FIRST EDITION. A NEW LINK. IN THE CHAIN THAT UNITES CANADA AND THE UNITED STATES. Opening of the Great Tunnel at Port Huron, under the Lake's outlet. Today—The Event Celebrated with Festive and Speeches—How the Work was Done.

By TELEGRAPH TO THE GAZETTE. Port Huron, Sept. 21.—The greatest sub-marine tunnel on the North American continent was formally opened to the public this afternoon with simple but impressive ceremonies. According to the original programme it had been intended to make a grand banquet on the occasion of the opening of the tunnel, but the presence of President Harrison, the governor general of Canada and the government ministers of the United States. Owing to the fact that nearly every one of these distinguished people had previous engagements for the day, however, a change in the programme became necessary. The day is observed as a general holiday by everybody in this city and at Sarnia on the Canadian side. Each city is gaily decorated, and thousands of strangers have added themselves to the regular population, to take part in the festivities. Shortly after noon Sir Henry Tyler presided at the Grand Trunk railroad, accompanied by the board of directors and a large number of invited guests, left Sarnia and passed through the tunnel on special trains. Upon their arrival in Port Huron an address of welcome was delivered by William McHarris, mayor of the city, to which responses were made by Henry Tyler and others. Shortly after 2 o'clock the party, reinforced by the American guests, returned to Sarnia, where a luncheon was served. The tables were laid across the boundary line. There were no formal speeches, but the occasion was of great interest to the international interest it represents. During the banquet the tenth battalion band of Hamilton rendered "God Save the Queen" on the Canadian side, while the band on the American side played "Star Spangled Banner." After the banquet the tunnel was thrown open to the public. This triumph of modern engineering has been achieved under the watchful eye of Lake Huron to expedite the first system of transporting the traffic of the Grand Trunk route from the American to the Canadian bank. Long ago the clamorous of some seamy and more expeditious means of inter-lake transit. A tunnel was considered least objectionable, because the immense vessel interest was steadily opposed to a bridge on the ground that it would prove a hindrance and often a danger to navigation. It was the nature of the subsequent soil, deep and hard, made the feasibility of digging a tunnel a serious question. However, it was decided to make an attempt at constructing one through the straits, which were to be made either on the American, the other from the Canadian side, the latter being the more direct route, cutting their way through the mud and sand, and about under the middle of the river. It took twelve months to eat out the passage.

These shields were made of heavy wrought iron, with sharp edges, 15 feet 2 inches long, and 2 feet 6 inches in diameter. Each shield was pushed forward by twenty-four hydraulic rams, the "head" of the shield being 6 inches in diameter, with a stroke of little more than 18 inches. Each ram exerted a pressure of 120 tons. The actual tunnel itself under the river is 6,029 feet over a mile. It is lined throughout with solid cast iron plates, bolted together in segments; each segment is 5 feet long, 18 inches wide and 2 inches thick, with flanges 6 inches deep. The whole lining weighs 2,000,000 tons. The bolts and nuts for connecting the segments together weigh 2,000,000 pounds. The permanent way through the tunnel is laid with steel rails, weighing 100 pounds to the lineal yard. The interior diameter of the tunnel is 20 feet and ample means have been provided for thorough ventilation and for lighting it throughout, when required with electricity. The road is practically made under the river, with approaches at each end on gradients one foot in fifty. The total length of the tunnel and approaches is 11,823 feet, over two miles. At the ends of the approaches are junctions with the Grand Trunk railway on the Canadian side and the Chicago and Grand Trunk railway on the American side of the river. In connection with these junctions ample ground has been cleared and prepared, and ten miles of shunting sidings have already been laid on each side of the river. The cost of the tunnel proper was $4,400,000. The Grand Trunk people believe that when the tunnel is in actual use, it will offer facilities for through communication between Chicago and all points East which will be greatly appreciated by passengers in the passenger trains and freight trains and shippers. It shortens the distance to the seaboard about six miles and saves two hours in time.

A PART OF 25 DOLLARS. Jacques' Endurance Ascribed to a Herbal Power. BY TELEGRAPH TO THE GAZETTE. London, Sept. 21.—Alexander Jacques who undertook to fast for 60 days at the Royal Aquarium, completed his task today, although during the past week his condition has caused much uneasiness to Drs. Robin and Whitehead, who have watched him throughout. Mr. Jacques lost 25 pounds for ounces. His pulse registered 64, his respiration 21 and his temperature 98.6. Mr. Davis, who has been the fasting man's lecturer throughout the whole of the time, said that Mr. Jacques had accomplished the most stupendous feat ever known, and it had proved the great value of his herbal powder, the secret of which he alone possessed. His contention was that in cases of armies comprising through a hostile country or men suffering shipwreck or meeting with accident, when food was not procurable, the powder would probably be the means of sustaining life until succor came.

Jacques then rose and carried Kennedy the messenger, twice across the room, and immediately afterwards partook of his first meal, which consisted of chicken broth, fish and grapes.

THIRD EDITION. HOW IS THIS? A CONSERVATIVE PREDICTS AN OTHER ENGLISH REVOLUTION. And Says the English People Must Have the Land They Live On. BY TELEGRAPH TO THE GAZETTE. London, Sept. 21.—Sir John R. Gorst, political secretary of the India office, in an interview today on the English land question said: "Something must be done or a revolution is certain. I do not mean a bloody revolution, but that the people will demand possession of the land they live upon. They are dissatisfied with their present lot and will not rest until they have things altered." Sir John Gorst said he was inquiring into the matter and hopes to form a definite policy upon the question.
