Three Contest Co-ordinator Post

It is my opinion that you, as students on this campus are not adequately represented. As your co-ordinator I would endeavor to give better representation through better coordination.

In addition to being represented through faculty groups you should be represented through your interest areas. For example, athletic groups are represented through the President of Men's Athletics, but what of musical, dramatic, political and departmental clubs? I would set up a director for each general type of interest areas; he would be a direct liaison between the Coordinator and the various clubs in the interest area that he represents.

With better coordination it will be possible to stimulate greater interest in, and attendance at student activities (e.g. Residence Dances).

One of the big problems of your next Student's Council and particularly the coordinator will be the reorganization necessary to administer an expanded Students' Union Building. Over the last two years steps have been taken in that direction but the work has only just begun. As Coordinator I would contribute to the fullest extent my time and energy to the expansion and reorganization of SUB facilities.

There are many other considerations in my campaign these being just a few of them. As your Co-ordinator I would use my experience and knowledge of campus affairs to the best of my abilities for the formation of an effective Students' Council.

Dave Cruikshank

I am, like the majority of students on this campus, an independent individual. Having no political ties which might bind me to a "party" executive, similar to those of the past, my interests would be the welfare of the whole student body rather than one "political" portion.

As a member of the student executive, which is essentially responsible for co-ordinating student activities, I would insure the individual of fair student government.

As the co-ordinator of student activities, I would:

- as the chairman of the Awards Committee, endeavour to extend the administering of awards to those people who seldom, if ever, feel themselves deserving enough to apply.

- as the chairman of the Scheduling Committee, insure that student activities are scheduled well in advance of the coming academic term.

- do my utmost to increase the advertising of all events which are of significance to the individual student.

- ensure that the facilities of the new Education building, new residences and SUB expansion are adequately employed for the benefit of all students and student organizations concerned.

If elected, I can assure you that the co-ordinator of student activities will, once more, retain the significant position on the student executive that its creators intended.

Fellow Students: I believe that three convictions which I hold will guide my endeavours on Students' Union Council if my campaign for Co-Ordinator proves successful:

1. I believe in a balanced and constructive intergration of academic and social life on campus, including co-educational activities.

2. I believe that the public image of the university student and student life must keep abreast of these times of ready and full information and communication in terms of eliminating the old "ivory tower" isolation of the academic from the practical life.

3. I believe that because of the growing significance of the sciences in social change, and with due deference to political phraseology, one must recognize that the original and brilliant idiom of today becomes the tried cliché of tomorrow, while the world either speeds or limps ahead on vehicles no better and no worse than those which our brains and science can build for it.

On the basis of these convictions I hope that you will support my campaign for Co-Ordinator of Student Activities.

Dave Willis informed Returning Officer, Walter Seyer, Thursday that for personal reasons he has found it necessary to withdraw from the campaign for Coordinator of Student Activities.

For NFCUS Chairman

Pat

As a result of a by-law change, the position of Chairman of the National Federation of Canadian University Students is to be decided by the student body at large replacing the former practice of Council appointment. This makes the position of NFCUS Chairman even more important than before.

This past year as a member of the Council I have had an opportunity to assess our local student government and activities of our national students' union. In light of this I submit to you the following policies for consideration before you vote on Friday.

1. A program to attempt to familiarize more students with the workings and benefits of NFCUS.
2. A pledge to request our students' council to consider more of the problems confronted by the national union especially in the national and international fields.
3. A strong, informed, and at times, critical voice on Council.
4. An attempt to make NFCUS more useful to the individual student through support of NFCUS sponsored activities.

These points are not promises, they are goals to strive for, and policies to be put into practice. I make no promises except to do hard and honest work. NFCUS is a growing organization of which the students at the University of Alberta are an important part. The strength of the national organization starts with and rests on the local committees. I think I can do the job. I would like to do it very much, so I ask for your consideration and support.

It is my opinion that a basic flaw exists in the NFCUS system as operated at present. Briefly, most of the 105,000 student members of NFCUS are unaware of the organization's purpose and the many benefits and advantages which membership offers.

If elected to the position of NFCUS Chairman in the forthcoming election, it will be my policy to remedy this situation on the University of Alberta campus by putting into effect the following measures:

1. a general reorganization of the NFCUS committee structure to allow equal representation of all faculties and schools.
2. increased co-operation between the NFCUS committee and faculty clubs and societies, to help disseminate information on exchange scholarship plans, literary contests, seminars, etc., to the whole student body.
3. an intensive campaign by the NFCUS committee itself to ensure adequate on-campus publicity for NFCUS activities.
4. a series of local seminars open to students of all faculties, intended to supplement the national seminars and increase interest in NFCUS.

The convening of the XXVII NFCUS National Congress at Edmonton this fall will offer an excellent opportunity to launch a new program of effective NFCUS activity on this campus. In addition it will provide a chance for the Alberta delegate to further student interests on a national level, and to work for necessary revisions in the fee and voting structures of NFCUS.

I fully realize the obligations and responsibilities attached to the position of NFCUS chairman, and, if elected, I will strive to fulfill these obligations.

Andrea For WAA Prexy

If elected as president of the Women's Athletic Association, I propose to carry out the following platform:

INTRAMURALS

- increased and more effective publicity of the Women's Intramural program.
- continuation of Activity Nights during which women have full access to facilities in the Physical Education Building.
- reorganization of the Intramural program in light of new residences.
- increased communication between the Western Intramural Directors in various Western Universities.
- promotion of coeducational activities such as bowling, badminton, volleyball and curling.
- introduction of new intramural activities, such as squash.

INTERVARSITY

- increased publicity in Intersvarsity team tryouts.
- investigation of a blazer for Women's Intersvarsity Athletic teams.
- continuing emphasis on the broader aspects of Women's Intersvarsity competition.

OTHER ASPECTS

- better use of athletic fees for activities in which all women participate.

- promotion of interest in all athletics activities on the campus and through the support of these activities, the growth of a stronger University spirit.

I have based my platform on my experiences in the Bachelor of Physical Education Program. During this time I have been a member of: intersvarsity basketball and volleyball teams, volleyball intramural Sports Manager, members of the University Athletic Board, Secretary of the Women's Athletic Association and Vice-President of the Women's Athletic Association.

If elected I shall do my utmost to carry out an effective Women's athletic program and to prove myself worthy of this position.

Sandra For WAA Prexy

As candidate for the Presidency of the Women's Athletic Association, realizing the increasing importance of women's athletics, I will attempt to carry out the following if elected: Construction of new residences will increase the number of women students living on campus. This, with increased enrolment, will require intramural program changes to give resident women students as well as those residing elsewhere greater opportunity to participate.

At present, few women students are active in the intramural program. Since part of each student's fee goes towards athletics, why should only a few receive benefits? Larger units—Education, Arts and Science and Nurses—have little representation in intramural sports. More publicity, greater co-operation between WAA Council and these groups, and more representation on the council would help to eliminate this problem.

More publicity seems necessary to introduce frosh to the women's intramural program. This can be carried out by continuation of a well organized Activity Night.

The WAA awards system also requires changes to give greater recognition to those deserving it. An Awards Club similar to the Block A Club could possibly be arranged for women.

For the past two years I have held positions on WAA Council and feel this experience would be invaluable as president. I have also participated in both the intramural and intersvarsity programs and I know the needs of the women involved in these.

If elected I will attempt to follow the high standards set by my predecessors in fulfilling the position to the best of my ability.
