

HON. WM. PUGSLEY AND DR. BRODERICK THE CANDIDATES

Nominated by Liberal Convention to Contest St. John-Albert—Committee to Tender Nomination.

Hon. William Pugsley and Dr. W. P. Broderick were nominated for the House of Commons at the Liberal convention for St. John-Albert held in the Moose Hall, Charlotte street, last night. The convention was largely attended. Six names were placed in nomination, those of Dr. A. P. Emery, Hon. William Pugsley, John A. Barry, Dr. W. P. Broderick, Frank B. Ellis and Frank X. Jennings.

Dr. Emery withdrew his name and Mr. Ellis, who was reached by telephone, refused to allow his name to be voted on, and balloting took place on the four remaining. Hon. Mr. Pugsley was declared nominated on the first ballot, while Mr. Barry was eliminated. On the second ballot Dr. Broderick led Mr. Jennings by about a two-to-one vote. Dr. Broderick was present and accepted the nomination. The decision of his Honor, Lieutenant Governor Pugsley, will not be known until a committee appointed for the purpose waits on him to tender him the nomination.

J. Fred Belyea took the chair temporarily and called the meeting to order. On motion of Hon. W. E. Foster, seconded by John McKinnon, F. M. Thompson, of Hillsboro, Albert county, was unanimously appointed chairman of the meeting and E. J. Heneberry was named as secretary.

Hon. Dr. Pugsley chosen. Balloting then took place, and on the first ballot Hon. William Pugsley received 175 votes; Dr. W. P. Broderick, seventy-eight; F. X. Jennings, fifty-four; and J. A. Barry, fifty-three. Hon. Mr. Pugsley was declared nominated and the name of Mr. Barry dropped.

Dr. E. J. Ryan suggested that, in view of the fact that Dr. Broderick had fought hard in the last election, his nomination be made unanimous. No action was taken on this.

Mr. Barry said that all who had pledged themselves to him could not vote as they liked. He thought that

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" SAVED HER LIFE

This Fruit Medicine Always Gives Relief

217 Dorion St., Montreal. I suffered terribly with Dyspepsia. I said it for years and all the medicines I took did not do me any good. I read something about "Fruit-a-tives" being good for all Stomach Trouble and Disorders of Digestion, so I tried them. After finishing a few boxes, I was entirely relieved of the Dyspepsia and my general health was restored; and I am writing to tell you that I owe my life to "Fruit-a-tives."

Dr. Broderick was entitled to the nomination.

At this stage Mr. Thompson thanked the convention for appointing him to the chair and asked to be relieved as he wished to catch a train. Mr. Belyea then took the chair, and on the second ballot Dr. Broderick polled 119 votes to Mr. Jennings' sixty-seven.

Mr. Jennings then moved that the convention make the nomination of Hon. Dr. Pugsley and Dr. Broderick unanimous, and that a committee be appointed to wait on the candidates to see if they were willing to accept the nomination.

Mr. Barry made a short speech, in which he said that he had allowed his name to go before the convention in order that labor might have a representative on the ticket. The committee nominated were undoubtedly the ones that the party wanted, and he thought Dr. Broderick was entitled to the nomination.

The motion regarding a committee to wait on the nominees was carried unanimously. On the chairman asking Mr. Barry to act on the committee, the latter refused. John T. O'Brien said that Mr. Barry was placed in a delicate position and it would not do for him to act on account of something that might happen. Mr. Barry said that he refused to act as he must bear from the labor men.

Dr. Broderick accepted. Dr. Broderick was called on and said that he much appreciated the honor of serving as one of the Liberal standard-bearers in the coming fight. He also realized the responsibility. He said that he thought that all disensions had been eliminated and was surprised to see the question brought up from the source from whence it came. He said that the carrying out the fight of 1917 had been at the behest of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, which was the best source from which a Liberal could take his inspiration. He said that he had no apologies to offer for 1917. The way the vote had been cast at the convention showed there was still a difference. He said that 1917 was a dead issue. He was here to enter into a fight against the most autocratic government the country had ever seen, and he said that Hon. Mr. Pugsley would bring prestige and weight, not only to the constituency but to the province and all the dominion. His hearers had heard the Liberal creed as recently promulgated by Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, and the speaker would let it rest at that but would bring up various questions in the campaign.

He said that he was in the fight for Liberal principles and for the purpose of undoing the wrongs of the past. He said that he would be at the service of the party at all times.

He did not intend to talk of the autocratic Merlon government, the railway muddle or the mercantile marine situation. If the party got together it would be carried. He predicted, in conclusion, he said that he would do all in his power to support the whole ticket. Dr. Broderick was given three cheers on resuming his seat and cheers also were given to John T. O'Brien. The meeting was then adjourned.

FOUR ARE KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENTS

Wife of a Theatrical Producer Hit by Taxicab on Stepping from Trolley—Child Victim Near House.

(New York Times.) Four persons died yesterday from having been hurt in auto accidents in the metropolitan district in the course of the day. Mrs. Sarah Turner, forty-eight years old, wife of Walter Turner, a theatrical producer, died last night in an ambulance twenty minutes after she had been knocked down by a taxicab at Eighth avenue and Forty-fifth street. Witnesses said that Mrs. Turner, who was on the way to her home at 318 West Forty-fifth street, stepped from a trolley and got in the path of an automobile driven by Harry Finnan of 439 West Sixty-third street.

Finnan tried to avoid striking the woman, but the front wheels passed over her. He took the victim in the cab to the Polytechnic Hospital. Dr. Israel there said she was dying from a fracture of the skull. She was being removed to Bellevue hospital in an ambulance summoned from Flower Hospital when she died. Finnan was arrested. In a handbag the woman carried, the police learned the address of her husband in Chicago.

Mildred Rosoff, six years old, of 598 Bergen avenue, the Bronx, died late in the afternoon in the Lebanon Hospital after having been knocked down in front of her home by an automobile operated by Joseph Summa of 401 East 108th street. Before the death of the girl was reported to the police, Summa had been held in $1,000 in the Tompkins court on a technical charge of assault. Later he was lodged in the Bronx county jail on a homicide charge.

James Scanlan, twenty-one years old, of 271 Davis avenue, West New Brighton, Staten Island, fell from an automobile truck while on his way home last evening. His skull was fractured and he died in St. Vincent's Hospital.

Mrs. Charles Beck, forty years old, of Pleasantville, N. J., was killed in the afternoon by an express train in Camden, N. J. Harry C. Palmer of Pleasantville was in the automobile with the woman, but he escaped injury by jumping.

THRIFT TO EXCESS.

Hard work, honesty, good judgment, initiative and other qualities are essential in the building of wealth. Money may be secured without these essential characteristics, but men who do not have them either lose or spend their money after securing it. They seldom die rich. Statistics on failures illustrate this point most conclusively.

Notwithstanding hard work, honest good judgment and initiative, the habit of thrift is the basis of invested capital. A man who is naturally thrifty gradually accumulates money and is able to "take a chance" and go into business for himself when the opportunity opens. It may be to have a small store or to operate a great industry, but in either case he is his own boss, and an employer of men. If the statement is true that five per cent. of the people of this country are employers and ninety-five per cent. are working for others, this probably means that only five per cent. have the habit of thrift.

What is a good habit at one time of life may be a bad habit at another time of life. This especially applies to the habit of thrift. The habit of thrift is the basis of the building of an individual, industry, or nation, but, like other good habits, it can be overdone. When the habit controls the man instead of the man the habit, it is a dangerous condition. The successful person is he who has a great perspective of life and who gives the proper amount of time, thought and energy to the various factors in life proportional to their importance. He who over-develops any one of the features making up life does wrong and suffers thereby. Does not this especially apply to those who have over-developed the habit of thrift?

CHICAGO FIRST IN AUTO THEFTS

St. Louis, Oct. 25.—Despite a 20 per cent. increase in the number of automobiles stolen in 1920, compared with 1919, according to statistics of the National Automobile Dealers' Association.

The association attributed the decline to results obtained from the federal motor vehicle theft law, more stringent laws in various states for the punishment of automobile thieves and vigorous police activity.

In 1920 approximately 30,000 automobiles were stolen in twenty-eight large cities of the country. This number was 3,000 less than those stolen in 1919.

With a theft list of 5,200 machines, Chicago had the largest number of motor vehicles stolen. New York had 5,200 and St. Louis had 4,200.

A large decrease in the number of machines stolen in St. Louis was noted. In 1919 the number was 7,200, while only 800 thefts were reported in 1920.

The figures showed that Pacific coast cities recovered more than 50 per cent. of the stolen automobiles.

GOVERNMENT WINS ON LABOR VOTE

London, Oct. 24.—An important division in the government's unemployment programme was taken in the House of Commons tonight, when the motion of Mr. Robert Clydesdale, labor member for Manchester, for the rejection of the bill granting additional temporary assistance to the unemployed was defeated, 20 to 70.

The bill then passed its second reading. Mr. Clydesdale's objection was based on the ground that the measure was inequitable and imposed an unfair tax upon workers while exempting other wealthier classes.

The Loyalist Temple, No. 13, of Pythian Sisters held its regular meeting last evening in the Temple of Honor hall in Main street with Mrs. Charles Green occupying the chair. It was decided last evening that a tea and sale would be held in the Temple of Honor hall in the near future and arrangements were completed and the committees appointed for this affair.

Nervous Breakdown

The extreme depression and discouragement which comes over one at times is the most alarming symptom of nervous exhaustion.

This letter is a message of hope to all who find themselves in this unfortunate condition.

Mrs. Geo. T. Tingley, Albert, N.B., writes:—

"For years I was in a very nervous, run-down condition, was much depressed in spirit and suffered a great deal at times. The least noise would irritate me and at times I felt as though I certainly would go crazy. I consulted different doctors to no effect."

"A friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and I can truly testify today to the great benefit received. There was a marked change before I had finished the second box and when I had used a dozen boxes my nerves were thoroughly restored and I was entirely relieved of those terrible feelings I used to have. I shall ever be ready to testify to the benefit of this wonderful medicine, feeling sure that it will give to others the quick and permanent relief it has given me."

A DOCTOR'S DAUGHTER & Zam-Buk

Well-known Salvationist Tells of Mother & Son Saved from Blood-Poison & Disablement.

"One cannot speak too highly of this wonderful Zam-Buk," says Mrs. Jane E. Zekilly, an ex-Major of the Salvation Army and daughter of the late Dr. Bevan, of St. David's, South Wales. Called upon at her home, 3, Bushness Avenue, Toronto, Mrs. Zekilly said: "Eight years ago my boy Alfred scratched his leg with the brass tag of a shoe lace and blood poisoning set in. I had used various ointments on the sore, without doing good, when, hearing splendid reports about Zam-Buk I decided to give it a trial. You can imagine my relief, when, after a few applications of Zam-Buk, I saw that healing had already started. Continued treatment quickly removed every trace of the obstinate sore. It made me realise what pain and suffering I might have saved the boy, had I got Zam-Buk at first. "When I fell over a steel fender and injured my knee badly, I again used Zam-Buk. My daughter, who was a nurse, thought an operation would be necessary to remove the mass of inflammation and pus, but I hadn't forgotten my previous experience with Zam-Buk. Again regular applications of the balm took out all pain and swelling and I healed the wound in a few days. The knee has never given further trouble." Herbal Zam-Buk is 50c. box, all dealers.

MOTHERS' PENSIONS

An Interesting Paper Read at Meeting in Moncton.

At a meeting of the Moncton Child Welfare Association on Friday evening Miss Greta Rogers read a paper on mothers' pensions as follows: The subject of mothers' pensions is one that is of very real interest to our Child Welfare Society in view of its far-reaching effects on the child life of any community.

The purpose underlying all these laws is that of preventing the breaking up of the homes when, on account of death or disability, the support of the natural breadwinner of the family is removed. The methods adopted to secure this end vary widely, but in the great fundamentals they are the same.

The first law relating to mothers' pensions was passed in Missouri and went into effect in June, 1911, but, by a population limitation it was made applicable only to Jackson county. Since that time practically every state of the union has legislated on this important measure. Denmark and New Zealand have felt their responsibility in this direction and Widows' Pension Laws have been passed by both countries.

We are glad that Canada, too, is realizing her duty in this matter. The first step was taken by the Manitoba legislature when that province passed the Mothers' Allowance Act in 1910; Saskatchewan followed suit in 1917; Alberta in 1919 and Ontario in 1920. Similar legislation is under consideration in British Columbia and Nova Scotia. In the provinces where Mothers' Pensions in all the municipalities for part of the cost. The maximum amount of aid is fixed by law at $3 per week for each child in Saskatchewan, but in Alberta and Manitoba the amount given is left to be determined by the family's needs. The greater flexibility of the general provision to meet the advancing cost of living is shown by the grants made by the Manitoba commission in May, 1919, when the average city allowance paid per family was $61 a month and the average country allowance $49.16 a month, averages which much exceed the amounts paid in communities of the same size and general conditions in the United States.

New Brunswick has not, as yet, made any provision for mothers' pension. Miss Rogers' address at our public meeting of last week brought home to us the very great need of legislation to help impoverished mothers in our own city. Shall not the Child Welfare Association do everything possible to bring about this much needed reform?
