P., for Winnipeg, request us to say that the advertisements of Lieut.-Col. James Pennington Macpherson's Biography of Sir John Macdonald contain statements which are entirely incorrect. The book has no sanction nor approval, nor has the writer had any information, assistance or encouragement from either the authorization and collaboration announced in these advertisements as having been given by Sir John himself, nothing more than a bare acquiescence in its preparation. Such acquiescence it was Sir John's custom to accord to all proposed biographies of himself, on the distinct understanding that by so doing he did not in any way imply approval, or even knowledge of their contents." Preserving the Complexion.

A great deal can be done toward having a fine and smooth complexion, by a systematic treatment of rubbing, says the Ladies' Home Journal. A fine towel or a bit of red flannel are best for rubbing, twice a day, or four times, if rapid results are too accrue. By degrees—as the skin gains tone and elasticity for having thrown off the waste matter in its ducts that kept it clogged, sickly and flabby—the friction can increase in energy. The skin becomes, not tougher, but more resistant. If the rubbing is too hard at first, however it is liable to produce redness and pimples. Even slight friction will do this at times on an unaccustomed skin. But the treatment should be persevered in, nevertheless, and the skin soon becomes extraordinarily fine and smooth.

Landing ex Harry Bailey:

1,150 Tons RESERVE COAL.

Owing to the great rush of orders on this vessel, there has been some delay in filling orders, and for this reason we would like our customers to leave their orders as early as possible and we will send the RESERVE COAL to them as quickly as we can unload. All persons who have not yet tried some of it should do so at once or ask their neighbors about it, and then they would find out that it makes a quick, clean, lasting fire, is free from slate or shale and will not slack in the bins.

Furniture that is not pleasing to the eye is fit for nothing but a barn. Elegance is one thing and strength is another, but there is not the least reason in the world why the two should not go together in furniture. To say that a thing is cheap does not necessarily make it cheap. To say that our furniture is cheap scarcely does it justice. Take our $26.50 Bedroom Outfit as an illustration, which is about one third less than you would have to pay for the same articles elsewhere. An equally forcible illustration of cheapness is our $40 Plush Parlor Suite.

When you buy a suit, buy a good one, and if you really want a good one, try "Our Leader." It will fill the bill exactly. They come in Blue and Black Cheviots, with strapped seams and stitched edges, same style as you see here. Cash price $15. Piles of them on the tables just inside the door. MY INDUCEMENTS NOTHING

But Pure Teas of such quality and at such prices that competition with me is out of the question. I do more business in Teas than all the merchants in St. John put together.

THE BEST IS THE CHEAPEST.

My observation shows that the best teas are actually cheapest in the end, on account of their greater strength: and when it is considered that the choicest tea, even at $1 per pound, costs only about one-half cent a cup, it cannot be called extravagance even for a person of small means.

My prices range from 15 cents to $3 per pound.
