The Advertiser,

KENTVILLE.

Our authors, says a publication, are holding their own. As a rule, however, they own so little it is easily held.

Apparently Satisfactory. "How do you get along with your new hired girl, Mrs. Upson?" "Well, of course one can't always be certain in such matters, but we seem to please her."—Chicago Tribune.

Altogether Too Sensitive. First Politician—Clubs ain't just the right stuff for a police captain. Second Politician—Not much! He's worryin' because the grand jury censured him.—Brooklyn Life.

Capit's Mistake. "Do not think that Cupid At times makes grave mistakes And hearts that he united Are often feeling sore. But as the little cherub Is busy night and day It's not at all surprising At times he's led astray."

We now and then are startled By hearing tales of woe From those who seemed so happy A few brief months ago. For brilliant was the prospect When they exchanged their vows, And there was no suspicion They'd soon be raising rows.

We've now and then predicted Some other groom and bride Would often be regretting The knot had e'er been tied, But later we've discovered That nothing goes amiss And that instead of wrangling They live in perfect bliss.

At times a "perfect angel," Whose graces has oft been sung, Will prove to be a tartar, With ever scolding tongue; At times some "mildly fellow" Will make his cheer and woe, Then prove to be a tyrant, And many tears are shed.

Now, while the little cherub Is blamed for such mistakes, It's wrong to charge poor Cupid With all domestic breaks. The fault is mainly resting With husbands and with wives, And if they curb their tempers They'll lead more happy lives.

—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

HUMOR

AN OBLIVIOUS CASE.

No Oblivious That a Tragedy Was Clearly in Sight.

Going up town from the depot, I saw a young colored man cautiously peering out from an alley and also noticed that he had a razor in his hand. As I reached him I asked if he was in trouble, and he flourished the razor about and replied: "I expects to be purty soon, sah. Yes, sah, I expects to meet a young man who'll jump fur me wid all de felicity of a tiger."

"What's the trouble between you?"

"It's an oblivious case, sah—werry oblivious. I've dun-fugaled to a gal, an de wedding day am sot. He knows how dat gal lubs me an how we's gwine to be fined, but he desists in prognosticatin' around an declarin' he can't jist lib widout her; just goes ober to her house an cries like a chile, an eb'ry day he sends me word dat he's gwine to insinuate my anatomy."

"What does he mean by that?" I asked.

"Why, to carve me up wid a razor, sah—carve me up wid two razors in fact. I've on de lookout fur him right dis mornin'. Yes, sah, when we turn de next co'ner we may run right into dat specious individual, but damn' yo' be skeert if we do. Yo' jist take yo'r satchel an stand one side an witness de tragedy."

"Then there'll be a tragedy?"

"Dere will!" he shouted as he jumped around. "Sah, don't yo' make no mistake on me. If dat reprehensib'le person comes along yere, dar will be de most tragical tragedy yo' ever heard tell of, an while he will be left lyin' dead on de f'ld I shall hold my head up an glide away wid an asperity of pomposity to astonish yo' fur de next fe' weeks to come."

Cave the Woman.

Cave the woman is a topic not a whit less fascinating than her career as a prima donna. Each summer is spent at her chateau at Carriere, near Aveyron, France. There is a pretty romance connected with this country seat. When as a girl she used to walk past this place each day, her most daring dream was to some time be rich enough to purchase it. Today she spends as much time as possible there in company with her parents and brothers and sisters. To the village folks Calve is an ideal Lady Bountiful. She visits the poor, takes the sick all sorts of tempting delicacies, interests herself in securing positions for the unemployed. The village children fairly worship her. Calve loves children. She will sit for hours on the lawn under the big trees surrounded by a group of admiring children, telling them strange tales of what she has seen and heard in foreign lands or relating legends of long ago.—George T. B. Davis in Woman's Home Companion.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

The Turkish government has issued an order prohibiting the importation of all apparatus connected with electricity.

Should Russia ultimately succeed in her scheme for dominating Asia she will become mistress of some 800,000,000 people.

The grand vizier of Turkey gets twice the salary enjoyed by the British premier and has perquisites of about as much more.

TWO PAPERS EACH WEEK $1.00 A YEAR.

Care of Cage Birds.

How and where will you keep your bird?

That cleanliness is obviously of the first importance and that it is hard to keep fanciful cages free from dirt and parasites is enough to condemn them. Until it is possible to construct them, Swiss cottages, pagodas and the like, hung with pendants and sparkling with metallic ornaments, are both tasteless and dangerous. The bird will pick at the bright points and dangling spangles until it poisons or chokes itself, and the corners and crinkles are so many lodgings for dirt and vermin. Wooden cages are to be avoided because subject to impurity and brass ones on account of the great danger from verdigris, for the gliding soon wears off; the gleaming wires are also harmful to the bird's eyes, and they offer no contrast with its yellow plumage. If you must have a cage of the popular bell shape, get a painted one, and repaint it as often as seems desirable, says Harper's Bazar.

Where you shall place your canary or other bird to good advantage is a matter to consider carefully. In summer weather he enjoys being out of doors or in an open window, but not in the direct hot sunshine, nor exposed to a shower, nor where dogs or cats, hawks or shrikes can seize him or perhaps frighten him to death. Remember that these little creatures may easily be frightened into illness or even death.

Touch.

"The papers say there is an exceedingly dangerous $20 counterfeit bill in circulation," observed the financial editor.

"Dangerous?" said the real estate editor. "Oh, I see—microbes!"—Chicago Tribune.

What He Wanted.

Crimsonbeak—You say Koward wants to go to the war?

Yeast—Yes, he says he's anxious to face the music.

"That's what I thought. I believe the music is generally in the rear in the time of battle."—Yonkers Statesman.

The Age We Live In.

Gerald (aged 4)—Gwendolen Green is just 3 years old today.

His Mother—How do you know that?

"I called to see her."

"And did you find her at home?"

"No. She said she was only receiving on Mondays."—Brooklyn Life.

Little Conveniences.

To misplace a kitchen fork or spoon may burn to a cinder the most carefully prepared dish. The convenient holder lost from its nail may burn the cake or ruin the pie and incense the cook. A cook table full of drawers, where flour, spices, rolling pins and cake cutters are kept, with bake pans hanging over it, will save you miles of travel and hours of time. A small shelf near the stove, kept for extra salt and pepper, will save you 50 miles of travel in ten years. Only for one day count how many times you go from cook table to stove, seasoning various dishes, and you will see what this means. In finding places for kitchen utensils study every time to place them where it will take the fewest steps to reach them.

His Other Name.

New Teacher—Next boy, what's your name?

Boy—William, ma'am.

"What is your other name?"

"Scrappy Bill."—Philadelphia Record.

Reasonable Hope.

Minnie—I want to introduce you to a young lady—a very nice young lady—and she's worth her weight in gold.

Bob—Stout girl, I hope.—Tit-Bits.

apollis Journal.

Earnest but Suppressed Wrath.

"Pa, what is quiet hostility?" "Quiet hostility, little Jim, is the way in which, when I decline to give you a nickel, you sneak around behind my chair and make faces."—Chicago Record.

Queer, Isn't It?

Freddy—Ma, carpets are curious things, aren't they?

His Mother—Why?

Freddy—'Cos they are bought by the yard and worn by the foot.—Stray Story.

Hay Fever, Catarrh, Bronchitis.

Any one of them enough, some unfortunate bears the burden of two, for bronchitic Asthma is all too prevalent. The misery these maladies inflict is terrible and the practise of recommending snuffs, washes and ointments ought to be stopped. They prove useless, often increase the maladies and are disgusting to use. Catarrhozone the new treatment is carried by the air you breathe to the throat, nasal passages, and the uttermost ramifications of the bronchial tubes. It kills germs that excite and maintain disease, heals all sore spots, soothes the mucous surfaces, the irritating cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh disappear as if by magic. Two thousand citizens of Canada have voluntarily testified that there is no other remedy in the world for these diseases like Catarrhozone. Druggists sell it everywhere or we will send it to you post paid on receipt of $1.00, or to build up faith, if you lack it, we will send you a 25 cent outfit on receipt of 10 cents in stamps. N. C. The British admiralty has decided to build two battleships which are intended to be the largest in the world. The distinction of having the largest warships has hitherto been held by Italy, with the Lepanto and her sister ship, the Italia. Great Britain's two projected large warships to be respectively named the Queen and the Prince of Wales, will be 2,000 tons heavier than the Italian ships mentioned, reaching the enormous displacement of 18,000 tons, which is 3,500 heavier than America's biggest armor clad vessel.
