EPITHELIAL GROWTHS

One of my sows has growths resembling warts on her hind legs. They seem to be spreading. C. F. F.

Ans.-These, no doubt, are warts, or epithelial tumors. Those with constricted necks should be clipped off, and the raw surfaces dressed daily, until healed, with carbolic acid 1 part, sweet oil 20 parts. To the flat ones, apply butter of antimony with a feather, once daily, until they disappear.

SKIN TROUBLE.

Mare rubs her mane out and has some sort of an itch on floor of abdomen; scabs form, under which is a little matter.

Ans.-Give her a purgative of 8 drams aloes and 2 drams ginger. Follow up with 1½ ounces Fowler's Solution of Arsenic, twice daily every alternate week, for a month. Make a solution of corrosive sublimate, 40 grains to a quart of water, and rub well into the affected parts, twice daily.

CHRONIC COUGH.

Mare had distemper last fall, and ever since has had a cough and colorless discharge from nostrils. She coughs more when driving on dusty roads, or feeding on musty hay. R. J. G. Ans.-There is a danger of this developing into heaves, if this has not already occurred. She should be fed on food of first-class quality. Musty hay or grain should on no account be given. All she eats should be dampened with lime water. In addition to this, give her, once daily, a ball composed of powdered opium, $1\frac{1}{2}$ drams; solid extract of belladonna, 2 drams; camphor, 1 dram, and digitalis, 20 grains. Add sufficient oil of tar to make plastic; roll in tissue paper, and administer, or dissolve in warm water and give as a drench. The condition occasionally appears as a sequel to dis-

PUFF ON HOCK.

Colt became partially paralyzed in June, 1909; at times she could not rise without assistance. My veterinarian treated her and she recovered, but a puffy bunch appeared on the inside of hock. This has disappeared and reappeared several times since, but has been constant now for about three months. Now there is a small puff on the other J. T. C.

Ans.—This is a bursal enlargement. If in front of the hock, it is called a bog spavin; if on the side of joint, it is called a thoroughpin. These puffs are hard to cost as even after apparently successful treatment, they are very liable to recur Treatment consists either in repeated blistering or the use of absorbents. For a blister, use 2 drams each of biniodide of mercury and cantharides, mixed with 2 ounces vaseline. Blister every four weeks. For an absorbent, take 4 ounces each of alcohol and glycerine, and 4 drams each of iodine and iodide of potassium. Rub a little well in once daily. It would probably be well to use the absorbent until cold weather, and then, if necessary blister. It will require patience to

ABSORBINE AMONG THE TRAIN-ERS.-H. Scott Trout, trainer, Foxboro Ont., under date of June 6, 1910, reported as follows: "I have used Absorbine off and on for 10 or 12 years, and if I were training a public stable, would be using it now. I used it for leg-and-body wash, and there is no better. I took off a thoroughpin with it." Absorbine is a splendid preparation to use in case of bog spavin, thoroughpin, capped hock, swollen, bruised tendons, splint, curb, etc. At druggists, $2 a bottle, or sent direct upon receipt of price. All Horse-Collar Troubles Now Prevented or Quickly Cured

Every horse-owner who will now consider the practical in valuable time and horseflesh by using a set of HUMANE HORSE COLLARS to prevent all collar troubles, will certainly buy a set with his spring harness. Or get a set to cure your sore horses while they work. The success of the HUMANE HORSE COLLARS for the past three years proves this. Investigate.

HUMANE HORSE COLLARS

It is a fact that only one set of HUMANE HORSE COLLARS on a farm will cure up and keep cured of collar troubles all your horses. Don't use "sweat pads"—it's cruel—especially in hot weather—injures your horses; and besides, the sweat pads cost you more than most collars before you get through. You don't need them with these collars. Every set comes complete with short tugs and ready to use—less trouble to put on and take off—and fit any horse perfectly all the time by simple adjustment. Built to last for years by expert workmen, and durable materials.

Don't think of buying your spring harness until you write or fully investigate THE HUMANE HORSE COLLARS. Get our book first.
