The estate of Mr. N. Vignie, on St, Louis Street. The estate of Mr. Benvenuto Duran, lately deceased, consisting chiefly of slaves, was to be sold, for the benefit of a creditor. The negroes were brought up, as is usually the case, one by one, and exhibited to the bystanders, before being put to the hammer. (In the presentation of the third, advertised as 'Madeline, an orphan quarteroon, aged about nine years,' every one present was horrified to behold paraded hafter them, a lovely girl, delicately formed, white as the purest of the Circassian race, her face buried in her hands, and her slender frame convulsed with sobs. We met in Council on Friday, when I was organ. in the lower part of the city, and created, an in-tense excitement. Several irce persons of colour interested themselves in the case, and in a few interested themselves in the case, and in a few hours collected among their own class, nearly two hundred dollars, to buy the girl out of the es-tate, and bestow upon her, her freedom. This has not been permitted, however, and from pre-sent appearances, there is little probability of her subjection to the degradation of being included in the chattels of the succession. Mr. Duran has left no heirs, and dying intestate, his property escheats to the state, after satisfaction of the credi-tors. There is but one creditor, and his feelings were as deeply affected yesterday as those of any person present. Mr. Lovenskiold and others, who have taken the girl's cause in hand, however,

Biseissippi. We learn from the lest number of the Brandow Republican that President Thornton and a party of friends have recently made a visit to what they denominate the "Platform." It is situated on the plantation of Mr. Morrison, and, whether it be regarded as a work of nature or art, it is cal-culated to excite considerable interest throughout the State. Mr. T. inclines to the latter belief, and says :--- "It is a work of art of great antiquity, of curious workmanship, finished in the fineat style, and more durable than could possibly be conceived by any observer. From the reservoir of well in the bottom of the creek there is a paved way, leading to a regular curve in fromt of the platform. It consists of stone, heautifully dressed on top and jointed at all the sides, about five inches in thickness, of various figures, on a bed of cement about three inches in thickness, laid on white sand. white sand. It is not my intellion to contend with Mr. Ferres, who, as conductor of a journal, has many advantages over me, but this suppression would seem to have been intentional, for Mr. Ferres was present taking notes. The public then will determine how far such a Report can be considered a true Report—or a fair Report. and how far such conduct can conduce to the respectability and utility of the Press.
