

THE ST. CROIX.

Here's a song of a beautiful river,
But compared to the Nile quite a toy,
I refer to that fine sheet of water That is known by the name of St. Croix.

Its waters are wide, deep, and healthy,
And contain not a germ of alloy,
You might travel New Brunswick quite over Before you could match our St. Croix.

Some rivers are low and unpleasant,
Their marshes breed flies which annoy,
But there's nought to offend the most dainty On the banks of the noble St. Croix.

This river no doubt is more ancient,
Than the historical City of Troy,
And I've counted sometimes on its bosom Fifty vessels, sailing down the St. Croix.

There's an Isle in this stream near its centre,
Which has been there since I was a boy,
And on it a bright light revolving,
As a guide for the ships on St. Croix.

It's the boundary of this great Dominion, Which no foe dare to cross to destroy,
But the natives have always been friendly Who live on the banks of St. Croix.

This river is straight as an arrow,
From Joe's Point for ten miles my dear boy,
And then it cuts west to St. Stephen,
Which is "head of the tide" on St. Croix.

You may praise the St. John or the Hudson, Which I've sailed from York up to Troy,
But if ever you travel for pleasure,
Take a trip on our pleasant St. Croix.

These lines were fixed up in the winter,
A moment now and then to employ,
How much better in the summer, by a Poet, Did one live here like me on St. Croix.

Patience is always crowned with success—
This rule is a rule of an exception, it may But be a splendid success, but patience never Takes anything in hand that it does not succeed in some form.

A Tennessee woman sent in a bill of one dollar for kind and fire to a young man who failed to come courting on the appointed evening.

One of the hardest trials of life is to shed tears at the news that your wife's uncle has died and left her $30,000.

An old man's advice to a young man, is don't love two girls at once. Love is a good thing, but it is like butter in warm weather—it won't do to have too much on hand at once.

"Now, Johnny," says Grandma, I want you to sit just as still as a mouse. Mouses don't sit still, Grandma. Sure enough.

Why the Valve Jar is Superior to all Others for Preserving Fruit.

1. Because it is the only one in which the contents can be securely fastened, and cooked while thus fastened, without risk of explosion.

2. It is the only one that is Automatically Sealed, therefore, the only Self-Sealing Jar in the market.

3. It is so simple that no skill is required to use it successfully.

4. It is securely fastened when placed in the kettle, and being immersed, the fragrance of the contents is confined in the Jar, a more perfect vacuum produced and the handling of the hot jars entirely avoided.

5. It is well known that fruit jars which are closed with rigid fastenings burst by fermentation, and the effect upon the closet and surrounding well understood by many housekeepers.

The Cover of the Valve Jar being a perfect safety valve makes an explosion impossible, and entirely obviates every difficulty that exists in other fastenings.
