

CHAPTER IV.

Author placed in charge of Oakinagan—Erects new buildings there — Musquitoes — Sagacity of the horses—Rattlesnakes good food — Sarsaparilla — Black snakes — Climate — Whirlwinds—Handsome situation—Character of the tribe—Manner of trading—Extraordinary cures of consumption . . . . . 78

CHAPTER V.

Author nearly blinded by hawks—Foxes — Great number of wolves — Their method of attacking horses—Lynxes—Bears — Anecdote of a kidnapping bruin—Ingenious plan of getting off bear-skins — Account of the horses on the Columbia—Great feat performed by one . . . . . 96

CHAPTER VI.

Letter from the proprietors—Author winters at Oakinagan — Letter from Mr. Mackenzie—A number of horses stolen—Successful plan to cover them—Description of soil, climate, productions, &c. of the lower part of the Columbia . . . . . 116

CHAPTER VII.

Description of climate, soil, &c. above the rapids—Sketch of various tribes—The Chohoptins—Yackamans—Oakinagans — Sinapoils—Spokans—Anecdote—Pointed-hearts — Cause of war—Cootonais—Kettle Indians—Kamloops, &c. . . . . 138

CHAPTER VIII.

Ascent of the Columbia—Its lakes—Dangerous navigation — High water—Arrive at the mountains—Melancholy detail of the death of six of the party . . . . . 162