

Q. Did you have to supply any equipment?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How much?

A. I had about six cross-cut saws at about 12 dollars apiece; six axes at about 190 dollars, a harness set at 125 dollars, one team of horses at 200 dollars and one single horse at 175 dollars.

Q. Is that all?

A. Camp equipment for the cook house.

Q. What value was that?

A. I don't know, I never bought that stuff. My wife bought it.

Q. Was it worth 100 dollars, 200 or 300 dollars ---

A. About 250 dollars I would imagine.

Q. Did you still own your own truck then?

A. Yes, sir, I had my own truck.

Q. Where did you get the money to buy this equipment?

A. I didn't get it right away. I got everything on time.

Q. How much cash payment did you make on the down payment?

A. Sir, I had about $150 dollars.

Q. And the rest was on time?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long did you contract in this manner?

A. Until I was called up in the army on the 8th of May, 1944.

Q. And your wife was still in Coleman?

A. No, sir, when I got the contract in the bush I left the wife there for two or three days and went out in the bush and fixed up my camp kit for us to move into. My wife moved into there and started cooking for me and two or three fellows I had working.

Q. Is there a railroad running to Coleman?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Are there passenger trains running back and forth?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How would you get to Coleman - from Coleman to this lumber camp?

A. by lumber train.
