

RAILY DAY IN SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Special Services in Several Yesterday—Other News of City Churches.

It was Rally Day for many of the Sunday schools and congregations in the city yesterday and in all the special services there was a spirit of brightness and hopefulness. The success of the Rally Day was taken to be a good omen for a coming season of real endeavor and much success.

At the First Presbyterian church, West St. John, there were more than 150 pupils and teachers in attendance at the service, which was conducted by A. W. Fraser, superintendent of the school. A very interesting talk on the story of David was given by J. L. Cameron, who was formerly a superintendent of the school and who handled his subject in an excellent manner. The collection taken amounted to a substantial sum, which will be used in furthering the interests of the Sunday school board of the church. Miss Margaret Newcombe was organist during the service. The regular classes will be formed next Sunday.

The rally day service at St. Matthew's church was conducted by the pastor, Rev. H. L. Elmer, and no address was delivered. The lessons for the ensuing quarter were reviewed and a collection taken for the benefit of the school, which amounted to a very satisfactory sum. About eighty pupils and teachers were in attendance.

Rev. R. Moorhead Legate, pastor of the church, gave a very interesting talk upon Sunday school work at the rally day services in the Sunday school of Knox church yesterday. There was a large attendance of scholars and teachers, and the singing of a choir selected from the older classes was a feature of the programme. The collection, for school purposes, amounted to more than $20. Two scholars, a boy and a girl, were christened at the close of the service.

Baptist Services.
At the main street Baptist church in the morning the pastor, Rev. Dr. David Hutchinson, preached on the subject of God's remedy for tired workers. His sermon was specially suited to the coming fall and winter work of the church. A rally day service for the Sunday school was held in the afternoon and between 300 and 400 scholars were present. Dr. Hutchinson presided and the scholars carried out interesting and pleasing exercises. A special class of boys and girls, trained by Mrs. Hedley Belyea, gave a play on the subject of the parables of the sower. The pastor led the responsive reading and Miss Durkin and Percy Crookshank sang suitable songs with fine effect. Several hymns were sung by the scholars. Rev. Canon R. A. Armstrong of Trinity church gave a splendid address on the Church and the Child which was listened to with much appreciation by both the younger and older scholars. At the evening service, Dr. Hutchinson presided and the scholars gave a play on the subject of the Danger of Formality. He very clearly pointed out the difference between lifeless formalism and the wide-awake, aggressive Christianity. Rally day was considered to have been most successful in the Main street Baptist church.

The Fairville Baptist Sunday school in its rally day programme followed the service arranged by the maritime board and carried out a fine programme. Two groups of six little girls took part in banner exercises. Melton McEwen of the Y. M. C. A. gave the address of the afternoon. The primary class went through graduation exercises with great success and diplomas were presented to the babies of the cradle roll. The superintendent, Miss M. Beattie, carried out an interesting programme which consisted of choruses by the primary class, a solo by Miss Madeline Irvin and class roll call in which the secretary of each class in response to its name announced the number enrolled in the class and the number present. The total muster showed 260 were present. There were a number of scripture readings and musical selections by the school. The pastor, Rev. J. Heaney, gave an inspiring address on the subject, Our Aim. He said that, while it was important to increase the attendance so far as possible, it was more important to increase the quality of the school and that each teacher and each pupil should aim to make the class as helpful and useful as possible. Each had an individual responsibility. At the evening service, Mr. Heaney gave an address on the history and the importance of the Sunday school. Special music was a feature of the evening service and a number of new voices gave strength and balance to the choir.

In the school of the Exmouth street Methodist church the superintendent, E. E. Thomas, showed the pupils lantern pictures of the life of Christ instead of taking the usual review lesson and the fine series were greatly appreciated. W. A. Adams manipulated the lantern and aided in the successful presentation. There was a large gathering of pupils and of visitors.

The annual rally of the Fairville Methodist Sunday school was held yesterday afternoon and the full rally programme was splendidly carried out with the fine music as a special feature. Rev. Thomas Marshall presided and the principal address was given by S. A. Worrell. The contribution was a generous one and will be given to the Sunday School Association.

St. Mary's.
The rally service at St. Mary's Sunday school was held in the school room which had been beautifully decorated with autumn leaves, rowan berries and flowers. Rev. R. Taylor McKim, the rector of the church, who is the superintendent of the school, gave the opening address of welcome and the special rally day programme was well rendered. A special girls' choir led the singing and a very pleasing feature of the service was the playing of flowers sung by the choir under the direction of Miss Hilma Brittain and Miss Eva Mitchell. The special offering taken will go towards the payment of the two new furnaces installed in the Sunday school at a cost of $800. Mr. McKim's special address was given on the subject, Come. At the evening service in St. Mary's church, M. Gregg, maritime boys' work secretary of the Y. M. C. A., addressed the congregation on the importance of Sunday school work. Rev. R. T. McKim led a communion service at Coldbrook in the evening and those who recently received the sacrament were present at their first communion. All but one of the candidates at confirmation were present.

St. Luke's.
The scholars of St. Luke's church gathered in force for the Sunday school rally. After the opening hymn the beginners and primary departments went through some dainty exercises and class of the primary department presented a hymn very sweetly. A missionary prayer was offered, following which the beginners department took part in a nation-wide service. The service was presided over by Rev. R. P. McKim in his address told stories of Bible characters to which the children listened with eager interest and which they were asked to guess the names of the characters described showed by their answers that they were quite familiar with Bible study lessons. The musical part of the service was led by Mrs. Lester Mowry and was a very pleasing feature of the rally. Each child in attendance possessed the proud possession of a souvenir button marked "St. Luke's."

Yesterday was the last Sunday for Rev. H. L. Elmer at St. Matthew's Presbyterian church, Douglas avenue, and a large congregation attended both the morning and evening services, both of which were conducted by the retiring minister.

Rev. J. W. Falconer, D.D., professor of Pine Hill college, Halifax, who officiated at the laying of the corner stone of the new St. David's church, was the preacher in that church on Sunday at both the morning and evening services and his forceful addresses were heard with evident appreciation.

In the Waterloo street Baptist church the preacher in the evening was Thomas Brindley, superintendent of the Seamen's mission.

An exchange of pulpits was made in the morning by Rev. J. Heaney of the Carleton Methodist church and Rev. Neil MacLaughlin of the Queen square Methodist church.

In the Charlotte street Baptist church last night, Rev. Mr. Purdy, agent of the Maritime Home for girls at Truro was the preacher.

A Farewell Gift.
At the close of the sermon in the Charlotte street church, the pastor, Rev. J. H. Jenner, referred to the fact that a member of the congregation, George N. Mott, who was superintendent of the Sunday school, a member of the choir and a most efficient worker in other organizations of the church was to leave next week for Acadia to take up his studies in that he might enter the Baptist ministry. Mr. Jenner spoke at some length on the character, work and faithfulness of Mr. Mott and then presented to him a handsome morocco bill book on behalf of the junior league, a society of which Mr. Mott was leader and in which he had been very active. The contents of the book amounted to $100, being the

Miss Frances Murdoch, daughter of Joseph Murdoch, who is a member of the First Presbyterian church and made her first appearance in that capacity at the service last night.

FOR RESTRICTION OF LIQUOR SALES IN SCOTLAND

(Associated Press Despatch.)

London, Sept. 26.—Pills on the local option resolution of the Scottish temperance act must be demanded by next week and strenuous efforts are being made, especially in the larger towns, to fulfill the requirements of the law that there must be at least ten per cent of the electorate signatories to the requisition. The temperance cause has expressed satisfaction with the results.

"Pussyfoot" Johnson is expected in Glasgow to take part in the big contest next week and carried out. Presumably he is intended to preach prohibition though it is significant that the advocates of the present movement in declining challenges of anti-prohibitionists publicly to debate that question, now contend that they are out for restriction or abolition of licenses, not for prohibition and the manufacture and sale of liquor.

MAY BE INCREASE IMMIGRATION DURING NEXT YEAR

Hon. J. A. Calder, Who Has Just Returned From Eng- land, Speaks of Prospects For Settlers For Canada.

Ottawa, Sept. 26.—"People are willing and anxious to come and the surplus population of Great Britain over pre war days is estimated from 600,000 to 1,250,000 but next year's immigration to Canada will depend on two things: The employment situation and the shipping facilities," said Hon. J. A. Calder, minister of immigration, who returned on Sunday from a six weeks' trip to the British Isles. He inspected there the different immigration offices and looked into the situation generally. Mr. Calder will remain in Ottawa till after the railway rates appeal this week and then will join the tariff commission in the west. Dealing with immigration prospects the minister said that "if employment this winter is as serious as is looked for there will be a big movement to Canada, if that all the north Atlantic lines are booked up for a year for regular and tourist traffic and a certain amount of immigrants. The shipping situation should improve by spring, however, but it may be a year before the influx is heavy from twenty ports. The inspection staffs would have to be enormously increased."

Bonused immigrants.

Speaking of bonused immigrants, the minister said that Canada was willing to do away with the bonus but the other side would not. Similarity of policy was desirable.

"The immigrants we are after especially are the farmers or farm labor and domestics. It would be very helpful if Canadian farmers would give attention to better housing facilities for farm labor. As regards domestics, there is just as great a shortage of that class in Great Britain as in Canada. They are not disposed to go back to their native land and the war has created a great void and cause thousands to return to domestic service."

Mr. Calder visited all the immigration offices except Dublin and Belfast. He did not care to discuss the internal situation in Ireland, but remarked that owing to the pending situation in the mining dispute and other lines of labor conditions are very unsettled.

A UNITED FARMER MIS-STATEMENT

(Moncton Transcript.)
The Farmers' Guide this week in an editorial column winds up with the following:

"Perhaps however, the gravest charge against the agricultural policy of the government is their failure to assist the co-operative spirit which is so potent in the province but on the other hand they have used every possible means to keep the farmers from entering into co-operative enterprise even to the extent of subsidizing those who are actively opposing the movement."

If this statement is a sample of the arguments used by that paper, their cause must be an unfortunate one. It should not be necessary to resort to untruths of such a glaring nature as this done in our own city. The very opposition to the present government.

Here in Moncton is a striking example of an answer to such a charge. The Farmers' Co-operative Creamery Co., with its 1,000 farmer patrons all over this section of the province, probably the largest butter factory in maritime provinces today, enclosing the farming population, encouraging them in the right class of farming, adding to the values of their farms and in every way doing what the Farmers' Guide ought to want done. This creamery originated with the present government at Fredericton. The start was made by a meeting was held in the office of the Hon. Mr. Tweedie, attended by the representatives of Moncton, Westmorland, Albert, Kent, and also by Mr. Harvey Mitchell and Mr. Hicks.

It was there decided to take steps to organize a co-operative creamery at Moncton. After that, Mr. Hicks and Mr. Mitchell came to Moncton and in company with the Hon. C. W. Robinson, inspected the different locations and the possibilities and obtained an option from the late Mr. Sumner of the property which is now occupied. The agricultural department of the government not only originated the creamery but subsidized the work in actual cash subsidies to the extent of about $4,000.

This is only one example of many.

A Farmers' Co-operative Company has also been established in Fredericton, and assisted financially by the present government. It may not be doing great work as the Moncton creamery, but it serves a large territory with good railroad communications and will do in time probably nearly as much as is done in our own city. The government is also operating at its own expense another creamery for the farmers in the county of Manawaka which it hopes to have placed under co-operative management in the near future.

These are only samples of the very active interest of the government. More answers could be given and the Farmers' Guide would be the Department of Agriculture an apology for its mis-statements.

A vast tract of forest land and valuable water rights were included in the recent transfer of the St. George Pulp & Paper Company's property at St. George and along the Magalloway and tributaries. The purchase price of the entire property, including mills, is understood to be in excess of $1,000,000, according to the Wall Street Journal. The transfer includes 105,000 acres of wood lands.

FORMER PRESIDENT IN SANITARIUM

(Associated Press Despatch.)

Paris, Sept. 26.—Former President Deschanel, who has entered a sanatorium at Neuilly, five miles west of Paris, is not seriously ill, according to a statement of his physician, Dr. Trepsa, published by Le Journal.

"What M. Deschanel needs is complete quiet, repose and calm, for his overworked nerves," said Dr. Trepsa. "When his calm returns he will be cured. He is not isolated; his wife and children visit him daily."

M. Deschanel entered the sanatorium under the name of Duclos and it was only after newspapers had published this fact that the personnel of the institution became aware of his identity.

A TREE FOR EVERY NEED.

"The coconut palm," says a recent issue of the American Lumberman, "is an example of a single tree which can be made to supply all the needs of a not too luxurious member of society. In certain islands of the southern seas this prolific plant furnishes the natives with the bread from which they build their houses, their boats and their utensils. When the leaves are young they are eaten. When they are old, they are woven and braided into hats, baskets, cloth, fans, bedding, paper and thatch. The ribs of the mature leaves are converted into arrows, spears, brooms, torches and paddles. Out of the flowers come wine, vinegar and sugar. The fruit makes a delicious food, and its husks yield oil, cord and matting. Then the roots are sometimes used for food."

A frame building in the vicinity of Green Head, on the St. John river, was burned early last evening. The reflection of the fire was seen so far away as Fairville. Persons who came down the river last night said that the building burned appeared to have been a dwelling.

WIFE COULDN'T WALK A STEP, SAYS NAYLOR

Was Helpless in Bed With Rheumatism When She Be- gan Taking Tanlac— Friends Amazed at Her Wonderful Recovery.

"My wife was down in bed unable to walk a step when she began taking Tanlac, but now it's a fact she is absolutely well and all our friends are amazed at her recovery," declared Henry Naylor, who resides at 207 Brunswick street, Halifax.

"I believe my wife has suffered all the pain and misery that goes with a bad case of rheumatism. Her legs, arms and hands kept her in such pain that it was out of the question for her to do any of her housework. Her legs would swell up awfully and become so stiff that she couldn't walk a step. She complained of a dull, aching pain all the time and her feet were so swollen that she couldn't wear any shoes at all."

"She suffered a lot from shortness of breath and smothering spells and often her heart palpitated so bad that it nearly frightened her to death. Her circu-

EDWARD E. STOWELL DIES IN CLUB POOL

Lawyer Stricken Suddenly With Apoplexy After Swimming.

Edward E. Stowell of 829 Park avenue, New York, a former member of the law firm of Greene, Hurd & Stowell, died suddenly of apoplexy the other afternoon in the swimming pool of the University Club, Fifth avenue and Fifty-fourth street. According to club members and attendants who were present, Mr. Stowell had been swimming about for some time and had climbed up on the edge of the pool to rest. Leslie Buchtel, an attendant, saw him suddenly topple over into the water obviously unable to help himself.

The lawyer was unconscious when lifted from the water, and Dr. Hamilton of Flower Hospital, who arrived soon afterward, pronounced him dead of apoplexy.

Mr. Stowell was forty years old, and had apparently been in excellent health recently. He had intended to resume his law practice this winter, having interrupted it during the last three years while engaged in war work.

Yesterday was a proud anniversary for the former members of the First Canadian Division, for on that day four years ago the division made its successful attack on the Zollern, Heissen and Kottbus trenches. Today is an important annilation was bad and her hands and feet up twice their normal size. Finally she got so bad that she couldn't get about at all and just had to keep to her bed all the time.

Her friends would get numb and cold and swell. "This was her condition when we got Tanlac on the suggestion of one of our friends, and I can honestly say that I have never seen anybody improve as fast as my wife. The swelling and pains all disappeared and it wasn't long until she could get around as good as ever and was doing her housework all by herself. She is not troubled with shortness of breath or palpitation now and I never hear her complain of any ache or pain of any kind. She says she feels ten years younger and her friends are all astonished to see her looking so well and strong. I just can't tell how glad I am to see my wife in such fine health and I want to join with her in speaking a good word for Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in St. John by the Ross Drug Company and P. W. Munro; by G. W. McKay, Beaver Harbor; Willard J. Colwell, Evans; C. V. Parsons, Highland; John F. Meagher, Debec; O. D. Hanson, Lepreau; E. L. Conley, Leonardville; N. H. Johnson, Clarendon Station, and by the leading druggists in every town.—(Adv.)
