RELATIONS OF FARMERS TO LABOR DISCUSSED

Woman Legislator Presents Her Views on Conditions.

COOPERATION WAS SUGGESTED.
(Special To The Record.)
CALGARY, May 6. (By Main Johnson.)—As is natural in a province overwhelmingly agricultural, the relations of farmers to labor was the subject of considerable discussion before the Industrial Relations' Commission in its Monday's session. The gist of evidence pointed to desire for cooperation, although there were some rifts in the lute.

It was Mrs. Jean McWilliams, who first mentioned the subject in complaining of the cost of living and particularly the housing conditions provided by farmers for hired men. Mrs. McKinney, M.P.P. for Clarendon, admitted that these conditions might well be improved.

Mrs. McKinney was the first woman in Canada to sit in a legislature and is well known farther East by her visits there. She said to the commission that she represented a rural constituency and from first hand knowledge, could only discuss conditions in country districts. There was unrest among farmers too, and it was a growing discontent.

They felt especially that there was something amiss with the governments. Certain interests, they thought had far too much control, and that farmers and labor had not the share of control they were entitled to. She felt that farm and labor could and should cooperate although their detailed views and interests naturally did not coincide exactly. The farmers were moving towards direct political action. They were determined to overthrow monied autocracy that was exploiting both farm and labor alike. The farmer, as well as the city workmen, felt he was the victim of capitalistic exploitation. Political parties as constituted at present were dominated by capitalist influences.

Mrs. McKinney was asked if some labor men did not look upon farmers as capitalists? She agreed that this was true of abnormally large farms controlled by syndicates but said that in the majority of cases farmers labored side by side with labor men.

Commissioner Kordon (Montreal).—"What would farmers say about the nationalization of everything, including land?"

OJIBWAY INDIANS HOLDING COUNCIL ON PARRY ISLAND

ASK REPRESENTATION IN PARLIAMENT
(Special To The Record.)
PARRY SOUND, May 6.—Today the Grand Council of Ojibway, representing 15,000 Indians in Ontario, meets in the council hall on Parry Island. In romance, one pictures dark forms stealing through primeval forests to the council-chamber and their birchbark canoes gliding across the sunlit waters of Georgian Bay to the mission dock, but truth is that it is a large and powerful motorboat which bore the delegates from the Christian islands to Parry Sound in five hours, yesterday, while the men from the Hanna reserve on Lake Couchiching and the Shawanaga reserve, forty miles north of Parry Sound, came by train with their club bags in their hands.

Today a serious debate on political questions is taking place in the brown council chamber on Parry Island, where over a hundred representatives of the Chippewa, or Ojibway, as they call themselves, as k that the government give representation in parliament to 15,000 Ojibway Indians, not to mention the members of other tribes.

Another request which the grand council is making is to have Parry Island and other reserves surveyed and divided into farms. The Parry Island reserve contains 18,000 acres.

$2500 MORTGAGE BURNED AT Y. W. C. A. ANNUAL

The Y.W.C.A. building was the scene of a unique event last evening when at the annual meeting the mortgage amounting to $2500 was burned much to the joy of the directors and supporters of this most worthy institution who were present. Since the corner stone was laid in 1914 and on the completion of the building some months later the institution has enjoyed a big share of success. At the present time the accommodation is taxed to the utmost and more rooms could be utilized were they available which all goes to show the institution is one very necessary to the City.

The attendance at the annual meeting last night was most gratifying. The meeting was opened with devotional exercises by Mrs. E.D. Heist after which a solo by Mrs. Pollock and a reading by Mrs. (Dr) Hilliard were much enjoyed.

Reports of the different committees including the General Secretary, Treasurer, House Committee, Finance, Education, Extension, Club, Social Religious work, Missions, Membership and property were presented all of which were most gratifying.

While the mortgage was being consumed Mrs. R.D. Lang spoke appropriately, the match being lit by Mrs. Porteous the assembly singing the Duxology.

Mr. Kirby and Mr. Geo. Schlee also addressed those present speaking on the good work of the "Y."

A piano solo by Miss Mitchell, a reading by Miss Wilson and a vocal solo by Miss McNally followed all of which was enjoyed.

The new members of the Board of Directors were elected as follows:—Mesdames, Heist, Houston, Kaufman, Lang, Moore Boese, Blankstein, Smiley and Pollock.

The Board of Directors feel grateful to the many friends who so kindly contributed in the recent campaign making the burning of the mortgage possible.

Toronto Man Explains His Views on Butter

Same Old Story of Demand and Supply.
SAYS OLEOMARGARINE ENORMOUSLY HIGH
(Special To The Record.)
TORONTO, May 6.—The high cost of butter is not due to any undue amount being placed in cold storage, according to a report submitted to the mayor by Dr. Hastings today. The simple facts are that the supply is not equal to the domestic and foreign demands. European countries and the United States are willing to pay as high as 80 cents per pound for Canadian butter, and the offer is too good to be turned down by Canadian producers.

On the other hand, in the doctor's opinion, the price of oleomargarine is "enormously high" and "would not seem to be justified for one moment."

According to the report, six and a half million pounds of Canadian butter were commandeered last fall. This amount, while small compared with the total manufacture, is one factor which is responsible for the present conditions. Another important factor is that there is an increased demand for Canadian butter in the English and American markets. Recently, approximately 500,000 pounds were purchased in western Canada by the United States dealers in ten days.

"In view of the extensive purchases by the American dealers from our western markets, they claim that they are forced to buy butter to-day at 15 cents a pound more than they could have bought it two weeks previously. One western creamery when asked if there was a shortage of milk replied: "No we are getting more than we can handle." They were, again asked why they were not selling milk at a more reasonable price, to which they replied, "We do not have to, because we can make more out of butter than by selling milk." This creamery company shipped a car load of butter to New York for which they received $43,500, the highest price ever paid.

"There is no evidence of there being any undue amount of butter held by any of the companies in Canada at the present time," says Dr. Hastings. "One of the largest companies stated that they can only carry approximately two weeks' supply."

Brampton Firemen Save Erindale

WENT THERE IN SEVEN AUTOS
(Special To The Record.)
BRAMPTON, Ont., May 6.—When the fire bell rang at 4.50 p.m. yesterday, calling for volunteers to go to Erindale where there was a big fire threatening the entire village, seven autos filled with the town firemen responded to the call. The first car arrived at the scene of the fire just 25 minutes after the alarm.

The men from town at once formed a bucket brigade to the river and worked for the better part of two hours to keep the fire from the mill. The residents of the village give them the credit to-day of having saved the village.

The fire started in Barker's store from a cause unknown, spread to the next store and to the hotel, both of which had been consumed when the Brampton firemen arrived.

Amateur Athletic Association Will be Organized in the City

A Number of Interested Citizens Hold Informal Meeting at Which it is Decided to Call a Public Meeting. A Revival of Old Time Athletics is Looked Forward to.

The city is to have an amateur athletic association. Thereby a revival of sports and athletics is assured in the community.

A number of young business men have become interested and taken steps to have the citizens organized. Last evening a preliminary meeting was held in the Lancaster Club rooms by about fifteen interested gentlemen. Their deliberations resulted in a decision to call a public meeting next week at which an organization is to be effected. Arrangements are being made to bring a representative or two of the Canadian Amateur Athletic Union here to address the citizens on the ways and means of organizing.

Among these is Burt Hewitt, secretary of the O.H.A., who is prominently identified with the Union.

To Interest Young People
The proposed association like all organizations of its kind in other places, will be open to adult and young folks. A general interest in the city is aimed at. A membership of four to five hundred being aimed at. The fee for membership will be two dollars for adults and one dollar for persons eighteen years and under. The principal attention will be to the younger people, especially the school children. The enthusiasm for clean sports is to be kindled among them, so that a solid foundation will be laid.

Competitions among the various schools of the city, including the public, separate and collegiate institute, will be provided and a cup put up for the contest. A real field day is aimed at. The association would provide for sports in the line of all kinds of sports and it would be the object to include all amateur clubs such as the hockey, baseball, football, tennis and so forth. In addition to these, there would be sports which at present are "dead." Such as jump, running and all the old time field-day events. In time bigger things would be attained. Accomplishments in progressive cities on the American side and in Toronto and Montreal show what can be done.

Perhaps the finest club quarters in the city of Detroit are those of the Amateur Athletic Association. The field for such a organization is unlimited. Its possibilities can be realized only by one wide vision. Looking into the future the local men see a fitting athletic grounds for this city, a big annual field day, the restoring of the old time sports, ample and comfortable club quarters. In the preliminary negotiations it is an encouraging sign that old time sports of the city are lending a hand and are helping to bring the proposition to a successful consummation.

Meeting at Ottawa To Plan Convention

LIBERAL LEADERS ARE IN SESSION.
(Special To The Record.)
OTTAWA, May 6.—Hon. Charles Stewart, Premier of Alberta, and Hon. George R. Boyle, representing that province, together with Hon. W. Knowles and Hon. George Langley, representing Saskatchewan, are in Ottawa today conferring with the chief whip and leader of the Opposition with regard to the arrangements for the national Liberal convention to be held in August next.

A canvass was held at Regina a short time ago at which Premier Norris of Manitoba, and Hon. A. B. Hudson were present together with Premier Martin, and in the course of which the whole question of a convention was discussed.

Those present today in Ottawa declare that governments of the western provinces will be heavily represented at the coming convention. They further state that a great majority of Liberal candidates will attend. There is, however, some movement among farmer organizations to put candidate in field at next election, who shall be independent of Liberal organization and who will be pledged to the platform of the Canadian council of agriculture. In Calgary, it is stated a convention will be held in the near future to consider this proposal. Should it be decided by the graingrowers to place such candidates in the field many three-cornered contests may be anticipated.

The Western Unionists Tariff Committee placed their proposal before Sir Thomas White yesterday. These included free agriculture imports, fuel and lumber, oil and substantial reductions in the duties on boots and shoes, woollens and cottons. The Minister, it is stated, took somewhat different attitude, but made no statement as to his purpose in the matter.
