A NOVEL SCHEME

IN ADVERTISING

J. N. Harvey to Give Away a Turkey With Each Ten Dollar Purchase

The idea of giving away a nice big turkey with every purchase of ten dollars worth of goods is a novel idea in St. John. In another part of this paper J. N. Harvey makes an announcement which will no doubt provide dinners for many families. Mr. Harvey has secured a number of turkeys and they will be distributed among his customers on the principle of first come first served. Since last Christmas Mr. Harvey has greatly increased his stock of clothing and furnishings, has added new departments and is now in a position to please better than ever before, his many patrons. A glance at the large advertisement which appears in this paper will indicate what he is prepared to offer in the way of clothprepared to offer in the way of clothing for men and boys. Mr. Harvey's large Union street store has been very prettily decorated for the Christmas season, with mottoes, spruce, palms and other plants.

TONIGHTS FIGHT

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—A despatch to the world from Los Angeles says:—
Al. Kauffman will go into the ring here tonight a 10 to 7 favorite over George Gardner. The men are scheduled to battle 20 rounds, but it will survive the "unwies" sporting men if the control of the control o uled to battle 20 rounds, but it will said prize the "unwise" sporting men if the fight lasts more than 10. The opinion among those who ought to know is that Gardner will be easy for the California columns show how cheaply a whole regular advertisting columns show how cheaply a column show cheaply a column show how cheaply a column show how cheaply a column show cheap that Gardner will be easy for the Californian.

Kauffman is in great shape for the battle which cannot be said of Gardener. Of late he has been alling, and while he has made a pretense of training he has been a frequent visitor at the Ascot Park Race track.

Kauffman is particularly anxious tto win this fight, for if he loses to Gardner it is altogether likely that he will get a match on with Tim Sullivan or Jack Johlson.

Ing columns show how cheaply a whole three months' fun can be had for at this popular resort.
