yet. I am extremely happy and being used like a prince, by the splendid staff of nurses, and the many visitors who are here. (Boulogne). Do not be down-hearted over my case; you must always endeavor to see God's hand in these matters—the very misfortune which resulted in my removal from the field may have been instrumental in saving me for my future home. I hope to have brighter news for you soon. Kiss my dear babies for me, and teach them to feel that Daddy will be home again before long."

ST. JOHN LADIES TO SPEAK

The annual meeting of the N. B. and P. E. Island Branch of the Woman's Missionary Society, of the Methodist church, will be held this year in Chatham, N. B., June 1st, 2nd and 3rd.

Addresses will be given by the President, Mrs. C. F. Sanford, St. John; Miss Crombie, returned missionary, from Japan, and an illustrated address by Mrs. Barracough, St. John, and Miss H. S. Stewart, M.A., Sackville.

This branch, although one of the smallest branches of the Methodist Church of Canada, has a membership of 172, and raised last year $18.99 for missions.

FRED SHEAR WAS IN IT

A letter from Bombardier Fred H. Shear, written on May 9, says:—"I came through our last big battle unscratched and well. We are now enjoying a much needed rest, for it was needed by all of the division in the worst way. We as Canadians have only done what we enlisted for."
